The Free Press office has already printed about 10,000 tickets, with a prospect for more. This would seem to be a very good allowance for a county which in 1882 had only 1423 votes.

Our Local Election—A Timely Word

While so much is being said about our National and State elections, we wonder if our readers have ever duly considered that our local election is of even greater importance to us than the former? Such, we verily believe, is the fact. This is especially true as to all officers connected with the administration of justice, and the business officers of the county, such as the district and county judges and attorneys, sheriff, clerk, justices of the peace, etc. It is of the first importance that we have qualified, upright, sober and moral men in these positions; and we exert all that esteem those qualifications as of first class importance to look out for such men, and where they find them to come to an understanding and consolidate their votes upon them. We do not mean men (if such there be), who wear a plausible moral garb, while really courting the favor of the worst elements of community. An open ginner is to be preferred to a "wolf in sheep's clothing" of this sort. But we mean men whose character and record for honesty, sobriety, regard for law and order and the best interests of the people, are unimpeachable. We repeat, emphatically, vote only for such men, or for such as come nearest that standard.

Important Decision. The following appears in the Austin special to the San Antonio Express of to-day: The attorney-general telegraphs in answer to the county judge of Webb county: "A deputy clerk cannot administer preliminary oath to aliens anywhere, nor can the clerk except in his own office. We are informed that a certain clerk has been traveling around with his seal and administering such oaths. The votes of all such parties must be promptly rejected."

A Texas Veteran and his Bride. Married, at the residence of the bride, on Thursday morning, by Rev. W. L. Brown, Capt. Thos. G. McGeehe, of Llano county, to Mrs. Mary B. McGee, of this place.

We give the above, which we take from a Paris, Texas, paper, by way of preface to a reference to the arrival at this place of the happy pair above named, and some further particulars. They came in the first of the week, stopping at Hofheinz' Hotel for several days, where, as was but fairly due to one of our pioneer citizens, known and respected by all, they were called upon by many of our best people. All were glad to congratulate Mr. McGeehe on the important step he had taken, believing that it would add to the happiness of his remaining years, a hope which was pretty well confirmed on their making the acquaintance of his good looking and prepossessing bride, evidently a lady of cultivation and refinement, and, as we are assured by reliable persons have known her well for many years, who stands high in society in all respects. She has been a teacher at Paris for many years, and we have seen the evidences from the papers of that place of her success and acceptability as such. And right here the FREE PRESS wishes to make the amends for a recent statement, on the authority of Madame Rumor, as to the great disparity of years between Mr. and Mrs. McGeehe. It is not over one-half so great as has been reported. We will add that, as we learn, he made her acquaintance while in attendance at the veteran's reunion at Paris last spring. He bore almost the same name as her former husband, a distant relative, as was ascertained, and she recognized a striking resemblance between them, which of course impressed her favorably. In short it appears to have been a genuine case of "love at first sight," showing that the romance of youth may reappear at a considerably more advanced stage in life. Most heartily do we congratulate the pair, and wish for them a life of continued happiness.

Send us the Returns. We trust the officers of election in every precinct will remember the FREE PRESS and send us the returns as quickly as possible. By so doing they will please the public generally as well as this office.

Preaching at the Christian Church next Lord's Day. Subjects: 11 a. m., The Sleeping Giant; 7 p. m., The Sinner's Temptation. Also a good attendance is earnestly desired at the meeting at 2 p. m. the same day.

Dr. P. H. Callahan, of Luling, dentist, will, by request, make a professional visit to our town the first of next week. Some of his old patrons here desire his services, and while here he will serve others who may call on him. Refers to the citizens of Luling and Lockhart; also to Rev. B. Harris, of San Marcos.

The Chicago Current is undoubtedly the phenomenal success of this century when its high literary character is considered. It is first class in every particular, and has an eminent corps of contributors as any periodical in America. As an evidence of the popularity of the Current, it is stated by its publishers, whose word we do not question, that it has now between 40,000 and 50,000 readers in the South. The Times can unreservedly commend the Current to its readers. The subscription price is $4 a year, and the magazine comes weekly. In the course of six months it prints more than twice as much matter as Harper's Magazine, and the matter is just as select as that of any of the high priced monthlies.—San Antonio Times.

To the Public. As I have taken charge of the Hotel formerly occupied and run by Mr. P. J. Farmer, I would respectfully ask the patronage of any one who may wish to stop in San Marcos either for the day or any length of time desired. Terms by the day or month reasonable. Tables to be furnished with the best that can be had, beds at all times you will find clean, neat and comfortable. When you come to San Marcos ask for the Minister House. After you have stopped with us once we guarantee such satisfaction as would cause you to remember us at any other time you may see proper to visit San Marcos. For particulars as regards board by the day or month, apply to W. P. MINSTER, proprietor. Minister House San Marcos Tex. Oct. 29th 1884.

I Am Agent For McCormick mill binder, Mowers etc, Jackson wagons, Deer plows, Standard sulky plows, Country cultivators, Bookwalter hay mowers, Water Threshers, and other machinery and farm implements for which I solicit orders, guaranteeing lowest prices and best terms. Wm. Green.

PERSONAL.

Judge Cook has "gone into winter quarters" at some other point. An infant child of Mr. Harris, freight agent, died on Monday. Thanks to Judge Fisher for some Oregon maple seed, a part of a lot ordered by himself and Judge Wood.

Mrs. E. H. Run and her sister, Miss Lucretia McMeans, of Cotulla, are visiting at this place. Recently we met Mr. Teller in this place. He was in the employ of Landa Bros at New Braunfels. W. D. Ward got 99 years for killing Bud Fly from a Medina county jury. It appears they are vastly more severe out west than here.

Miss Iva Cook, well known here, was married on Sunday the 19th at St. Marks Episcopal church, San Antonio, to Mr. J. McConeghy. F. E. Houston, a well known citizen formerly of Lockhart, later of Kyle, dropped dead at the latter place one day last week. The trouble is supposed to have been heart disease. He was a worthy gentleman, and we regret his death.

A relative of Mr. Gullett recently called to renew his subscription to the FREE PRESS. He is still in Mexico, but his post office address is Rio Grande city. Peter Maxfeld, better known as "uncle Peter," died on Monday evening. The use of strong drink was his besetting sin, and it no doubt brought on an untimely end, friends, in his calabash.

Miss Ella Rogers, who spent several months during the summer with her sister, Mrs. Capron, at Cleveland, O., returned a few weeks since, but we inadvertently failed to notice the fact. We were glad to meet our old friend C. H. Briggs on Monday. He resides at Abilene, and we are glad to learn he is doing well, as also Dr. Blakemore and Bob Malone. Mr. Briggs however still declares a preference for San Marcos.

We are informed (but will not vouch for the story) that Uncle Tommy McGeehe reports that not less than five venerable sinners who were without the pale of matrimony, have since, inspired by Uncle Tommy's example, entered the fold and become happy husbands.

At last we have the pleasure of entering of record the marriage of our worthy friend and fellow citizen Mr. Fritz Lange. The lady of his choice is Miss A. Graeven. The happy event took place on Monday last. The FREE PRESS extends its hearty congratulations.

Mr. Hofheinz, the distinguished and popular boniface of this place, again laid us under obligations last week by a present of some extra nice vegetables from his garden, consisting of snap beans, radishes, egg plant, okra, lettuce, etc. Mr. H. is a skilled practical gardener, and his example shows what may be done in that line in this country.

Newspapers, like Sir John Falstaff, are sometimes not only with themselves, but with the town of which they are the organ. The "mistakes of the printer" have passed into a proverb and even editors, we regret to say, are sometimes caught napping. Thus by a slip of the pencil we made Mr. Hankin's Old Virginia cabbage a yard and a half in diameter when the printer intended circumference. And the printer instead of making Mr. H. say that the fro school boys were "kept up right within the year" should have had it eight months within the year. But if anybody thinks it better to avoid similar errors, let him try his hand at running a newspaper and he will soon learn his mistake.

A letter received last week from Rev. C. W. Cook, of Coleman brings sad intelligence from Ben. C. Hardin, formerly of this county. On Sunday morning the 19th as he and another named Ed. Craig were going into the town of Trilham, Bol. Higdon met them, jumping from his horse and getting behind some trees and opened fire on Hardin and Craig, resulting in Hardin being shot twice, through the arm and in the stomach. Some fifteen or twenty shots were fired, neither of the others being hurt. Higdon was arrested and lodged in jail. He had threatened to kill Hardin and Craig to keep them from testifying against him as witnesses. Hardin's arm was taken off on Monday evening. He was very weak, and the word was for him to die. He was accompanied by Mr. Cook. We have since heard a report of his death, but it appears to lack confirmation.

Mrs. Allen Jones is in receipt of a nice stock of children's hats. Also new ostrich tips, pon-pona, etc. Give her a call for anything in the millinery line.

We failed last week to call attention to the new advertisement of J. V. Hutchins. You will do yourselves a wrong if you fail to go and see his large and elegant stock.

THE DAY APPROACHES. Meaning the Appointed Date for the Exhibition of Sells Brothers Monster Fifty-Cage and Four-Ring Railroad Shows.

Anticipation has now no longer to wait, for this largest among the traveling exhibitions will spread its myriad yards of canvas at SAN MARCOS, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 17.

The management profess its pledge and sustains its promise by editorial guarantees, whose weight and value none can fail to appreciate and respect. The great journals of the Union, with the most unanimous accord to its integrity to strictly keeping every advertised promise, and even partially executed, when the recollection was only partially effected, the press was loud in its praise, as being the most attractive and profitable exhibition ever held. Exhibiting both in St. Louis and Chicago for a week, the press of those cities had ample time to pass their criticisms, and to send out convincing extracts from their notices: [From the Chicago Daily Times.]

The circus—everybody is at the circus. Sells Brothers keep their pledges with their patrons. They advertise nothing unless they are "professional" integrity. Their tents are "object lessons" for the young in natural history. They have many genuine curiosities, and their exhibits are as astonishing as genius ever is when animated by assiduity. [From the Chicago Evening Journal.]

The zoological collection is one of rare interest. The two hippopotami, which are far more docile than the one-led pig which pursues his darling way from the Stock Yards to the immolation on the altar of commerce, are magnificent specimens, whether in the ring, into which they are introduced by their keeper, or in their tank, in which they depart with as much sagacity as in the muddy waters of the Nile. The two really splendid apes, which are exhibited in pairs so far as name and species are concerned, proved to be the irrefragable specimens of the collection. They were by all odds the best of the women and children. The delicate giraffe, with a neat and healthy offspring, was also with careful feeding, was also an object of attention on the part of my visitors, who admitted the graceful presence of giraffe, which, though a three-horned rhinoceros, with his black-spotted lower, big eyes and long neck, was the most interesting of the collection. The rhinoceros, which we saw in the morning, was the most interesting of the collection. The rhinoceros, which we saw in the morning, was the most interesting of the collection.
