He Obeyed.
Murat Hilstead, the great journalist of war times, went to General William T. Sherman's headquarters once for the "latest news from the front." Hilstead was armed with many fine introductory letters, but decided to rely mainly on one given him by Thomas Ewing, Sherman's brother-in-law. He found the general and presented Ewing's letter. The general opened it somewhat impatiently, read a few lines, folded it and said:
"Ah, you come from Ewing, and you desire to have 'all the latest news,' the 'next probable move' of our army, eh? Well, there's a train leaving this town for Cincinnati at 2 o'clock. Here, take this ticket and step over there and get your dinner and then get on that train."
"Well, but, General Sherman"— began the newspaper man. But Sherman waved him off.
"Go over and get a good dinner. We have plenty and always strive to treat our friends well. But be sure you don't miss that 2 o'clock train!" And Hilstead obeyed.

Japanese Delicacies.
Under the head of "Japanese Delicacies" the Berlin Prometheus gives a list of some of the queer things which are served to citizens of the Flowery Kingdom who "have a refined taste." In the provinces which are so distant from the sea that fresh fish cannot be obtained readily, and where meat is not abundant, snakes and lizards are considered good food and are prepared in many ways. Grasshoppers rank among the real delicacies. They are always kept in captivity without food for a day, then bathed and decapitated and made legless. Heads and legs must be torn off, never cut. They are served in various ways, but dry, with a salad dressing, is the most popular. An insect of the bee family which lives in the earth is also much sought. This is served with sugar or honey when eaten raw, but it is also made into a porridge. The chrysanthemum exists not only in the poetry and art of the Japanese, but has an important place on the table, where it is met as salad, candy and stew.

The Right Hand Seats.
The Philadelphia Record quoted an observant street car conductor to the effect that the right hand seats are always filled first. He could not account for this except on the theory that, as most persons are right handed and accustomed to turning to the right, it might be simply force of habit.
"There is another probable reason which he did not think of," says the Record. "It is generally believed that the right side of a car is safer. An old traveler once said to the writer: 'In traveling always sit in the middle of a car and on the right hand side. The middle is safer than the ends in a collision, and the right side is not likely to be "side swiped" by projecting objects on trains, cars or any vehicles passing on the adjacent track.'"

Observations on Baldheads.
"If you care to observe the bald-headed row," remarked the theater goer, "you will find that there is great variety in baldheads. There are elliptical bald spots, circular bald spots, elongated egg shaped bald spots, bald spots that are almost square and bald spots whose shape can hardly be described for the reason that they include the entire circumference of the head, with the exception perhaps of a slight row of finishing fringe between the head and the neck. If it wasn't for the baldheads the theater would be a bore before the rising of the curtain."—New York Press.

A Remarkable Race.
The Lapps are very fond of stimulating drinks. They think nothing of drinking fifteen or twenty cups of coffee a day, while their consumption of punch is on a vast scale. It is no uncommon thing to see numbers of helplessly drunk natives in the streets of Tromso, especially when the sale of reindeer flesh has been profitable. Yet robbery and, indeed, crime in general are practically unknown among them. The innate honesty of the people is quite extraordinary.—Wide World Magazine.

The Label Failed.
Gunner—You can't get the best of those blamed baggage smashers. I labeled my trunks "China" and thought they would handle them with unusual care. Guyer—And did they? Gunner—No, but blamed if they didn't ship the trunks all the way to Shanghai, and I haven't seen them since.—Chicago News.

A Slender.
Every time a girl wants to find anything in her top bureau drawer she gets a stick and stirs everything in the drawer round and round. If what she is looking for doesn't come to the surface, then she is satisfied it isn't there.—Athens Globe.

Intuition.
"What became of that rich uncle of yours?"
"I think he's dead, but I don't know."
"Gee! How did he lose all his money?"—Cleveland Leader.

The Example.
Professor lecturing on hygiene—To-bacco, gentlemen, makes men ugly, short winded, idiotic, paralytic, and I can tell you this from experience, for I have smoked for many years!

Why, Indeed?
Mrs. Meeker—Wake up, John! I hear a noise downstairs. I'm sure there are burglars in the house. Meeker—Nonsense, my dear! Why should burglars want to make a noise!

Allen Academy Field Day.
All-fools-day proved to be a gala occasion for the boys of Allen Academy. The faculty, following a precedent of last year, declared April first a holiday and set it apart for the annual field day exercises. Barring the cold north wind that prevailed, the day was perfect, much to the surprise of those who anxiously scanned the lowering skies of the night before.

Quite a crowd from Bryan was present and all seemed to enjoy the day. This feature is especially gratifying to the students and faculty of the Academy, and it is hoped that the attendance will increase from year to year.

Track and field events are the cleanest and manliest of all our sports and deserve to be encouraged. It is a matter of regret that in our own Southland where high, noble ideals of life and conduct are most fondly cherished, this, the noblest sport of all, should be so sadly neglected.

The most interesting feature of the day was the contest for the all-round medal. So keen was the competition between the six boys who qualified that the matter was not finally settled until Grady Ross of Henderson, after a heroic spurt, burst the tape on the half-mile run, a few yards ahead of his game opponent, thereby snatching victory from defeat and winning one of the most coveted honors of school life. There is no doubt but that Ross is justly entitled to his laurels. He entered and scored points in eight out of twelve events, his total being 26. Everett McAshan of Houston, was a close second with 21. Then came Meredith James with 18, Shepard Wilson with 14, Scofield with 11, and Emmet Baylor with 13.

Two inter-scholastic records were broken. The shot put record of 39 feet, 3 inches was smashed by Geo. Peeler, who shoved the sphere out 29 feet 6 inches. Meredith James raised the Texas inter-scholastic pole vault record held by himself, by clearing the bar at 10 feet 9 inches. This beats the Southern Inter-collegiate record of 10 feet 4 inches, and is within one inch of the South-Western Inter-collegiate record. His performance was by far the most creditable one of the day, although every record of last year's field day was broken save three. Meredith gives promise of being a wonderful athlete, and his friends would not be surprised to see him help the Stars and Stripes on to victory at some future Olympic. Here's hoping that he may.

At the close of the contests our most charming queen, Miss Pauline Webb, ascended the improvised throne and awarded the winners of the several events.

The Academy team has settled down to hard work now, and will put forth every effort to regain the State championship that the school held so long.

NEWS FROM OKLAHOMA.

Cotton Gins Still Running and Corn not Planted.
Editor Bryan Eagle:
Health in this country is good. Preaching at Bethel last Sunday by Rev. Moon.
The long continued drouth was broken last night by a good rain and a 12 inch snow, the heaviest snow I have seen since I have been in Oklahoma. Farmers are well up with their work. Wheat is very good. No oats have been sown yet. Our cotton gins are still running, and some cotton to pick yet.
I am working 140 acres of land, have broken it all since Feb. and will begin planting Indian corn next week.
We raise every thing here that grows on a farm. We have good schools and churches. Our school has enrolled 150 pupils. I. O. C.
We are now making a specialty of cleaning and pressing. Ladies skirts at reasonable prices, Parks & Waldrop.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS.

Elks Lodge Organized a Team and Other Lodges Will Follow.
The Eagle is glad to announce that Bryan has a base ball team and is likely to have one or two more. The Elks club has already organized a club and Col. A. A. Farley has been elected manager and coach. The team was out yesterday afternoon for practice and the first warming up. They have some good material on the team and after sufficient practice will give all comers a run for their money.
The Knights of Pythias Lodge and Owls Club are also contemplating organizing teams and if they do there will be something doing in Bryan in base ball circles. These lodges and clubs are to be commended and encouraged in the movement, as they will furnish amusement and recreation to break the monotony of the long summer days.
