TOMATOES BRING $1.00 A CRATE.

Tyler Fruit and Truck Business Booming. Strawberry Season Ended.

Two straight cars of tomatoes, bringing 1 per crate, were shipped out of Tyler yesterday. One was shipped out by Henry and Henry and one was shipped out by the Woldert Grocery company. The same firms also shipped out two straight cars of cabbage yesterday.

Today the Woldert Grocery company is shipping out straight cars of cabbage, potatoes, tomatoes and a mixed car of strawberries and blackberries and Henry and Henry are shipping straight cars of tomatoes and potatoes.

Most of the potato crop is still in the ground, but digging in earnest will commence the latter part of this week, when several cars of the esculent tubers will be shipped out daily.

The strawberry shipments will wind up this week as practically all of the berries have been gathered.

"The blackberry season is opening up fair," said Alex Woldert to a Courier-Times man this morning, "and we expect to ship out in car lots next week."—Tyler Courier Times.

DECLARATION OF WAR.

We should get in behind the fly and mosquito and the rest, and in some manner help them to die—each fuzzy little insect pest! The fly breeds in a nest of trash and filth and gets it on his feet, and leaves disease germs in our hash and microbes in all we eat; he gathers up the typhus germ, the tetanus and other bugs, of each disease he finds the worm and forty thousand of them lug around with him where'er he goes, and liberally shakes them down from off his wings and off his toes in country, hamlet and in town; so that if we have any sense we'll land a stunning blow kerblim! on him; 'twould just be self-defense, and shoot the dye-stuff into him! And the mosquito is as bad, 'tis not his fault that he's not worse; he gets on the bald head of dad and makes him thrash around and curse, he gets malaria on his head and socks it deep into your veins till you're so hot your eyeballs squeak and your limbs seem bound down with chains—the fever's got you! Or he goes where yellow fever germs and dirt are wriggling and with all his clothes alive with them with one glad squirt he fills your veins plum full of them, then sickness and a doctor bill, then flowers and slow music, and you there amongst them cold and still.—Lewis in the Post

For Lee Statute Unveiling.

Special to the Eagle.
Vicksburg, Mississippi, June 10.—Vicksburg is preparing to entertain a great gathering of Confederate veterans and other visitors tomorrow on the occasion of the unveiling of the statue of Gen. Steven D. Lee in the Vicksburg national military park. The event will be accompanied by exercises of an interesting character. The chief participants will be Henry Waterson, of Louisville, who will deliver the oration; Gen. Clement A. Evans, of Atlanta, who will make the speech of presentation, and Major-Gen. Frederick D. Grant, U. S. A., who will accept the memorial on behalf of the war department.

GONE FISHING

Dr. N. S. Grice, J. C. Bennett, Marshal Bullock, Louis White and Leo Reed, left this afternoon on a fishing trip to the Little Brazos river. Fish are said to be biting fine now and they expect to have a good time.

BLOODY WAR THREATENED IN KENTUCKY.

Two Suspects Arrested for Shooting Callahan and Feudist Clans Gathering.

Special to the Eagle.

Lexington, June 10.—Ed Smith and Levi Johnson, who were arrested here on a charge of shooting former Marshal Ed Callahan, were lodged in jail at Jackson yesterday morning. It is reported members of the feud faction are arriving in Jackson and troops may be asked for to prevent a clash. A special grand jury will be empaneled to investigate charges against the three men under arrest. Blood-hounds have been withdrawn and no more arrests are expected in the Callahan shooting.

WHY NOT DIVERSIFY.

Several Reforms That Will Lead the Farmers to Certain Prosperity.

The reporter noticed a north bound H. and T. C. freight yesterday afternoon that was made up of ten cars of Irish potatoes and ten cars of cattle. They were being rushed to the northern markets and will net the owners a handsome return. The boll weevil does not cut any figure with the potato and cattle crop, and the owners are sure of their money; they are not only sure of it but already have it in their pockets and there are no days and nights of uncertainty about it. Not only that, but the potato crop is now out of the way and the land is in fine condition for another crop. Either more Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, June corn, peas, sorghum, or any one of many crops that can now be planted and harvested before frost.

Cotton is the most uncertain of all crops, it takes more work and a longer time to raise it and costs more to harvest and get it ready for market than anything else that can be grown, and now with the boll weevil here by the million, a farmer never knows what to expect until it is picked and ginned.

The thing to do is to get out of the old rut. Diversify, plant other things besides cotton, raise everything possible for your table, plenty of feed for your stock, raise hogs, raise cattle, raise Irish potatoes, raise chickens, get some good cows and sell milk and butter, and have money coming in all the time.

Despite not the day of little things. Little things put together and properly looked after, will soon amount to big things and very big things at that. Put your money in the bank as you sell your products, add to it from day to day as you will be enabled to do by following the above plan and you will be surprised how soon you will be independent. Don't make a cash drawer of your pocket, if you do your money will be too handy and you will spend it and never know where it went.

Start a bank account and you will then have but one aim and that will be to add to it instead of taking from it. By this method you will be in a position to pay cash for every dollars worth you buy, and this will make a wonderful difference. The cash system has got to come in this country and the sooner the better for all concerned. It will be better for the farmer and better for the merchant. The farmer can get more for his money and will not be worried with what he owes. The merchant can sell his goods cheaper and not be worried by his outstanding accounts. In other words it will put the whole country on a safe, sound and sure basis. Every fellow will then know where he is and all elements of uncertainty will be removed.

Lets get busy in Brazos county and inaugurate these much needed reforms, and at last get a start on that road that has for its goal—prosperity.

We have on sale daily all kinds of home grown vegetables including the very finest tomatoes. C. E. Bullock & Co.

WOULD NOT VETO PROHIBITION.

Hon. Gus Shaw Would Let It Stand if He Were Governor.

Special to the Eagle.

Nacogdoches, Texas, June 10.—Rev. J. H. Thorn of this city is in receipt of a letter from Hon. N. A. (Gus) Shaw of Texarkana, who is a candidate for governor, which is as follows:

My Dear Friend: Yours of the 4th received, and I thank you very much for writing me, as it gives me an opportunity to relieve you of any doubt. I would not veto statutory prohibition. To be more explicit, I will copy your exact question and answer it: "In case the Thirty-second legislature should, by a majority vote of both houses, pass statutory prohibition, if you were governor would you approve the bill and pass its constitutionality up to the supreme court?" Yes, sir; I would approve the bill and let the supreme court pass on its constitutionality.

Thanking you for your support, etc.
N. A. Shaw.

FREE BAPTIST MEETING.

"What shall it profit to man if he gain the whole world and loose his own soul, was the subject so ably handled by Sister Haines last night. In commenting she said that some have seen a great deal of the grandeur, riches, beauty and power of the world, but a blessed christian experience far surpassed them all, and it don't pay to sell out to the world, for it has a way of crowning a man one day and cursing him the next.

We have family gatherings at the old hearthstone and how sad it is to have one missing, but how terrible for the poor lost soul that cannot take its place in the family circle in the beautiful heavenly home.

Sister Ferguson sang a soul stirring song during the meeting.

There was a good altar service at the close.

At the day service this morning Bro. Haines used these words: "We Have Renounced the Hidden things of Sin. Some of his comments were:

A man cannot take the scripture and find any excuse, or approval for

MOVING PICTURES TONIGHT.

The management of the moving picture and vaudeville show now in operation at the skating rink, take pleasure in announcing that they have at last been enabled to secure a suitable transformer for the operation of their picture machine and that it was properly attached this afternoon. All connections are now made and the pictures will be on tonight. In addition two first class comedians will put on an up-to-date vaudeville act and all who attend may rest assured of an evening of first class entertainment. Prices have been reduced to 10 and 15 cents. Everybody come out and enjoy the pictures and the fun.

We look more often in the mirror than at ourselves in the word of God. If a man gets true religion the stock on the place will find it out.

Does our speech and manner betray us to be Christians or sinners.

Does the life of Christ manifest itself in our lives.

A man printed "God is Love" on a weathervane because God is love no difference which way the wind blows.

A man addressed a letter to "the man who believes God, Boston Mass., and the right man got it.

The main thing is to get saved and then get some else saved.

Meeting at the tent tonight, all welcome.

BUILDING PROGRESS.

The work on the new First National Bank building is progressing splendidly. The brick work is almost completed and in all probability will be finished by this week. The tinner will begin their part of the work within a day or two. The work of putting in the doors and windows and the interior finishing, will be under way in a day or two, and another month will find the building almost ready for occupancy. The finishing brick used on the exterior show up well, and when completed it will be the handsomest building in the city. It is modern in every particular and will help the looks on Main street wonderfully.

The contractors are well along with the work of repairing the Levy building that was recently damaged by fire when Walker's Five and Ten Cent Store burned. It will be made just like it was, with the exception of having been made several feet longer, the addition having been put on the east end of the building.

MRS. SAGE A GREAT SPENDER

Your Uncle Russell's Fortune Rapidly Vanishing by Widows Bquests.

Special to the Eagle.

New York, June 10.—In less than three years Mrs. Russell Sage has spent more than $25,000,000 for public purposes and the benefit of mankind. The recent investigation abroad of the question of workmen's insurance and the establishment of a gigantic employment bureau calls attention anew to her prolific bounty.

It took Russell Sage fifty years to get $65,000,000. This great sum amounted to $3,500 a day for the lifetime of the financier. Mrs. Sage is now giving away the fortune at the rate of $25,000 a day. If the widow continues her charity at the pace she has set all will be gone in five years. Comparison of the financier's power to make money with Mrs. Sage's faculty of giving it away shows that the widow is giving away $2 in the same time that it took Mr. Sage to accumulate "thirty cents."

OPERA HOUSE PROSPECTS.

The Eagle reporter interviewed Mr. John B. Mike, former manager of the Grand Opera house, as to the prospects for an opera house for next season. Mr. Mike is still at sea in regard to the matter and says the way it now stands, the outlook is anything but encouraging for a play house, especially as regards next season. The cost of a first class opera house is too great for the prospective returns on the investment, and any one man or stock company will hesitate in making an investment of that kind. Mr. Mike is hopeful however that the plans for the new city hall will include an opera house and that he will be able to conclude suitable and satisfactory arrangements with the city for a lease on same.

VILLA MARIA COMMENCEMENT.

Interesting Exercises Now in Progress at This Splendid School.

A most pleasant and profitable session of Villa Maria Ursuline Academy is now coming to a close, and a series of most interesting commencement exercises are now under way. The excellence of the work being done by this school is abundantly evidenced in the thoroughness and finish which mark all its public exercises.

The senior recital was given yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, and a reporter for the Eagle had the pleasure of witnessing the rendition of the following excellent program:

1. Prelude Rachmanioff
2. Mrs. M. F. Dausby, Misses Connelly and G. Eaves.
3. Mandolin Solo Miss E. Crenan
4. Lichner's "Summer" Misses J. Proctor and M. Wolf
5. Barry's "Time's Roses"—Vocal Solo—Miss Blossie Evans.
6. (a) Lack's Idillio.
(b) Intermezzo
Misses M. Hanway, A. Fuchs and Blossie Evans.
7. Mendelssohn's "Spring Song"—Vocal Solo Miss Gertrude Eaves
8. Bragras "Angels Serenade" Violin Duet Mrs. M. F. Dausby and N. Dausby.
9. (a) Bendel's By Moonlight
(b) MacDowell's Witches Dance by Misses R. Connelly, E. Crenan and I. M. Camp.
10. Millard's Ave Maria—Vocal Solo by Miss A. Fuchs.
11. Renards Intermezzo—Violin Solo by Miss R. Connelly.
12. Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso" Mrs. Dausby, Misses Connelly and Eaves.
13. Dream of Paradise—Vocal Solo by Miss S. Price.
14. Raff's Meditation—Violin and Piano Misses S. and A. Price
Grand Chorus.
15. Father Murphy of St. Patrick's church of Galveston, was present and made a few closing remarks in which he paid a high tribute to the school and the work being done. The sentiments expressed by Father Murphy were fully endorsed by every person present.

The program of the afternoon was elegantly rendered and those taking part not only did credit to themselves, but reflected credit upon their teachers from whom they had received such careful and painstaking instruction. Elocution and Class Day are being observed this afternoon, and the graduating exercises will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.
