Notice. All parties knowing themselves indebted to Martin Hinzle will please call and settle the same before the 1st of February. All claims not settled before that time will be placed in an attorney's hands for collection. Jan 11-1m

FOR RENT. The large store room just vacated by M. Hinzle. Also warehouse and dwelling connected with the same. Apply to M. Hinzle, Palestine, or J. E. Peters, San Marcos, Feb. 7-2w.

Announcement. The Photo Art Gallery heretofore operated by J. E. H. Chapman will hereafter be conducted under the name and style of Chapman & Williams. They have now on the way the finest mammoth outfit for least and family group portraits. They will do none but first-class work. Fine instruments must do fine work. They solicit a trial from all wishing work in their line.

Cheap—Enough Town Property. Rev. Mr. Carman wishes to sell for a special reason, if he can sell soon, he will take $400 for his property in this place, one-half down, balance in one year, with ten per cent. interest. There are two lots fenced, comfortable and apply to these rooms and kitchen, an ornamental garden, stone and hydrant water, etc. We regard this as unusually cheap property of its class in San Marcos. Apply at Free Press office.

Have You Thought of This?

We wonder if some of our business friends, who are inclined to be chary of their advertising favors, have thought of the fact that in our two late large editions we have given all our regular advertisers the benefit of a circulation of some Two Thousand Copies over and above our regular edition, and what we contracted to do, and circulated them right where they would do them the most good? The cost of this extra advertising, if specially contracted for, would amount to about as much as we charge for a year.

Come, now, men and brethren, just think of this little matter, and we trust you will concede that we have done a handsome thing by you, and that you will allow your purse-strings to relax a little in the way of regular patronage to your old friend, the FREE PRESS.

Dull times. Colds prevalent. Subscribe for the FREE PRESS. All quiet on the San Marcos. T. K. Hutchins is now running a dry.

The small box scare at San Antonio appears to have subsided.

Mr. Reasoner and his two younger sons have purchased the Collier place on the Blanco.

See the advertisement of that splendid literary and family paper, the Detroit Free Press.

We learn that it is feared that the early sowing of oats will have to be replanted because of the late freeze.

The continued dry weather begins to excite some apprehension. Abundant rains are now desired.

Methodist quarterly meeting was held at this place last Sunday, when the usual exercises were had.

Fair and pleasant weather has for some time prevailed, while we learn the farmers are making the most of it.

Mr. Rice, the blacksmith at Martindale, caught a 26 pound catfish one night last week in the San Marcos, and we notice the boys coming in daily with fine strings.

A Mexican murdered another in a drunken frolic near J. L. Malone's on Saturday night. The murderer has not been caught at this writing.

Our list of the business people of San Marcos was gotten up hastily, but will be found, in the main, quite accurate. Among the unintentional omissions are the names of Drs. Payne and Dailey.

See prospectus of the New Orleans Times-Democrat in our columns. We need not say that it is a number one paper. Clubbed with the FREE PRESS at $3, or to new subscribers for $2 60 for both.

The snow scene with photo of Miss Lunday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lunday, of Kyle, is something novel as well as beautiful, and generally admired. Chapman was the artist.

The late dispatches from Kyle to the daily papers stating that smallpox prevailed in San Marcos, caused much indignation among our people. The dissemination of these false reports was certainly very shortsighted in whoever did it, for Kyle is not so far removed from San Marcos as not to suffer from these injurious and unfounded rumors.

We learn the management of the new cemetery have adopted a resolution forbidding the entrance of vehicles into the grounds on funeral occasions other than the horse and coach containing the family of deceased persons. The reason stated is that heretofore the graves have been desecrated by being helplessly driven over.

We learn they were reluctant to adopt this rule, but deemed it only right to do so.

The Bryan cave is a great natural curiosity, and well worth a visit. Mr. Bryan charges a nominal admission fee of ten cents. It is a popular resort.

About the meanest swindle being perpetrated at present is the bible trick. A prize of $20 is offered any one sending the longest verse in the old testament, accompanied by 20 cents silver. It is mean, because the holy bible is made the medium, and because the persons deceived are children.—Laurens Times.

It is fit that the papers which insert the advertisements of this base swindle find themselves serving the devil for nothing, as we learn the swindlers do not pay.

Mrs. Mary E. Presley writes us from Brenham, thanking us in the name of her husband and her own for a marked copy of the FREE PRESS we sent them, containing our interview with Sam Stokes as to the supposed burial-place of their child. She says Sam made an unconscious mistake, and that their child was buried in the Gen. Pitts graveyard. So the mystery of the grave with the broken iron railing, just outside our old graveyard, remains unsolved. Cannot one of you now reveal the real facts?

The following passage from the letter of Mrs. Presley does her credit:

"When you see Sam, extend to him our best wishes for his future welfare. You know we Southern people entertain kindly feelings for those who were dependent on us so many years. Endless please find subscription for six months to your paper."

We annex the following lines, sent us by Mrs. Presley, as a touching evidence how the love of a mother remains fresh and warm, after the lapse of many years:

ROUSSEAU PRESLEY died at San Marcos, Texas, Aug. 7, 1855, aged 10 months. Thirty years have almost gone by since I laid my little darling away. Though it seems but to-day.

Ah, well do I remember, Where death's snail-foot His shadow on our baby's head, And my life went in the shadow That was made for little Rousseau; Therefore it is not strange My hair is silver-white, And when at last, I lie at rest From all earth's care and sorrow bleed, Her little golden head will rest with me. M. E. P.

BALLOON'S MAGAZINE.—We have received the February number of this well-known publication. One of the oldest monthlies in the country, now in its twenty-third volume. It appears to be constantly growing brighter with age, especially with its new dress, and the best of paper. Subscription price $1 50 per year, post-paid. G. W. STITZLEY, Pub., Boston, Mass. Clubbed with the FREE PRESS at $1 20 for both.

PERSONAL.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. S. Dixon is in poor health.

Dr. Fuller we believe has left or will soon leave our town.

Mr. Williams, of Cartersville, Ga., the father of Mrs. J. W. Nance, and Mr. J. H. Williams, is here on a visit.

The sale of the farm of Mr. Rufus Elliott, referred to in one of our recent issues, failed of final consummation.

The Fletcher family, who lost their home by fire, are building a smaller one on the place.

The children of the late Capt. Eve, we learn, have found temporary homes. Their aunt is stopping with Mrs. Mosher.

Prof. James, principal of Kyle Seminary, we learn reports harmony and prosperity in that institution.

Mr. J. M. Hubbs called on us on Tuesday. He said our Wimberley correspondent last week made a mistake in crediting him with a girl. "It's a boy."

We learn that the contract for building the chapel at the cemetery was awarded to Mr. Ralph Smith, at $450. It is to be completed in three months.

Mr. Thos. Doyle, who resides near Col. Sledge's, had a leg crushed last Saturday by a heavily loaded wagon running over it below the knee.

In the pressure of other matters we failed to note to any extent the visits here of Messrs. Green and Bolling, ministers of the Christian church; also of Messrs. Adams and Williams, visiting ministers of the Baptist church.

"Mitchell's addition" is settling up. The new residence of Sam Kone is nearing completion. We are told that young Mr. Christian intends building near by. This must always be a favorite part of the town, affording as it does fine prospects lots for beautiful and comfortable homes.

"Our Junior", accompanied by the Rev. J. A. Thomas, the popular and gallant president of the P. D. A. Club, made the rounds of the city behind one of Bell's fine teams Sunday evening. Improvement and extension are noted on every hand.

Prof. James, of Kyle, Miss Mary H. Adams, who teaches at Kyle, and Miss Alice Collins who teaches near Kyle, were in town last week to see about the pay for their services. We notice the plan of paying by warrants is coming in again in some places in consequence of the deficit in the State treasury.

We learn that Mr. Ulbrecht, who had part of the home crushed out of one of his feet by a wagon running over it, is rapidly improving. Mr. U. is one of our worthy German citizens, 30 years a resident of Caldwell county, and resides near the Methodist church at Kegley hills.

Carp are still seen deep down in the bayou near the head of the river. Mr. Reasoner caught five last season near Thompson's mill, the largest of which weighed 19 pounds. It would be profitable to extend the cultivation of this crop, which could be done by making ponds for them.

"Old men for combs" and also for driving delivery wagons in San Marcos, are Billingsley and McKee, a trio with Messrs. Rowland and Griffin. Success to these disciples of "Old King Cole, The jolly old soul!"

While at Maj. Bishop's on Sunday, we called on our old friends Mr. and Mrs. W. P. City, who still occupy a portion of the old homestead, but boarding with the Major. Their daughter, Mrs. Turner—formerly Mrs. McClanahan—we learned had just left for her home after a month's visit.

Mr. S. P. Clark, of Whitesboro, Texas, came to this place some ten days since for his health, attended by his brother, stopping at Mrs. Fry's. He was in the last stages of disease, of which consumption was the leading feature, and died the fore part of this week. His sister came shortly before his death, and the sorrowing brother and sister have retained with the remains of the deceased to their homes.

One of our local reporters informs us that our worthy fellow citizen, Mr. J. B. Hankla, has built a new residence on his ranch near Green Mt. about equidistant from Kyle, Lockhart and San Marcos, in Caldwell county, to which he will soon remove his family. We further learn that he designs going into the mercantile business near there in the future. We presume a postoffice will be in order, as the farmers thereabouts have to go to San Marcos or Kyle for their mail, and is on the road from Kyle to Lockhart. We understand it would also be a good location for a gin, as the country is being rapidly improved and brought into cultivation.

We called on Sunday last at Maj. Bishop's. His school has been interrupted somewhat by the prevalence of measles, but the outlook for the future is good. It now has comfortable quarters, and he has the foundations ready for a larger building. It is a school for young ladies exclusively. He proposes to limit the number of his pupils to thirty, so that he can teach them without assistance, save that of Mrs. B. who will instruct in music, drawing, painting, and other ornamental branches; will also superintend the pupils in the matter of caring for and mending their own clothes, and other matters of practical importance, often too much neglected in schools of this kind. We were gratified by an inspection of some of the crayon and other pictures executed by Mrs. Bishop, including life-like portraits of her venerable parents. Also other samples of her work. Also occupy a portion of the grounds of the school are favored in having so accomplished an instructress in these branches. "That they are profiting thereby we had evidence in a pair of nice shirtings which we saw at Mrs. Bishop's, and the grounds will be passed on to the editor of the FREE PRESS. In consequence of our inability to accept an invitation to be present on that occasion, we feared we should "slip up" on these shirtings; but they were kindly held for the more convenient season at which we could call for them.

I Am Agent For McCormick self binder, Mowers etc. Jackson wagons. Caddy plows. Standard cultivators. Book-walker hay rakes. Wheeler Thrashers and other machinery and farm implements for which I solicit orders, guaranteeing lowest prices and best terms. Wm. GOSSEN.

Premium. To all new subscribers to the FREE PRESS, for one year, cash in advance, or to all present subscribers, who pay up arrears and a year's subscription in advance, we will send postpaid a copy of Kendall's celebrated "TREATISE ON THE HORSE AND HIS DISEASES," by Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co. It is a manual of 91 pages, of which 2,000,000 copies have been printed. The price is 25 cents, so that by accepting our offer you really get the FREE PRESS at the rate of $1 75 per year.

To the Public. At a meeting of the Board of Directors San Marcos Cemetery Association on Jan. 25th ult., the following rule was adopted and Secretary instructed to publish same: "Moved by Mr. Joyce and carried, that no vehicles other than horses and carriages with immediate relatives of deceased attendants, be permitted to enter inclosure of cemetery Association."

Frequent complaints that graves, although plainly marked, have been driven over, make the above action on the part of the Board necessary. E. F. BARNES, Secretary.

That Paper Mill,—Again.

EDITOR FREE PRESS:—In looking over the columns of your last week's issue, I see that a writer signing himself "Citizen" asks for definite information on the paper mill matter, which we hope will be given by the parties who have this matter in hand.

In reading Citizen's article one is led to the conclusion that with our natural advantages and the profit claimed to be in the paper trade, that he, Citizen, is opposed to giving aid to any such enterprise; in this I think Citizen is mistaken, for in giving aid to manufacturing projects we are certainly benefitting ourselves as well as the enterprise; there certainly can be no mistake on that point.

No person will deny but what the erection of a paper mill here would be the means of bringing in a great deal of trade to our town. Why is it that all towns in Texas give donations to railroads? Take Dallas and Fort Worth for instance, each of these places are railroad centers and trade centers, still each will come their way, and not only railroads but also to other enterprises.

Take the case of the little town of Honey Grove, in North Texas, on the line of the Trans-Continental Railroad. This town offers a bonus of $40,000 to the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe to come to them. Now will any man say that it is a mistake on the part of Honey Grove, will they not make it pay them? Most certainly they will.

Again, Citizen says if some practical paper man will come to San Marcos and demonstrate beyond a reasonable doubt that at home for this purpose, why is it that said capital has not taken hold of the matter before this? The people of San Marcos know our natural advantages, for it is the first thing a stranger hears when entering our town, and the last thing that could be done in San Marcos. There are many other things equally as profitable to make, and some of which would be bound to follow the paper mill enterprise.

In conclusion let me say, let us do as all live towns do, viz. Show capital what we have and what we will do, and then the capital will come, and not do as Citizen asks them to do—to come and show us.

Yours truly, SAN MARCOS. Jan. 27, '86.

[We are unable to see any substantial difference between our correspondents. The first point is clearly for the State advocates of the enterprise to show that it will pay, and lead off themselves with a liberal subscription, and no doubt it can then be made a success.—Ed.]

What We Are Indebted to the South For. There appears in our columns to-day the advertisement of the well-known (and universally used in the Southern States) Simmons Liver Regulator. Years ago it won its way into every household of the South by pure, sterling merit. It there takes the place of a doctor, and cures prescriptions. The medicine is becoming widely known in the North, and wherever used the demand for it has steadily increased. It is a family medicine, containing no dangerous and deleterious qualities, but purely vegetable, and so gentle in its action that it can be safely given to any person, no matter what age—the centenarian or the crowing youngster. Working people are often in that miserable state of health which really renders them unfit for labor, but they haven't time to take medicine, and be sick. Simmons' Liver Regulator can be taken without causing any loss of time, and the system will be built up and invigorated by it. The Regulator promotes digestion, dissipates most sick headaches, and gives a strong, full tone to the system. It has no equal as a preparatory medicine, and can be safely used when a doctor cannot be called in. Persons of the very highest character and eminence have given Simmons' Liver Regulator their cordial and hearty endorsement.
