WEATHER BULLETIN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent Sept. 26 to 30, warm wave 25 to 29, cool wave 28 to Oct. 2. Temperatures will make a great fall near Sept. 22 to Oct. 1 and during the life of this storm; temperatures will go very low Oct. 1 and killing frosts will go farther south than usual. A large amount of rain is expected with this storm and much soil will be put in good condition for winter grain. But you should consult Foster's Weather Bureau before sowing. This storm will be of greater intensity than usual in great central valleys.

The next warm wave will reach Vancouver about Oct. 1 and temperatures will rise on all the Pacific coast. It will cross crest of Rockies by close of Oct. 2, plains section 3, meridian 90, great lakes and Ohio valleys 4, eastern sections 5, reaching Newfoundland about Oct. 6. Storm will follow about one day behind warm wave and cool wave about one day behind storm wave.

This storm will bring excessively hot weather and those sections that do not get frosts near Oct. 1 will probably not get frosts before Oct. 12. The average line of first killing frosts for Oct. 1 runs from southwestern Nebraska by way of Des Moines, Alpena, Mich., then across Southern Ontario and a little north of Eastport, Maine. The waters of the great lakes are slow in cooling and the frosts, particularly on the east side of them, come much later than on the west of them.

Character of October weather will not materially change from that of September, except a little colder. In a general way the locations of October rains will be much the same as that of September. The fall months promise fine weather for winter grain, but farmers should not get too enthusiastic about wheat.

The greatest storms of October will be near the 24th. Great storms will continually grow less in force to the end of 1917, except that one very dangerous storm period will occur near November 12, 1917. Other features of next year's weather will be more radical and more important than its storms.

We are not in favor of abolishing the Chicago Board of Trade, but it should be regulated by Congress. The railroad corporations are controlled by Congress to some extent, and why not control, within reasonable limits, the Chicago wheat pit, where they set the prices on the producer's and consumer's grain? If there is no manipulation, why oppose investigation? We are of the opinion that 1917 will bring to us the fairest markets of many years. The eyes of the country are on the manipulators.

The greatest problem before us at this time is, "When will the European war close?" When it does close cotton will probably not go down, but there certainly will be great danger that grain will go much lower. We constantly study the grain and cotton markets in order that we may write intelligently for the producers.

Another thousand years of dark ages threatens Europe and the whole world of man is now being impressed by that danger. All mankind is immensely interested and we feel that the great slaughter cannot long continue.

A Woman's Way.

Cornelius Vanderbilt said in a recent argument on preparedness:

"They who would rely on a volunteer militia instead of on a conscript army know as little about real preparedness as the lady about tobacco."

"Why," said the lady, "it's all nonsense to say a woman can't buy her husband's cigars. As for me, I never have the least difficulty."

"No? What is your system?" she was asked.

"I just take along a sample stump," she said, "and there's never the least trouble about matching the shade."

All women are consistent, but the majority of them refuse to work at it. Being good is very monotonous if it shuts off our innocent amusements.

PRIZE WINNING DEXTER CATTLE

Famous Herd of Late August A. Busch to Be Brought to Texas.

COTTON PALACE IN WACO PLACE

Never Before Exhibited Anywhere in South—Excel World in Fine Quality of Meat and Rich Milk—Bevo Ponies to Be Shown.

Waco, Texas.—The directors of the Cotton Palace are delighted over the fact that, through the efforts of G. H. Luedde, they have been able to secure the famous herd of prize winning Dexter cattle, owned by August A. Busch of St. Louis. These cattle will be one of the most interesting exhibits in the live stock department of the Cotton Palace. Thoroughbred Dexters have never before been exhibited anywhere in the South. Mr. Busch has the distinction of being the only man in America who owns any considerable herd of these famous animals.

The Dexter is known as the diminutive Irish cattle that excel the world in the production of a fine quality of meat and rich milk. The origin of the Dexter is somewhat obscure. It is probably a member of the celebrated Kerry family of cattle, as the two breeds are similar in many respects. Its small size and proportionately small cost of production, will undoubtedly arouse the interest of Texas cattle raisers. The smallness of this breed of cattle will be realized when it is stated that the bulls at maturity never weigh more than 500 pounds, while the cows weigh considerably less. The average height of these animals is thirty-six inches. They are stocky and beefy, being built somewhat on the bungalow style of architecture.

In addition to securing his wonderful cattle for the Cotton Palace, Mr. Luedde has also prevailed upon Mr. Busch to enter his world-famous Bevo ponies. These celebrated ponies are all of one size and color. They are all an even forty-two inches high. In fact they are perfect matches in every detail. They will be shown in harness; four-in-hand, six-in-hand and tandem.

The increase in the interest in the live stock department of the Cotton Palace is one of the biggest surprises of the year.

NEWSPAPER MEN WILL CHOOSE THEIR OWN DAY

Texas Cotton Palace Gives Them Opportunity to Express Preference—Lavish Entertainment Promised.

Waco, Texas, Aug.—Press day at the Cotton Palace will again be one of the prominent features of the exposition. The newspaper men of the state, accompanied by their wives and sweethearts, will all be in Waco on that day as the guests of the Cotton Palace.

Everything will be done by the people of Waco, and the officers of the exposition, to make their visit a pleasant one.

In addition to being dined to the limit, the entire exposition will be turned over to them to do with as they please.

In order to make it as convenient as possible for the makers of the news papers, it has been decided to give the editors of Texas the privilege of selecting their own day at the exposition.

A complete program of the entire fifteen days of the exposition will be sent to every editor in the state within a short time. In this way each editor will be able to select the day that looks best to him and vote accordingly.

NUMEROUS NEW FEATURES IN WOMAN'S DEPARTMENT

Waco Ladies Exerting Strenuous Efforts to Eclipse All Past Cotton Palace Achievements.

Waco, Texas.—A large portion of the success of the Cotton Palace is attributed to the loyal and unselfish work of the ladies of Waco. They feel that the exposition is something that belongs to them. They are proud of it. They have seen it grow from a modest beginning until it has now become one of the big institutions of the state. Without the valuable assistance of the ladies, the Cotton Palace could never have grown to its present magnificent proportions.

The good ladies are already devoting much of their time to the planning of new and interesting features for the exposition when it opens to the public on Nov. 4. The chairmen in charge of the various departments are determined to far excel all previous displays.

Each chairman was selected by the president of the exposition on account of their especial fitness for that particular line of work.

Mrs. J. S. Hill will have charge of all exhibits in the women's department. Mrs. J. W. Hale will have charge of Woman's day, which is always considered one of the biggest days of the show. The children's entertainment will be in the capable hands of Mrs. George W. Cole. The Better Babies contest will be conducted by Mrs. Charles Ivy. The ladies will also have charge of County School day.

INTEREST IN QUEEN'S BALL

Waco, Texas, Aug.—No event at the Cotton Palace attracts larger crowds than the celebrated Queen's ball. This has grown to be one of the big social affairs of Texas. It is a noted function among the leading people of the state. It will be much more elaborate this year than heretofore.

Duchesses and their courts will soon be selected from at least forty different Texas cities.

GERMAN DAY AT COTTON PALACE.

Waco, Texas.—Following their usual custom, the Germans of Texas will have a day at the exposition. Thursday, Nov. 16, has been named as their day.

COMPREHENSIVE EXHIBIT OF THE FINEST POULTRY

Cotton Palace Show at Waco Will Prove Interesting to Bird Fanciers From All Over State.

Waco, Texas.—No one attending the Cotton Palace can afford to miss the big poultry show. It will be the most comprehensive exhibit of every kind of bird under the sun, that can be found at any exposition. None but the highest class of experts are employed in the poultry department, thus insuring proper care and intelligent judgment of the birds.

The Cotton Palace poultry show has won a reputation for immensity and fairness all over the country. Fanciers from all over the state have already made arrangements for entering their exhibits in the show which opens Nov. 4. Hundreds of applications from well known fanciers living in other states have also been received. It is possible that the present poultry building will have to be enlarged to accommodate the increasing demand for space.

The premiums offered in this department are much larger than are usually offered at fairs and expositions. A blue ribbon won at the poultry show of the Cotton Palace means something big. A postal card request to the secretary for a premium list will receive prompt attention.
