"IN A BAD WAY."

Many a Bryan Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out; Becomes lame, weak, or aching; When urinary troubles set in, Your kidneys are "in a bad way." Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Here is evidence to prove it; Mrs. H. P. House, Franklin, Texas, says: "I had severe spells of rheumatism and at such times my kidneys pained me intensely. I had almost unbearable pains in my back and was often obliged to take to my bed. I took treatment from several doctors and received slight relief from the rheumatism but my kidneys still pained me. Hearing many people in town speak highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box. After using them a short time, I received great relief and I have no doubt that if I continue taking them, I will be completely cured. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly are an effective remedy."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

DANDRUFF.

Falling Hair and Itching Scalp are Caused by Microbes.

There is no doubt about it. Doctor Sabourand proved it when he infected a guinea pig with dandruff germs and all its hair disappeared in a short time. The entire medical world has accepted Dr. Sabourand's discovery as final. Ask any worthy physician.

Paris leads the world in knowledge of diseases of the hair and remedies for the same.

And Parisian Sage which can now be obtained at leading druggists all over America is the one great remedy that kills the dandruff germs.

And that is why E. J. Jenkins says to every reader of the Eagle if Parisian Sage does not banish dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks he will refund the purchase price.

Dandruff is the forerunner of baldness. Take care of your hair while you have hair to take care of. Kill the dandruff germs now before the dandruff germs kill your hair.

Use Parisian Sage, the guaranteed dandruff cure and delightful hair dressing.

It is used extensively by ladies of refinement because it keeps the scalp absolutely clean and gives a bewitching lustre to the hair. Price 50 cents at E. J. Jenkins and leading druggists everywhere. Girl with Auburn hair on every package. Made in America by Groux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Mail orders filled, all charges prepaid.

GOBELINS.

The Rise and Decadence of the Art of Tapestry.

Each year the problem of finding recruits to keep alive the glories of Gobelins becomes more difficult. It is the converse of one of Adam Smith's "canons of wages," the difficulty of attainment does not in this case secure a corresponding remuneration, and youths, or their parents for them, think of occupations which permit their children to become wage earners at a much earlier age than if they settled down as artists of Gobelins.

Gobelins takes its rise from the time of Henry IV. of France, who brought workers from Bearne, near the Pyrenees, as Henry of Navarre. His edict is dated 1007. In their infancy the ateliers produced "Moise sauve des eaux" and "Artemise" and "La fille de Jephte." The zenith of the glory of Gobelins was under Louis XIV. This was under the direction of Colbert.

Under Lebrun marvel succeeded marvel, which found place in the palaces of the kings or princely dwellings. Among the masterpieces, says the London Globe, were "Les Elements" and "Les Saisons," "L'Histoire du Roi," "Les Enfants Jardiniers," "Les Mois" and "L'Histoire d'Alexandre." Suddenly there was a change. The workers no longer created, they copied pictures, and with the diffusion of pictorial copies commences the decadence of the art of tapestry.

THE STOLEN BICYCLE.

An Exciting Chase That Ended in an All Around Capture.

A cyclist had left his machine outside a shop, and he emerged just in time to see a man riding away on it. Three other cyclists had put up for refreshments close by, and one of their machines, a tandem, was seized by the victim of the theft for the purpose of pursuit. This hasty act was observed by a passing pedestrian, who instantly and indignantly mounted the remaining machine and dashed after the cyclist who was chasing the thief.

A second later the owner of the last mentioned bicycle rushed wildly out, and, seeing no other bicycle handy on which to give chase, jumped into a cab. Here there were three men on stolen cycles and the fourth man in a cab all racing as if mad. The man on the tandem finally caught the thief, the next man caught him and the next caught him, and so on, until there was a very complicated row.

In the end there was an explanation. The thief was locked up and ultimately sentenced for two months. Evidently his pride was more wounded by the street episode than by the sentence, for he boastfully declared that no single man on a tandem ever would have caught him had he not been riding in long trousers.—Exchange.

The Wealth of Croesus.

Croesus was the king of Lydia, a state in Asia Minor, and ascended the throne about 562 B. C. His name has ever been a synonym for wealth, "as rich as Croesus" having been a proverb from his own time, but the most liberal estimates of his property, so far as descriptions of it have come down to us, make it worth in our money about $10,000,000. His riches were derived from gold mines near Sardis, the capital of Lydia, and from the plunder of numerous surrounding states. The kingdom of Lydia was overrun by Cyrus, the Persian conqueror, and, according to the best authorities, Croesus was taken prisoner and kept in the train of Cyrus. The court of Croesus was considered one of the most refined and elegant of ancient times, and the ruins of the royal palace and the other magnificent buildings are still to be seen on the site of Sardis.

Perversity.

"One peculiarity of melancholia," said a specialist, "is that the victim of it actually enjoys the despondency and often doesn't want to be cured. I once told a young woman who had this disease that she must be careful of her digestion and eat nothing fried. After that she tried to eat only fried food. Not only did she insist on having her potatoes and meat fried, but didn't want to eat bread unless it had been fried in a lot of grease."—New York Tribune.

NAPHTHA.

The Natural Products and Those Obtained From Petroleum.

Naphtha is an inflammable liquid which exudes from the soil in certain parts of Persia. Subsequently the use of the term spread to include some volatile oils found in Europe and even America. The product of the oil fields of southern Russia is usually called naphtha, although it differs in no way from the ordinary grades of petroleum.

Naphtha properly includes the lighter oils which pass off first in the distillation of petroleum, the gravities ranging from 90 to 92 degrees Beaume. Pennsylvania crude oil contains from 8 to 20 per cent of naphtha. In the refining of such naphtha several products are obtained by fractional distillation. Those which pass off first—namely, rhigolene and cymogene—are gases at ordinary temperatures and are seldom saved. The next product is known as gasoline, a material largely used in machines and for illuminating purposes. After this come stove naphtha and gas naphtha, the latter being the base of much of the illuminating gas now made.

Petroleum naphtha is often treated with chemicals to deodorize it. Naphtha may also be made in the distillation of wood and coal tar.—New York American.

A Judicial Reproof.

A mellow old lawyer who used to live on the banks of the Androscoggin was famous for his fine distinctions. But often after the shades of night had fallen the squire might have been seen struggling home so boozed that he apparently could not split a shingle, to say nothing of a hair. One night when he was drunker than usual he staggered completely out of his course and could not find it. Realizing that he was lost and drifting into unfamiliar regions, he called at a house to ask for information. "Madam," he gravely said to the lady who came to the door, candle in hand, "can you tell (hic) me where Squire Blank lives?"

"Certainly," she said and gave him full directions. But as she talked and looked and as her candle gradually brought out the features of the man before her a puzzled expression came into her face, and she finally said, "But isn't this Squire Blank?"

"Madam," replied the old lawyer, assuming a judicial air, "that is entirely (hic) immaterial."

Resist Melancholy.

Never give way to melancholy. Resist it steadily, for the habit will encroach. I once gave a lady two and twenty recipes against melancholy—one was a bright fire; another to remember all the pleasant things said to and of her; another to keep a box of sugar plums on the chimney piece and a kettle simmering on the hob. I thought this mere trifling at the moment, but have in after life discovered how true it is that these little pleasures often banish melancholy better than higher or more exalted objects; that no means ought to be thought too trifling which can oppose it either in ourselves or others.—Sydney Smith.

Whetstones and Hones.

The particular classes of stone used in sharpening edge tools, such as razors, knives, scythes, etc., are hard, compact and so very silicious that they readily wear down the hardest steel. They are varieties of slate derived from argillaceous schists of the paleozoic. These stones are found in Turkey, Bohemia, Persia and the Harz mountains, in Styria, in the United States, Spain, Peru and Siberia. One of the best American stones for hones comes from Arkansas.

Getting a Renewal.

Little Dorothy was playing "house" with her small friend Elizabeth, when suddenly she said, "I guess I'll have to go home."

"What for?" asked Betty, with a good deal of concern.

"To ast my mamma if I can tum back again," answered Dorothy.—Woman's Home Companion.

Have you ever noticed that you no sooner get one trouble off your hands that another comes along?—Acheson Globe.

Struck a Bargain.

An old woman recently entered an optician's shop and asked to look at some spectacles. Choosing a pair, she asked the price.

"Five shillings," was the answer.
"And how much are they without the case?"

"I could not sell them for less than 4s. 10d.," said the tradesman, who was determined to get all he could.
"Do you only take off twopence for the case?" queried the woman.

"That is all. The case is worth no more than twopence," was the reply.

"That is good news!" ejaculated the old lady, with a sigh of relief. "It's the case for mine which I have lost."
So saying, she laid down the twopence and marched off with the coveted case before the astonished shopkeeper had time to interfere.—London Mail.

Taking After Father.

"It has its father's nose!"
"And its mother's eyes!"
"And Aunt Alice's mouth!"
"And Uncle Ebenezer's ears!"
Such, multiplied by about a hundred, were the criticisms leveled by kind friends against the Fitzboodle baby.

Then the unconcerned baby began to calmly chew his big toe.
"Ah!" murmured Mr. Fitzboodle. "Baby is certainly endowed with some of my wife's chief characteristics!"
"Not to mention you, Fritz Fitzboodle!" snapped his wife. "Baby never opens his mouth without putting his foot in it!"

Eye Use and Abuse.

Those tired eyes of yours will stand lots of abuse, yet there is a limit to their patience and their power. You may worry along for quite a while, but there will come a time when you will regret your present indifference.

Here are a few hints:—Headache, Dizziness—Aversion to Bright Light—Sleepy Feeling while Reading—Blurring of Objects either at close range or at distance—Frowning or Squinting—Smarting or Burning Sensation in or around the eyes—Fatigue or requiring stronger light when reading—Dark Spots floating or Bright Lights flashing before the eyes. These are but a few of the many Symptoms.

Just think it over. I fit glasses for defective vision and eye strain—that's all, but a little piece of glass will work wonders.

I charge nothing for consultation. If glasses are not needed, I will tell you; if they are I will furnish them at a reasonable price. A trial is all I ask. Neither can you relieve the strain by "hoping your eyes will grow stronger." Weak eyes, when in need of glasses, always go on.
