 EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION—Corner Austin and Vale Sts., Jefferson, Texas.

It is a shame that the quantity of gas that is beneath this section should remain there because the capitalist have not the nerve to go after it.

The educated man is always in demand at a high price. Every young man should fit himself to fill some particular high place. In other words let your ambition stand high up the ladder.

The Tyler Commercial Club by their corresponding secretary, Charles Herndon, has sent the J.M.P. a little pamphlet, entitled, "Testimonials by Fruit and Truck Men of Smith County." It is very interesting and will show that truck growing is a money making business in Smith County.

The light being thrown on the Standard Oil Company in their suit in New York shows that they make one thousand per cent profit on one year's business. This big profit is dug out of the pockets of the people who have to buy gasoline. If this is not a trust, what does it take to constitute a trust?

Attorney General W. B. Hays of Kentucky says Mr. Bryan is 200 years ahead of any statesman. Therefore he must have distanced the country in everything that far also. Suppose we wait until he is caught up with before electing him President. He would be so far ahead he would have forgotten what is needed if elected before he is caught up with.

One gas well would put the town wild. One gas well would more than double the value of the property. One gas well would start the factories this way. One gas well would more than double the population in one year and one man with nerve could bring in this one gas well which would do so much to start everything going some. Will that one man trot himself out and get busy?

Listen! Think! Consider! Stop! Now ask yourself. What are you individually doing to bring in that gas well which will do much for the town. Think again privately and ask yourself the question, what have you done in all your life to rush things along? Don't worry about some one else. Think of self, and see if on close and honest investigation as to what you have done from the view point of public spirit you will not make yourself feel bad? If you don't feel bad, maybe you are in a bad shape Why?

If you understood your needs, if you wanted to change things, if you want capital to come in and invest and put new blood in this section, you would reorganize your commercial club and get ready for a rushing fall trade. Selling a few bales of cotton during the winter, and waiting for cotton to come again is no business. It is on the order of the bear sucking its paw all the winter. You have much to work on if you will only get busy. You can astonish the world. You can do better than that, astonish and astound yourself. See for yourselves. Don't take some one else's word.

The Song of the Hair

There are four verses. Verse 1. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair. Verse 2. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. Verse 3. Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff. Verse 4. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the scalp healthy, and keeps it so. It is a regular hair-food; this is the real secret of its wonderful success.

READ THIS!
 To the Citizens of Jefferson and Marion County:
 I submit herewith a letter from "The Glad Hand," a paper published at San Antonio in the interest of the Five Million Club. In fact it is the official organ of that club. You understand this Five Million Club covers Texas, but the section which has the largest membership in the Club as a matter of fact receive the greatest recognition. I don't know who, if any, in this entire section is a member. This district should by all means have representation in the Club. In fact we should reorganize the Commercial Club and get very busy from this on. All who wish to accept the proposition of the "Glad Hand" can furnish me with their names and I will advise the manager. I place the matter before you, you to be the sole judge of the proposition. I am frank enough to say that I believe all kind of advertising pays. It is up to you to do business or not. Remember this, "air" is about the only absolutely free thing we get these days. W. T. Atkins. San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 12, 1907. W. T. Atkins, Esq., Jefferson, Tex.: Dear Sir: Do you think it would be possible to secure from the membership of your organization as many as 200 subscriptions to the Glad Hand at $1 per year each, with our promise to give to Jefferson during the year not less than two full pages of illustrated writing matter, such as would be satisfactory to your organization, paying special attention to opportunities for investment of capital and location of new industries in your city? These subscriptions need not be paid in advance, but may be paid in monthly, quarterly or semi-annual installments. By this means the organization itself could provide the funds, only asking that the members furnish the addresses of people in other States to whom the publication may be sent. The agreement on the part of your organization to do this would be made contingent upon our ability to secure a list of not less than 10,000 bona fide subscribers before you make first payment, and our further agreement to print and circulate not less than 20,000 copies of each issue. Hoping that you will take immediate action upon this matter, we are Yours very truly,

The Glad Hand,
 A. M. Hartman, Manager.

WHO WILL LEAD.

The South has been solely pressed the past year by wild and uncalled for legislation, which has caused a check in many enterprises, especially railroad building. Unjust tax laws, which hamper the management of large corporations naturally makes capital timid. The business organizations of the State should by resolutions show to the world that any unjust law now on the statute books does not meet with the sanction or approval of the business men of the State. It is within the province of the Five Million Club and other commercial clubs throughout the State, by concert of action, can in a great measure counteract whatever bad influence such laws may have and are having on the investment of capital within the State. Texas cannot afford to lose the advantage gained in the past few years. It is to be hoped that some conservative business organization will take up the question, counteracting whatever bad impression any bad laws passed may have had on any capital seeking investment within the State. The proposition should be fought to a finish. The most glorious day which could come to Texas as will be the day when the world can truthfully point to Texas, as the State in which real conservatism prevails, and where the investment of capital is safe from unjust legislation. When such a spirit prevails then the flow of capital into the State will be beyond the expectation of any one. Railroad building will begin anew, and factories will start up all over the State. Texas needs more capitalists and fewer demagogues.

The JIMPLECUTE does not intend to take any part in the battle now raging between the Madam Editors and State Press. As State Press has displayed great generosity in getting the Madam Editors divided on the great question of how a lady should ride a horse, he evidently does not need any outside assistance. Yet the JIMPLECUTE would like to see the momentous question settled. When this great question affecting woman is finally disposed of, there is another question of more importance which should be taken up by these able debaters and disposed of, and that is the dropping of "Miss" and "Mr." by the young people of the present generation. It is now Martha, Mary, Jane and so on, John, Jack, Pete. This familiarity has become common since the late war. Prior to the sixties in the South every young lady was addressed as "Miss" and the young men as "Mister." If the Madam Editors and State Press can start a crusade which will stop this unpardonable familiarity, they will have done their country a great service. This familiarity smacks too much of the servant girl and is entirely out of place in good society, as taught in the South in the good old days before the war, when such familiarity would have been regarded as an insult.

Believing that you are or soon will be in need of the services of a stenographer or bookkeeper or both, we ask to furnish you with first-class help, for which we make no charge. Do not class our graduates with those of the ordinary business colleges, for if they belonged to that class, we could not have built up our school in seven years to an annual enrollment of 1000 to 1500 students from more than half the States in the Union. We have on our Employment Bureau list some of the very best business firms, lawyers and railroad managers, many of which will employ none but our graduates.

The final examinations given our students of bookkeeping and shorthand are the same as given by the U. S. Civil Service Commission or by the best employment bureaus of this country. Our graduates are so thoroughly trained in practical work that we have never had a single failure by those taking the U. S. Civil Service examination, or the hardest examinations given by an employment bureau, or statutory court reporters examination.

We have a large crowd of students, both men and women from the age of 18 to 45 years from which to select. We have those who are experienced in various lines of business. Write or phone us the kind of help you need, and if we have it we will furnish it free of charge. If we haven't it, we will tell you so frankly.

The effect of Scott's Emulsion on thin, pale children is magical. It makes them plump, rosy, active, happy. It contains Cod Liver Oil, Hypophosphites and Glycerine, to make fat, blood and bone, and so put together that it is easily digested by little folk.

The garden at the Excelsior hotel is a luxuriant in tomatoes, beans, turnip greens, okra and other plants as an early spring garden. All this is done by keeping the grounds and plants well sprinkled with water thrown from sprays and use of city water works. This clearing shows that you can have an abundance of fresh vegetables all the season by the use of plenty of water.
