Durst-Hamilton.

At 8:30 o'clock last night Mr. Louie Durst and Miss Lorine Hamilton were united in marriage at the First Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Hamlett.

Nearly a thousand friends and admirers of the popular young people were present and witnessed the happy event.

The whole interior of the church was lavishly decorated with flowers of all kinds, and festoons and simlax were suspended about the massive columns. The altar was beautiful in the extreme and taken altogether, it is doubtful if the First Baptist church ever before presented a more charming appearance.

The bridal party was composed of the following, who entered the church in the order named: Messrs. Juan Durst and Jeff Sharp, ushers; Miss Mae Hamilton, sister of the bride, and maid of honor; Misses Azelee Durst, Anna Lou Crutcher, Nellie Baskin and Belle Reviere, bridesmaids, entering the right aisle; Messrs. James Drake, Geo. Mansfield, Hansie Hamilton, Leo Martin, entering the left aisle; the bride entered, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Mark Hamilton, of Palestine, and was met at the altar by the groom and best man, Mr. Robert Irion, who entered at the side of the altar.

Miss Sadie Rafferty served as flower girl.

Reaching the altar, the bridal party assumed their positions, when Rev. Hamlett, using the beautiful Episcopal ceremony, said the words that united two young lives for time and eternity.

As the bridal party entered the church Mrs. Otto Lang, sister of the groom, sang a solo with her usual sweetness and power.

After the ceremony a reception and dance was tendered the bridal party and Mrs. Otto Lang of Detroit, Mich., at the handsome home of the groom's parents, on East Front street, and the

Threw Rocks at House

Last night about 8 o'clock the police received a phone message to come to a residence on Combination street, and try and capture some one who was throwing rocks at a residence out there. The lady of the house was alone, and was badly frightened. The police responded promptly, but when they got there the mischief maker had gone.

occasion was one of the most elaborate society functions ever given in Tyler.

The bride and groom are two of the most popular young people of Tyler society, and are connected with the oldest families of Tyler and the state of Texas. They were born and reared in Tyler. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hamilton, Sr., and is a young lady of rare accomplishments. She is one of the best musicians in Texas, and possesses a charm of manner that wins for her friends and admirers on all sides. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Durst, and is one of the stalwart young business men of the city. He is industrious and energetic and there is in his make-up those qualities which bespeak a successful business career. He is known to all our people and is a deservedly popular young man.

The couple were the recipients of a vast array of handsome and valuable presents. Among the lot was a complete outfit for housekeeping, save one article, a stove, and when the absence of this valuable necessity was discovered, some friend kindly added one to the list. It is doubtful if a more beautiful display of presents was ever seen in Tyler.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Durst will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, West Ferguson street. However, they expect soon to go to housekeeping.

The Courier joins their many friends in extending heartiest wishes for a long and prosperous journey through life.—Tyler Courier.

Resting Well.

Miss Schnorr, the young lady who was so painfully burned on Wednesday night, an account of which accident was printed in yesterday's Herald, is reported getting along favorably today. Her many friends hope she will speedily recover from her very painful and serious injury.
