John Lewis of Rockdale is in the city.

J. L. Goodman of Franklin is here today.

John Sloan, the News man, is in the city today.

Constable Moore of Frankston was here last night.

Mrs. G. W. Jameson came home from Rusk at noon.

W. E. Donley, now of Jacksonville, was in the city last night.

Gerson Bedach of Calvert is here to attend the Fox-Well wedding.

Chief of Police Forrest of Jacksonville was in the city last night.

A. P. Moore, the wholesale grocer at Tyler, is in the city today.

Miss Katharine Lee of St. Louis is a guest at the home of her brother, Mr. R. E. Lee.

D. M. Wells, wife and baby, visiting relatives here, will depart for their home at Austin tonight.

The family of Mr. J. L. Johnson, several of whom have been quite sick with fever, are convalescing.

Miss Eva Jarvis of Troupe, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. J. L. Johnson, returned to her home this morning.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee, yesterday morning, a fine girl, weight 9 1/2 pounds. Friend Lee is all smiles over the happy event.

Miss Constance Sarback and Mr. Justin Sarback of Fairbury, Neb., are in the city to attend the Fox-Well wedding tomorrow night.

Rev. E. H. J. Andrews made his regular monthly visit to Huntsville today. He reports work has begun on a building for the Episcopal church down there, and that the corner stone will be laid next week.

Mrs. F. M. Caldwell leaves tonight for Austin, where she will spend a few days with her sister, before proceeding to Houston to join her husband.

The subject for prayermeeting at the Christian church on tomorrow night, "The Wise and Foolish Builders," Matt: 7:24-27. Mr. Turbyfill leader. All are invited. L. D. ANDERSON, Pastor.

The new arrivals at Cooke and Inkle's in patent kid and beaded fancy slippers are all creations of genius. Their three-strap patent kids, Louis heel, party slipper is a new one that is sure to please the most exacting "society belle." See styles in their windows.

Louder Than Words!

Such Evidence of the High Appreciation of...
Knabe, Starr, Richmond and Vose Pianos tells the story of their sterling worth.

JESSE FRENCH PIANO CO.
Luther Harman, Salesman, Palestine.

This cold weather gives zest to the appetite, and the mind is active conjuring up good things to eat. J. S. Temple, grocer, can help the mind along with this work, and can assist the pocket book, too. One thing about Temple's groceries, he sells them so fast that none are allowed to grow stale in stock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rich and Mr. and Mrs. Sol Well will leave this afternoon to attend the nuptials of their granddaughter and sister, Miss Lillie Belle Fox, at Palestine. The groom is from Lincoln, Neb. Both families of the popular couple are among the most prominent in Jewish circles.—Houston Chronicle.

GREAT SUCCESS.

Art Exhibit and Entertainment by Ladies of Catholic Church.

The art exhibit and entertainment by the ladies of the Catholic church, which began at the city hall yesterday, is an unqualified success, and large crowds attended yesterday afternoon, last evening and today.

It is a pride and pleasure to record the fact that Palestine can make an exhibit of art in its several branches of such magnitude. The exhibits are all very creditable, and some of them really magnificent, a further description of which will be given.

The ladies sold great quantities of needle and lace work, much of it having been made by the Catholic sisters, and a magnificent sum has been realized.

The following program was enjoyed last night:

Violin and Piano—Miss Cronin and Mrs. Branagan.
Piano Solo—Miss Stevie Allen.
Vocal Solo—Miss Ethel Word.
Piano—Miss M. Morris.
Piano Solo—Miss B. Weiss.
Vocal Solo—Miss Cronin.

This evening at 4 o'clock a children's matinee is largely attended, and tonight the public is invited to enjoy another program of music, etc.

Miscellaneous.

A clairvoyant was fined $150 yesterday for telling fortunes. Yet President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay are still at large, notwithstanding the second display of second sight that led them to have a naval force all ready for a Panama revolution before it happened.—New York World.

The Pullman Car company made $13,000,000 last year, but even then it is probable that the porters of the company could declare a higher dividend.—Buffalo Times.

A scientist estimates that the earth will last for 100,000,000 years longer. This will give Russia plenty of time to evacuate Manchuria.—Kansas City Star.

Good things to eat can be found at Cooke & McIntyre's, the new grocers. Phone 734. 107-1f

THEATRICAL.

"The Gambler's Daughter," the attraction at the Temple tomorrow evening, will be a sensational melodrama which has scored a big hit in the present theatrical season. No dramatic offering in years has gained the stronghold on the public that this highly exciting play has in so short a time.

There are many stirring scenes, and notably among them is a reproduction exact to the minutest detail of the Chicago Board of Trade on a day of panic, when the heroine becomes the queen of the wheat pit, although her operations are the financial ruin of her father, who is a member of the Board of Trade, and who also surreptitiously conducts a luxurious gambling house on Michigan avenue. It is an exquisite stage picture.

A fine example of the scene painter's art is disclosed in the third act of "Her Only Sin," which will be introduced to local theater-goers under the management of Lincoln J. Carter, on Thursday evening. It shows a bit of old Burges in a walled garden and a rose embowered cottage, with a view of the square beyond and the high topped Bell Tower so famous in history. By a strange coincidence, Mr. Buhler, the artist who executed the painting of this very scene, was at one time an inhabitant of Burges, and so has been able to add a touch of local coloring not to be copied from the hard outlines of photogravure. Indeed, the very cottage which the spectator sees in this scene is reproduced from memory as the one in which Mr. Buhler himself lived in while in the picturesque old Belgian city.

"Are You a Mason?" one of the brightest farce comedies offered to the American public in years, comes to this city on Monday evening, Nov. 23rd. Leo Dietrichstein, author and adapter of at least a dozen recent successes in the big cities, is responsible for the manuscript. It is considered

BREVITIES.

Street cars in Chicago are still being operated under police protection, one line running cars on regular schedule. The strikers are accused of following and assaulting passengers who patronize the company's cars.

On account of smallpox epidemic in Sherman, Texas, the city of Denison has quarantined against that place.

Another big coal mining concern has announced that it will not abide by the findings of the Roosevelt commission.

A movement is well under headway in New York to raise funds for the removal of Russian Jews to the United States.

Report says the patent medicine combine has agreed to refuse to sell to retailers who cut the prices of its products.

In a bloody fight between negroes at a merry making Saturday night near Shreveport, two negroes were killed and two badly wounded.

Property worth several hundred thousand dollars and several lives were lost in the burning of big street car barns at Cleveland, Ohio.

The yellow fever conference at San Antonio favors a speedy lifting of the state's quarantine, which may be acted upon by the quarantine authorities.

King Christian of Denmark is receiving congratulations from all over the world upon his birthday and the 40th anniversary of his accession to the throne.

Captain Oberlin M. Carter, who is serving a term in the Fort Leavenworth military prison, will be released Nov. 28, and it is reported he will seek to recover the money seized by the government.

Judge Watts has ordered a change of venue in the Will Harris murder case at Beaumont on the ground that an impartial trial cannot be secured in Jefferson county.

Uncle Sam to Miss Canada.
I am sorry for you, sister, and I know your case is sad.
And, though mine has been the profit, yet it hurts me most as bad.
And of course I do not blame you if you feel a little sore.
Since my line fence was allowed to run jam up by your back door.

But remember while in anger you defy the motherland
With the threat of independence and your sons unflinching stand
With their bosoms well inflated for a fiercely warlike shout
That your Uncle Sam 'll git you if you don't watch out.

It 'll do you good to whimper, for you've not been vexed by strife
And the things most of us suffer in the nursery of life.
And you've yet to learn that living hasn't quite lost all its joy
Just because some bigger infant has purloined a treasured toy.

There's a hint of future greatness in the music of your sobs,
And I'm glad your heart, unfettered, at the thought of freedom throbs,
And I hope you'll soon feel better; but remember, when you pout,
That your Uncle Sam 'll git you if you don't watch out.
—William Tipton Talbott in Washington Post.

Blankets

This store holds more blankets—good blankets—than all Palestine. There was a reason for such large purchases—but thereby hangs a tale. We are ready however to take another such lot on top of what we own—at the same prices. They are marked to "hurry out"—but for the next week only we offer you fifteen per cent off even those prices.

PALESTINE'S LEADING STORE

one of his best efforts, and for real scintillating bon mots, and deep shafts of satire easily takes front rank in the humorous offerings of our times. Repartee abounds, and seemingly inextricable difficulties are overcome by Amos Bloodgood in his efforts to convince his wife that he has joined the Masons, when he has not. By various pretexts he keeps up the hoax until very near the end of the play. Much against his will, he is induced to attend a lodge social by a bona fide Mason, and there before his wife and friends follows his undoing. The plot adjusts itself naturally, and the final curtain finds him a candidate for Masonic honors.
