Prosperous, patriotic and progressive—long live the Galveston News, the best and greatest newspaper in Texas.

The congressional convention should be held either in Galveston or Galveston, on account of superior railroad facilities.

In this issue of the GAZETTE appears the announcement of D. A. Paulus as a candidate for county judge of Lavaca county. Mr. Paulus is well known to the voters of Lavaca County as a man and as a lawyer and it is unnecessary for us to state that he is in every respect well qualified for the position he seeks, and should the people of Lavaca county elect him, we feel confident they would never regret their action. Mr. Paulus announces subject to the democratic party, and holds that the county judge holds, as the head of the financial and other affairs of the county, the same position as does the governor in regard to the state and the president in regard to the nation, and as such it is undemocratic for him to hold more than two terms, and that should the people elect him to this position he will practice what he preaches, and will seek for more than two terms.

Mr. Paulus is willing to meet any opponent in joint debate and discuss the questions of interest to the voters of the county in regard to county matters.

Jonathan Lane.

Strong words in his favor from the Democratic Democracy:

Raised in Fayette county, he has by his indomitable energy and unflinching perseverance won a name which is a position of which he may well be proud. As a lawyer he has no superior at this bar. A hard student with a clear, well trained, logical mind he has been one of the most successful attorneys in the state of Texas. He is an able debater, a good parliamentarian and has had experience in legislative bodies which has fitted him for the position to which he now aspires. He was in the state senate from this district for four years and declined a reelection. While in that body he was looked upon as one of the ablest and most influential members and was one of the most popular senators there. He was one of the young democracy and the young men especially of this district look upon him as their pet and pride. He has ever been a true democrat and has never faltered in his devotion to democratic principles. Bold and courageous in all things, he is always outspoken and says just what he thinks. Democracy never had a more patient champion and he is as true to his words as he is to his principles. By his manly and outspoken conduct he has made some enemies, but his friends are thousands and will do noble work for him in the coming canvass. If nominated, his young friends and old ones will back to his standard and will, by his leadership, win a grand victory in this congressional district.

In another part of the GAZETTE you will find an article from the pen of Dr. W. H. Lancaster, of Moulton. It will run through three numbers of the GAZETTE and is worthy of the closest study.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

BY CHAR. WELHAUSEN.

For years past, the literature of the country has been filled with discussions of the relations between capital and labor, also of what is termed the silver question. In congress, at public gatherings from the rostrum and the pulpit, these subjects have been ventilated. Capital has been represented as being hostile to organized labor, and detrimental to the people's prosperity. It is also asserted that the free and unlimited coinage of silver is the panacea for all industrial depression, the elixir against business stagnation; further that the volume of the circulating medium is inadequate to transact the legitimate business of the country, because the coinage of silver is restricted, and the government being opposed to the adoption of this financial policy, is held responsible and to blame for all the miseries, which financially and commercially have befallen the country, but as the government to a great extent has caused the unsatisfactory condition under which the people suffer, it follows that it has the power and means to correct them, and to promote prosperity.

The farmers' alliance and by its outgrowth, the populist party have to be credited by having given shape and form to this sentiment, and attempt to revolutionize all recognized principals of the duties and functions of civil government.

The education and the teaching of the masses in this sense, a widespread dissatisfaction, especially of the classes pecuniary less favorably situated must appear incredible, creating a vague and indistinct impression, that a wrong has been committed to them by the government and society, and that relief should come from the government, under these circumstances it is not surprising, that the following of a man, for perhaps of notoriety constituted the leader of the malcontent and unemployed, (Gen. Coxey) assumed such gigantic proportions. They have taken up their march and partly arrived at Washington ostensibly to secure appropriations for the construction of public roads, but being by constitutional principles opposed to manual labor for the purpose to demonstrate to the country at large, and to congress in particular, that their claim for support by the government must be recognized.

If these misguided men have no claim for sympathy, they deserve commiseration. No danger from their gathering is to be apprehended, but if the given causes have led to this effect, their application is essentially dangerous.

(To be continued next week.) The spirit of discontent is present in every section of the United States and the country seems on the verge of a revolution. What the outcome of the present movement will be is almost past conjecture. What the country needs now is a man equal to the emergency, a man able to point out a peaceful solution of the question that is now agitating the American people. It seems almost certain that unless something intervenes, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York will have civil war on their hands within six months. We believe the solution of this question will come from the democratic party and democratic statesmen. The principles of democracy are principles of peace and progress.

Dr. Nave announces himself in favor of Gresham for congress. He says: "Gresham has always stuck to his post and worked faithfully. In my opinion, we cannot afford to change our congressman at this critical time."

To Our Friends, The Consumers.

There are some articles of domestic economy which, though originally of good quality, lose much of their freshness, flavor and vitality by transportation from distant markets, or become stale by long sojourn in warehouses or passing through too many hands.

To remedy this and to insure absolute freshness and purity, we now own and are producing our own brands of BAKING POWDER and ROASTED COFFEE—two articles essential to the comfort and luxury of every household—and we will see that other articles bearing our registered brand (APEX BRAND) are always of the same undoubted excellence and absolutely standard.

We suggest that you call for these goods at your grocer's, and feel assured that you will like them.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying illustration.

Franklin Miles, M. D., L. D., the highly celebrated nerve specialist and author of many medical treatises, on the basis of his long and successful experience, has discovered the truth of the above statements, and his "Restorative Nerve" is prepared so that patients, by its use, can cure all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system. It is a powerful, safe, and reliable medicine, and is in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy, apply to—Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, spasms, hysterical neuralgia, dizziness, vertigo, indigestion, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., at the regular price, $1.00 per bottle, six bottles for $5.00, express prepaid. Restorative Nerve positively contains no opium or any toxic drugs.
