 to catch the summer breeze and making the rooms pleasant. THE TELEPHONE GIRL.
 The telephone girl sits still in her chair. And listens to voices from everywhere. She knows all the gossip, she knows all the news. She knows who is happy, and who has the blues; She knows all our sorrows, she knows all our joys; She knows every girl who is chasing the boys. She knows of our troubles, she knows of our strife. She knows every man who is mean to his wife. She knows every time we are out with the boys. She hears the excuses each fellow employs. She knows every woman who has a dark past. She knows every man who is inclined to be fast. In fact there's a secret neath each saucy curl. Of that quiet, demure looking, telephone girl. If the telephone girl would tell all she knows, It would turn half our friends into foes. She would sow a small wind that would become a gale. Engulf us in trouble and land us in jail. She would let go a story (which is gaining in force) Would cause half our wives to sue for divorce. She could get all the churches mixed up in a fight. And turn all our days into sorrowing nights. In fact she could keep the whole town in a stew. If she'd tell the tenth part of the things she knew. Now doesn't it make your head whirl. When you think what you owe the telephone girl.
 A Bryan Telephone Girl.

GOULD CASE ENDED SUDDENLY.
 Special to the Eagle.
 New York, June 26.—After a trial of nearly three weeks' duration Katherine Clemons Gould obtained a legal separation from her husband, Howard Gould, third son of the late Jay Gould, by a decision of Justice Dowling in the supreme court yesterday.
 With the exception of alimony, her victory was complete, but in this the officer decided that $35,000 a year was sufficient, although in her suit Mrs. Gould asked for $250,000. She has been receiving $25,000 a year from Mr. Gould.

SKULL CRUSHED BY LEVER.
 Special to the Eagle.
 Orange, Texas, June 26.—Ed Weaver of the firm of Weaver & Son, shipbuilders of this city, was struck on the head with a lever while the steamer Captain Sam was being hauled out, which rendered him unconscious, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. An examination by physicians disclosed the fact that Mr. Weaver's skull was badly fractured, and that there are but few chances for him to survive the accident. In addition to the serious wound on the head, his shoulder was badly bruised from the fall.

MR. MERCHANT:

This Ad is to remind you that your advertisement in these columns would greatly benefit your business. The readers of the Eagle would read your ad just as you are reading this. The object of an advertisement is to bring the buyer and seller in touch with each other. Tell the people what you have to sell and what you ask for it and some person will see it that wants that very thing. Naturally he will go straight to your store for it.

A well worded advertisement is to a business what the heart is to the body; it sends the life principle tingling through every fiber of its being to the farthest extremity, and instead of stagnation and death, there is the rich red blood of life and activity. Be introduced to the buying public through an ad in these columns.
