HELP THE SOLDIERS HOME.

The ladies of Brenham should go to work with their usual characteristic zeal to do something for the Soldiers Home at Austin. The ladies of Hempstead, with Mrs. F. W. Zadov as president, have organized a society for this purpose and propose to give entertainments through the month of October for the purpose of raising funds for the Home. This is about as good a way to raise money for charitable purposes as could be suggested and with the talent that could be brought into requisition here, the ladies with a united effort, and the assistance of some of their male friends, could get up some entertainments during the month of October, which has been designated as Soldiers Home month, that would be entertaining to the citizens and materially swell the scant fund of this deserving institution. There are numbers of battle scarred old veterans, who through misfortune and disability are without a place to call home and have placed their names on the long list of applicants seeking rest, from the battle with the world for bread, awaiting the death of some comrade that they may have a ward in the Home. At present they are told "no more room. Wait!" They are waiting kind citizens, generous souls. Waiting for the generous response that is expected from all over the State when the people know the necessity of the Home. It needs encouragement and if the State can't afford the amount the people should.

In the district court here a day or two ago Elder Williams was tried on a charge of assault with intent to murder, the complaint having been made some time since by Austin Flewellen. They had a difficulty in which Williams shot at Flewellen. In giving in his evidence, Flewellen testified that he was advancing on Williams with an axe with the intention of striking him with it. He had evidently made up with his antagonist and wanted to clear him, and in doing so got himself in the same attitude that Williams had been in. Williams was acquitted and Flewellen held on the same charge on his own testimony, to him an unexpected turn. He will be tried next Monday.

Take Care? There is Danger

In allowing inactivity of the kidneys to grow through neglect. The deadly aches of Bright's disease and diabetes will wreck the goodly bark of health if it is allowed to drift heedless upon them. The bladder, too, if inactive, and judicious medication does not speedily direct the hind toward the port of safety, will be whelmed by the quicksand of disease. In selecting a diuretic, let your choice fall upon Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the renal organs without irritating and exciting them, two effects to be apprehended from the unmedicated stimuli largely resorted to. These have a tendency to react prejudicially. The Bitters invigorate the kidneys and bladder, in common with the nerves and the digestive organs, and so afford lasting aid. It also affords dual assistance in preventing and curing intermittent and remittent fever, Billiousness, constipation and rheumatism it also subjugates.
