WOULD WORK WAY THROUGH COLLEGE

Many Ambitious Boys of Texas Work
Their Way Through A. & M.
College.

Heavy demands for jobs at the A. & M. College during the coming session are being made by prospective students. Each year sees more than 50 per cent of the student body at the college contributing something toward their own support and expenses in college, but demands for this year have been excessively heavy.

Many students work their way through the full four years of their college career. Notable examples of these are W. G. Beasley of Cleburne, who received the degree of bachelor of science in agriculture last June. Beasley enrolled four years ago with no funds. By dint of much hard work and economy he made his own way, graduating with a bank account. During his college career he held almost every position of honor that there is for a student at the college.

A student labor fund of $10,000 is set aside each year by the college for the assistance of boys who are without funds to pay their own way. This money is paid out for stenographic work, work on the farm, at the dairy barns, power plant, clerical assistance and for innumerable other things which the boys do at such times as will not interfere with their scholastic work.

Overalls and work clothes are not strangers to A. & M. College boys, and the boys who work hardest are the ones who are honored most.

In addition to the student labor fund boys find help from professors and others living at the college who need yardmen, milkers and other help. In this way it is possible for any earnest boy to pay his own expenses while he is gaining an education.

HEAD DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE

Prof. Adelsperger of Indiana Elected to Succeed the Late Prof.
S. J. Fountain.

The appointment of Roland Adelsperger of South Bend, Ind., for more than seven years dean of the college of architecture at Notre Dame, as professor of architectural engineering and architecture at the A. & M. College, was announced today by Dean Spence of the school of engineering. Prof. Adelsperger succeeds S. J. Fountain, who died in Cleveland, Ohio, August 15.

In recent years the department of architecture has grown to be one of the strongest departments at the college. Students under Prof. Fountain met in competition with architectural students from Columbia University, Boston "Tech" and other schools of high standing in the beaux arts contests at New York. A. & M. boys triumphed in these contests many times.

Prof. Adelsperger received his technical training in Notre Dame and Chicago School of Architecture, a combination of the Art Institute of Chicago and the Armour Institute.

During the Spanish-American war he served in Cuba in a regiment of engineers, being successively sergeant, first sergeant and second lieutenant. While serving as first sergeant he designed for Major Gorgan the permanent general hospital at Marianao. For a year he served as architect for the water and sewer department in the office of the chief engineer at Havana. Returning to the United States in 1906, he was made dean of the school of architecture at the University of Notre Dame.

Prof. Adelsperger will arrive at the college about September 15.

SAYS WILL GO TO BERLIN IF IT COST EVERY MAN

So Declared the Russian Czar, Who Is Marshaling a Great Army for March on Berlin—Six Million Men Were Engaged Today in Greatest Battle of History—A Heavy French Loss Was Reported at Maubage, but the Allied Army Continued to Win—Great Britain Was Satisfied, While Berlin Was Downcast—The Austrian Army Was Reported in Mutiny and Internal Conditions Were Threatening.

(By Associated Press.)
Berlin, Sept. 9.—(By Wireless to the Associated Press.)—It is officially announced the French fortress at Maubage has fallen. The Germans captured four generals, forty thousand men and four hundred guns.

HUGE FORCES ENGAGED.
(By Associated Press.)
London, Sept. 9.—With the allies on the offensive against the Germans in the west, a decisive battle raged today from Paris to Verdun.

Three million men are engaged on each side.

In the east the Russians are reported continuing their successes against the Austrians, while in East Prussia they advanced sixty miles beyond Konigsberg.

Internal conditions in Austria-Hungary are reported grave and another Russian success is expected to unite all the Slav States against the dual monarchy.

The Romanians are frantic with excitement.

The Austrian army is openly mutinous.

Austria is bankrupt.
Little is known of the progress of the fighting in the east today, but a significant announcement came from Bordeaux that the ministry have every reason to expect the government stay there will be short.

The German precipitating progress left the men fatigued and harassed. The turning movement proved a grave error, as no junction was effected with the Crown Prince's command and the allies continue to batter the retreating forces.

The only hope of the Germans, now too long deferred, is rescue by the northern army.

The allies are trying to detach the German right and then annihilate it. A Switzerland dispatch says the Germans have evacuated Upper Alsace.

Berlin is not so optimistic today, and is anxiously watching the east, where Russia's two million men are menacing the Empire's heart.

Roumania has two hundred thousand veterans ready to aid Russia.

With Austria facing revolution at home, Germany is transferring her veterans to stem the Cossacks' march to Berlin.

Two German merchantmen have been sunk in the Atlantic.

Austria offered the Polish Jews political equality if they would turn against Russia.

A state of siege has been proclaimed along the Holland coast.

Russians Win Complete Victory.
(By Associated Press.)
Rome, Sept. 9.—A Petrograd dispatch says the great battle at Rawa, northwest of Lemberg, is over. The Russians won a complete victory. The Austrians are retiring everywhere and have evacuated Russian Poland. Among the prisoners were many Germans.

Servians Defeat Austrians.

India Troops Turned Tide.
(By Associated Press.)
London, Sept. 9.—For the first time the British announcement says the situation is "very satisfactory." It is learned Lord Kitchener's "unknown factor," which so altered the situation at the front, was the arrival of troops from India, probably sixty thousand.

TEXAS LEAGUE HAS NO PENNANT WINNER

Throwing Out of Seven-Inning Games Leaves Houston and Waco Tied—No Play-off.

Waco, Tex., Sept. 9.—"No one can make me believe that I won the pennant, but I feel that I should have won it, and if Houston gets any satisfaction out of that, she's welcome to it. I don't want to win on technicalities."

This is the way Ellis Hardy, manager of the Waco baseball team, expressed himself yesterday afternoon, when informed that President W. R. Davidson of the Texas League had thrown out the game won by Houston from Austin at Houston June 28.

The other games thrown out are: Game won by San Antonio at Beaumont, September 6.

Games won by Dallas from Austin at Dallas, September 2 and 3.

Game won by Galveston from Austin at Galveston, August 16.

President Davidson based his decision on rule 22.

The official figures for Waco and Houston, with the first game won by Houston on June 28 eliminated, are: Waco—Won 102, lost 50, percentage .670.
