LIBRARY BENEFIT WEDNESDAY.

On account of the power being off last Friday the library benefit picture which was to have been shown at the Queen was not given, but instead will be given Wednesday, October 18th. The show, "Sally in Our Alley," is one of the very best attractions of today. Several teachers in the city schools have informed Miss Willie Rogers, librarian, that they saw the picture in the East this summer and it is very fine. The picture will be shown both afternoon and night at the Queen and Miss Rogers requests that tickets be purchased from the committee before going to the theater.

DIXIE TONIGHT.

Ibsen's "Pillars of Society" a Strong Indictment of Social Hypocrisy.

It is the pillars of our own small-town or big-town society that are pilloried in "Pillars of Society," the new screen play from Ibsen's drama that introduces Henry Walthall to the Triangle program.

"Our Best People" it might have been called, with the bitter irony that was Ibsen's tool for driving smashing blows at the sham of civilization.

That is the theme of the play, but it is a real play, not a preachment. One sees a group of very human folks, typical of the "best" element in almost any American community, reacting to conditions that might—and very often do—happen in real life. And the result is movingly poignant and convincing. The touch of genius is there in the very simplicity and directness of the thing.

Don't miss this wonderful masterpiece at the Dixie tonight.

At the Queen Tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, in the six reel photoplay written around the eventful romance of their own lives, will be the one big novel attraction of the present season at the Queen tomorrow. Hundreds of people in this city have heard and read about this wonderful couple who created all the modern dances and they will never be seen in this city in person, but a splendid chance will be given to local people to study them at close range and the entire true story of their lives will be unfolded from the time Mrs. Castle, a wealthy society girl, met Vernon Castle, a chorus singer, and eloped to Paris, where, upon the point of starvation, they fortunately were given a chance to demonstrate their own dances and won fame and fortune in a single night. The dancing in the picture is never to be forgotten, as they dance all of their popular creations and Mrs. Castle will be seen in an array of gowns that will fill the ladies' hearts with joy. Special musical arrangement for this great six reel revelation will be played on the pipe organ by Prof. Saunders.

"Do you wait for inspiration before writing your novels?" we asked the distinguished poet. "Not at all," he replied. "I merely wait for the advance check from my publishers."—New York World.

The blush is beautiful, but it is sometimes inconvenient.—Goldoni.

COLE-WEBSTER.

Quite a surprise was sprung on the friends of Miss Nell Webster and Mr. Robert Cole Saturday afternoon when the announcement was made that they were to be married. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Webster, on Houston avenue and 23rd street, by Rev. C. T. Tally, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Miss Webster is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Webster and has resided in this city for several months with her brother, J. R. Webster, and family. She is an accomplished young lady and her charming disposition and lovable character have won for her many friends during her stay in Bryan. Mr. Cole is an industrious young man who is connected with the Eagle Printing Company, having come to this city several months ago from West, Texas. He is a young man who makes friends easily and his character and conduct are above reproach.

The Eagle congratulates these young people and bespeaks for them a happy and prosperous journey through life together.
