Six Years Old—

Friday was the sixth anniversary of Master Elbert Daly's birth, and in celebration of the occasion numerous friends and playmates gathered at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Daly, Jr., to participate in the honors of his birthday.

The lawn was very pretty in adornment for the occasion, with roses and foliage and flowering plants, the white and pink motif being emphasized in all the appointments. The large stretch of green lawn presented a beautiful sight, with the bright and happy faces of the children, all engaged in rollicking games and merry sports peculiar to the tender years of youth.

A peanut hunt entertained the larger children and a bulb contest gave joy to the smaller guests. At the conclusion Mary Lois Boyett received a hand made handkerchief, Ed Hoffman a knife; Sarah Boyett an organdy collar, and Hendrix Conway a gold clasp.

The final pleasure was a feast of ice cream, confections and cake, which was served on the lawn, and during this period the large white birthday cake, surmounted by six pink candles in pink rose holders, was cut amidst much merriment. As a result of cutting the emblems, Wava Martin cut the ring, Annie Bell Higgs the dime, Pauline McCullough the button, and Master John Daly, Jr., the nickel. Four souvenirs, white silken bags were filled with candy and tied with pink ribbon.

Master Elbert was the recipient of many useful and pretty remembrances which showed his popularity among his friends.

Miss Ethel Williams, who will spend this winter in Bryan, was on this occasion paid a pretty courtesy, when Mrs. Daly invited a number of girls of her age to meet her. During the afternoon she was presented with a dainty souvenir.

Mrs. Daly's efforts to make all have a good time were abundantly successful and at a late hour the little guests departed after thanking her for the good time she had made possible for them.

Young-DeMaret Marriage.

Lloyd Young of Blooming Grove and Miss Helen DeMaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. DeMaret of Bryan, were married last night at 6 o'clock at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Sam Webb, Jr., 3503 Lindenwood avenue, Highland Park, the Rev. Charles Clingman reading the ring service ceremony. A buffet supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Young left for their home at Ploominz Grove.—The Dallas News, September 13, 1916.

Bryan friends of this young couple will be interested in reading the above item. Miss DeMaret, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. DeMaret, was reared in Bryan and has been prominent both in church and social circles. She is possessed of a rarely sweet and captivating personality and an unaffected graciousness and cordiality of manner which have endeared her to a host of friends.

Mr. Young is well remembered in Bryan. He was quite a popular student of A. and M. College. It was during this time that the acquaintance of the two young people began, and, passing the stage of general interest, the friendship developed into that of ## mutual love.

The marriage was one of marked interest to a large circle of friends over the State, and this was beautifully testified in the elegant array of wedding gifts received, speaking the affectionate consideration for the contracting parties.

Celebrated Seventh Birthday—
A summons to a birthday party brought more than fifty little guests to the attractive J. W. Doremus home last Saturday afternoon, laden with natal day remembrances for dear little John Hoffman. All little faces were flushed with expectation of enjoyment which childish intuition told them was in store.

At the door each arrival was met by the manly host, who stood with his mother, Mrs. Ozelle Hoffman, and his grandmother, Mrs. Doremus, and quickly were they initiated into the pleasures lavishly prepared. On the spacious shaded lawn all the games which magically bring the glow of happiness into a little one's face were indulged in. During the course of the afternoon all the participants were requested to draw for the souvenirs and Miss Selma Levy was the lucky girl receiving a box of candy. Master Ervin Conway secured the boys' gift, a knife.

After the serving of ice cream cones, the birthday cake, with its seven candles in rose holders, surrounded by a wreath of flowers, was cut from a table placed on the lawn. The cake cutting furnished great merriment and gave Jane Oliver the thimble and Kate Parker the dime.

At a late hour the guests departed, after voicing their appreciation of a delightful time.

Surprise Birthday Party—

On Tuesday morning Mrs. S. J. Bain was pleasantly reminded of her birthday and very happily surprised when a number of her friends came in a body and gave greetings on the anniversary of her birth.

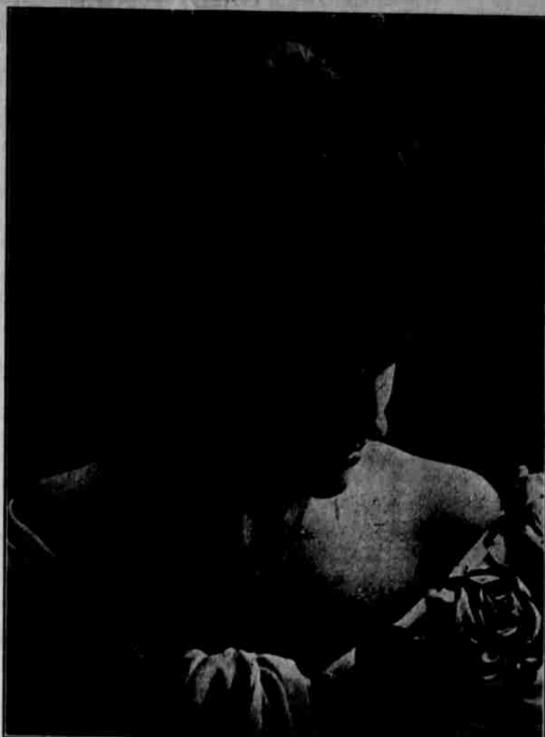

At the noon hour a delicious lunch, which the guests had so thoughtfully prepared, was served in the dining room.

The day was pleasantly enjoyed by the guests in conversation, each having fancy work for diversion, and the occasion was one of great cordiality among the friends. Mrs. Bain was remembered with many tokens of the occasion, and for these she very graciously thanked each donor. Those present were Mesdames S. B. Holman, J. S. Doan, E. J. Fountain, M. B. Parker and George Adams.

Complimented Miss Marion Clark—
Miss Marion Clark, a bright and attractive young girl of Austin, who has been a pleasant guest of Mrs. J. M. Lawrence the past week, was on Wednesday afternoon complimented by her hostess with a picture show party.

After the assembling of the guests they occupied seats together at the Dixie Theater, and immediately following the pleasures of the movies they were invited to a popular cream parlor, where they enjoyed a refreshing ice cream course served with cake. Besides Mrs. Lawrence and her guest, Mrs. F. M. Hall of Austin, the personnel of the party included Misses Marion Clark, Mattie Mike, Juliette Castles, Vivian and Elizabeth Sanders, Louise Cline, Dorothy Ettie, and Mrs. Robert Mawhinney and mother.

MISS LOUISE CALDWELL,
Teacher of Voice and Piano, Bryan High School.

Very definite requirements are to be met in case of every opening which comes in the Bryan schools in order to give the very best to be had in the way of opportunities to Bryan children. This was illustrated in the case of a recent vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Bruel. To find a teacher combining the desired combination of choir leader and soloist in addition to piano instruction and, at the same time, one of high attainments and that easy, graceful manner which means so much in the training of young people, at first thought seemed a difficult task. The Bryan trustees, however, do not stop short of the end in view when it means the best for the schools, and they are congratulating themselves and the public on the successful termination of their careful investigations in this instance.

In securing Miss Louise Caldwell as one of the teachers for the Bryan schools, the trustees have made a definite progressive step, and have made possible certain advanced movements in the schools.

The new teacher is a Bryan girl and formerly attended the Bryan schools. She is a graduate of voice under Mrs. Holt-Versel, one of the very best voice teachers to be found anywhere. She also had a thorough course in piano under unusually efficient teachers, spending a number of years in attaining the high rank which she holds in that line of work.

Mrs. Versel says of her: "Her vocal ability enables her to fill successfully any place, be it for church or concert work. She has a rich, vibrant soprano voice with dramatic possibilities, and has sung with great success in the conservatory concerts."

The late Mrs. Kidd-Key, writing under date of March 3, 1916, says of her: "She is especially adapted as a choir leader and soloist." Then she adds, what Bryan already knows, "Miss Caldwell not only has a beautiful voice, but is a refined, charming young lady of pleasing personality."

Little Louise, a few short years ago, a delightful pupil in the Bryan public schools—Miss Caldwell, who has worked her way to fame in the musical world—one and the same person, has a cordial welcome to her home town, to her home school and to the position she has been called to fill.

Notes and Personals—

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg hospitably entertained with a barbecue in the Brazos Bottom. A large assemblage of friends motored out from Bryan and Caldwell. A beautifully laden table comprising barbecue and the season's delicacies were heartily enjoyed and a most joyous evening was spent by the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. John Herrington have returned from Madison, Wis., where Mr. Herrington took a course of study at the university. They visited other places of interest during the summer.

Mrs. F. M. Hall and granddaughter, Miss Marion Clark, returned to Austin today after a delightful visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lawrence.

Mrs. Robert Mawhinney and mother, Mrs. Stone, have returned from an extended visit to relatives in Chicago.

McCLUNG JOINS UNCLE SAM'S REVENUE FORCE.

Prof. W. S. McClung, formerly principal in the Amarillo public schools, and later identified with banking interests at Panhandle, has accepted an assignment in the Internal Revenue department of the United States and will be stationed in San Antonio.

Soon after his assignment Mr. McClung left for Tamaletown, where he will be joined by Mrs. McClung within a few days.

Prior to coming to Amarillo Prof. and Mrs. McClung were identified with the public schools of Hereford. They resigned that connection and Prof. McClung became principal of one of the schools here. Later he resigned and entered banking.

The many friends of this popular couple wish for them much of prosperity in San Antonio, where they will be located for a time at least.—Amarillo News.

Prof. McClung was formerly a Brazos county boy and is a brother of Mrs. J. G. Minkert of this city. He was eligible to appointment to the above position by reason of having creditably passed the civil service examination for custom house duty, having made the highest grade of any applicant in Texas.

ARCTIC EXPLORER DIED.

Death of Member of Stefansson Party Was Fourteenth to Occur.

(By Associated Press.)

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 16.—A letter from Lorne Knight, a member of the crew of the Stefansson power boat Polar Bear, dated April 28 and written in a camp on the west coast of Banks Island, Arctic ocean, reports that Second Engineer Jones of the Polar Bear died of heart disease last November, this being the fourteenth death in the Stefansson expedition since it left Victoria in June 1913.

Jones' frozen body was buried late in April.

MRS. KEY PIONEER IN TEXAS COLLEGES

School Will Continue With Same Faculty and Same Policies as During Her Life Time.

Sherman, Texas, Sept. 15.—Following the death of Mrs. Key it was announced by the board of trustees of the institution that Edwin Kidd and Mrs. Holt Versel will continue in charge of the business management, and that Mrs. Maggie Barry, who has been with the school since its foundation by Mrs. Key, and Dr. James O. Leath, who has been working under Mrs. Key for several years, will act jointly as associate principals. Prof. E. F. Powell will continue as chairman of the faculty and Miss Bilger as presiding teacher. Hans Richard, as director of the conservatory, will be assisted by Ralph Leopold, Pettis Pipes, Frank Renard and others. Mrs. Holt Versel and Louis Versel will continue as directors of the department of voice. In a word, the entire faculty, which for so long has been associated with Mrs. Key, will continue in charge of their various departments, so that there will be no disturbance whatsoever in the conduct and operation of the school. The work for the year as arranged by Mrs. Key will be carried forward without change or interruption.

One of Pioneer Educators of State.
Mrs. Key had been for a long time one of the unique and phenomenal figures among the pioneer educators of the Southwest. Starting as an unwilling president of a small and unknown school which, because of its indebtedness, had been closed for two years, in something more than 25 years she established and developed one of the largest institutions for the exclusive education of girls in this section of America.

Before marriage Mrs. Key was Miss Lucy Anne Thornton of the aristocratic Thornton family of Versailles, Ky. She was first married to Dr. Henry Kidd of Yazoo, Miss. At the death of Dr. Kidd, with several small children looking to her for sustenance, she became connected with Whitworth College at Brookhaven, Miss. It was there she received her first experience as manager of a school.

While at Whitworth her eminent ability as an educator was recognized by the late Bishop Galloway. He recommended her for the position of president of the North Texas College at Sherman.

With characteristic courage Mrs. Key journeyed to Texas in the summer of 1888 to undertake her new duties. The North Texas College then consisted of two small frame dormitories and a tiny, antiquated brick chapel at the edge of the small village of Sherman. It was deserted and desolated by a vacancy of two years. Mrs. Key at once began the rounds of the Methodist conferences in Texas and Oklahoma, making personal solicitations for pupils and funds. Her first student was Georgia Bonner, now Mrs. Tom Flint of Dallas. Many of her journeys were made by stage and old-fashioned coaches, and the howls of wolves in lonely settlements in what was then the Indian Territory often struck terror to her heart.

Married to Bishop Key.
In 1892 she was married to Bishop Joseph S. Key of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Galloway, who journeyed from Mississippi to preside over the marriage.

"Politician, isn't he?" "Oh, no, he's a statesman." "Well, what's the difference?" "A statesman, my dear cheap, is one who is in politics because he has money. A politician is one who has money because he is in politics."—Boston Transcript.
