

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

EDWARD TOBY, Jr., Society Editor.
(Telephone No. 270.)

Chicago, June 28.—The society is abroad and considers her- self subject for congratulation, that she for the nonce has assumed the duties of that position special correspondent. Could not realize what it means not in hourly dread of writing another card matinee or wedding thing wildly about the city in a german list, you would make my hands in spirit at least. A pity steals over me when I think of the long suffering of the family to whom my have been relegated.

Monday was Derby day. Forty and people streamed to Wash- park to witness the great event of the year. It is said that society has never made great display as it did this How that may be I cannot at the glittering equipages gorgeous costumes formed a great spectacle. The day was per- fect, and all Chicago gave itself up to the excitement of the Derby. The boulevards were thronged with men, women and children, eager to see the brilliant procession of gaudy vehicles.

While the windows, verandas, bal- conies and lawns of private resi- dences and hotels were filled with sight seers, and surely there never was a fairer sight than the tally hos, landaus, drags, mail carts, victorias and carriages, freighted with fair women in perfect gowns and irre- proachable millinery, and as the gay avalanche rolled on to the park, the clanking chains of a hundred pam- pered horses jingled an accompani- ment to the tuneful tally-ho horns. The elegantes stopped at the Washington park club house, as invited guests of the club, and the broad verandahs and stretch of velvet lawn resembled a huge parterre. The women affected white this year to a large ex- tent, and their spotless gowns were accompanied with costly white lace or chiffon parasols, but many bril- liant colors were worn. The grand stand was crowded with handsomely dressed men and women, while the infield was filled with vehicles of every description. Above the hum of voices and rustle of fans rose the strains of a most excellent orchestra and from the tallyhos came snatches of songs, bursts of laughter and popping of innumerable champagne corks.

Everybody bets on the Derby, but on Saturday the position of the horses had no sooner been drawn up than followed such a scene as has seldom been witnessed on a race track. The eighty one book makers went out prepared for the fierce onslaught. The crowd came with such force that the jam was terrific; more than a dozen men fainted, clothes were torn, men shouted and struggled and the vast room was filled with a howling mob. It was certainly a scene which would serve to point a moral against gambling. Men of all ranks of life came pour into the enclosure, hot and perspir- ing, holding aloft their rolls of money, and as every one put their money on the two Eastern favor- ites, Domino, and Senator Grady, it was a great day for the bookmakers, to the consternation of the crowd. Rey El Santa Anita captured the heavy purse for "Lucky" Baldwin. As the thoroughbreds came down to the judges' stand everyone rose to their feet, cheering the favorites wildly, Lucky Baldwin's entry not being noticed, and when the California colt won the victory scarcely a cheer rose from the sullen crowd who seemed stunned at the unexpected turn of affairs.

But despite the disappointment it was a great day for the populace, and although the majority had been losers they refused to sulk, and the return home was a repetition of the noon parade.

Goodrich-Dickey.
The high noon wedding of Miss Abigail M. Goodrich to Mr. R. B. Dickey, on Thursday, filled the First Presbyterian church with an exclu- sive and fashionable audience. Mrs. Rounsavall presided at the organ and to the strains of the wedding march the ushers, Messrs Will Law- son, Will Neil, F. B. Goodrich, of Houston, and Green Higginson, preceded the bridal pair up the aisle, where the simple and impressive service was performed by Rev. Dr. King.

The winsome little bride wore a most charming toilette of new wool crinkled crepon, of mode flecked with white. The skirt showed a drapery of latest design, falling in graceful plaits, caught on one side with two rosettes of chocolate hued moire ribbon, a broad sash of moire of the same color fell at the back. The bodice, with its moderate sleeves, was adorned with broad revers, which flared from a vest of the chocolate moire, on which a handsome cream lace was appliqued, the collars and cuffs being finished to correspond. A beautiful directoire cape of the moire trimmed with the cream ap- pique and lined with silk, shading from pink to brown, was donned for traveling, and the hat was a verita- ble confection of mode chip, pink forget-me nots peeping from under the brim, the pale green stems pass- ing to the top and twisting in and out of the upright bows of mode gauze.

A great amount of kindest in- terest was aroused by the union of Miss Goodrich and Mr. Dickey, for their friends are legion. Miss Goodrich since her debut has been a reigning belle, her bonhomie and gracious personality well fitting her for the social position which she has adroaed. A model daughter and sister, she enters her new life en- dowed with all the requisites to bring happiness to her own fireside.

Mr. Dickey is one of the fore- most of our young business men. He is a most cultivated gentleman, a man of affairs and large interests, which center in our city.

Mr. Dickey's gift to his bride was a beautiful home on Austin avenue, which they will occupy after their return from an extended tour to Chicago and the cities of the east.

Mrs. Winter's German.
Monday night Mrs. Winter gave a delightful german at the Audi- torium, complimentary to her son, Captain Gabriel Winter and Lieutenant John G. Winter, Jr. It was a most enjoyable affari. High up on the hills, out of the dust and heat of the city, these gay young merry-makers danced and otherwise enjoyed themselves until long after midnight. Refreshments of ices and cakes were served. Mr. Shumata led sixty couples through the german in his usual easy and pleasing manner.

A Pleasant Time.
Wednesday evening a number of young people in response to invita- tions sent out in the name of Mr. Lyle Downs, met at the residence of Mrs. S. L. Downs and had a regu- lar good time, not breaking up un- til late in the night. Dancing was the order of the evening. When this little crowd like the Rosebud set meet a good time is insured.

Jenkins-Truett Wedding.
Thursday evening at 8:30 at the First Baptist church Rev. Dr. Car- roll performed the ceremony that united Miss Josephine Jenkins and Rev. Geo. W. Truett in the bonds of matrimony. Long before the ar- rival of the bridal party the church was crowded with their friends. Promptly at the hour set the im- pressive strains of the familiar wed- ding march, played by Mrs. W. H. Bagby, sounded through the church, and all eyes were turned in the di- rection of the main entrance, each countenance being filled with expec- tancy. First came the ushers, Misses F. Wood, F. Ficklen, Claude McFee and Eugene Wood; then came Miss Maud Speight and Professor Harris, walking very slowly. When they had gotten half way down the aisle Miss John- ston and Mr. E. McKenney entered and in a like manner Miss Dixie Wood and Mr. Harvey Carroll and Miss Georgia Jenkins and Mr. Luther Truett. Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of Mr. Truett. As the attendants reached the altar they separated, the brides- maids forming in line to the left of of the altar, while the groomsmen formed on the right. When the bride and groom reached the altar they stood facing the minister who was waiting to receive them there. When the ceremony was over the bridal party left the church in the order that they entered. The bride wore a lovely brocaded white silk with lace and passemen- terie, veil and orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were all dressed in pure white organdy, with satin rib- bon trimmings.

The altar was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and potted plants. After the wedding a magnificent reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. W. H. Jenkins. The presents were numerous and handsome.

The bride, who is a great favorite in Waco, is the daughter of County Judge W. H. Jenkins, and is a na- tive of this city. The groom, Rev. Geo. W. Truett, is a young man, but one of the most gifted and promising ministers in the Baptist church. The couple left at noon on Friday to visit the coast cities of South Texas. They will be at home after July 15, at their new residence on South Fifth street.

Mr. Sam Caruthers' German.
Friday evening Mr. Sam Caruth- ers gave a delightful german to the Rosebud set at his father's residence on South Fifth street. House and grounds were prettily illuminated with Mikado lanterns, and both were called into service. Refreshments were served on the lawn. Dancing was kept up until a late hour, under the graceful leading of Mr. Shumate.

HERE AND THERE.
To-night there will be a children's party at Mr. John F. Sedwick's. Mrs. Howard's two guests will leave for home on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Rufus N. William- son have returned to Waco and will more than likely make this city their home.

LOWER RATES.
To Prevail in Purchasing Pos- tal Notes and Orders.
Washington, June 30.—On and after Monday morning there will be on sale at the principal postoffices of the country the new government money order by which large and small sums can be transmitted by letters with safety and at rates much less than the present orders for $2.50 or less can be had for three cents, and orders for larger amounts up to $100 at rates graduated up to 30 cents. The schedule for fees for the new money order has been re- duced to the basis now charged by the various express companies for transmitting money and will be as follows: For $2.50 or less, 3 cents; $2.50 to $5, 5 cents; $5 to $10, 8 cents; $10 to $20, 10 cents; $20 to $30, 12 cents; $30 to $40, 15 cents; $40 to $50, 18 cents; $50 to $60, 20 cents; $60 to $75, 25 cents; $75 to $100, 30 cents. The postal note gives no security to the sender. Anybody can get one cashed simply by signing his name and presenting it for payment at any postoffice au- thorized to pay postal notes. The new money order on the other hand, by a system of coupons serving as an effective check both upon pur- chaser and postmaster, is apt to prove a satisfactory solution of the long mooted question of re-issuing fractional currency for convenience in mail purchasing. Under the new system postmasters will receive a commission of 3 cents for every money order issued. At present they get 3 1/2 cents for each order issued and the same amount for each postal note issued and three- fourths of a cent for each postal note paid. Superintendents of money order departments through- out the country say that this reduc- tion on large sums of money trans- mitted by money order is a good thing. The present rates are too ex- orbitant, for the people can get their money transmitted by express com- panies at much lower rates than the government charges.

A FRIEND
Speaks through the Boothbay (Me.) Register, of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar- coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are in need of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills. They will do good."
