The merchant who hustles most has less cause to kick.

Frost has been in the air today. Pretty soon winter time will be with us.

It is just barely not too late to build a good sidewalk. The opportunity will soon be covered with mud and slush. Get busy.

The Herald would like to have a few expressions from intelligent farmers on the cotton mill question. Surely our people must feel some interest in the mill question.

One man has accused Candidate Hughes of looking like a Russian general. Yes, and Candidate Hearst is beginning to look like Field Marshal Oyama. You know what Oyama did to 'em.

The big guns of the Republican party are in New York fighting Hearst to a bitter finish. They evidently consider him not only a Democrat, but a very dangerous one to Republican victory in New York.

The wood proposition is one to disturb the average citizen at this time. Wood is high in price, and hard to get delivered at any price. The trouble is not in any scarcity in wood, but people are so busy with their crops they have no time, seemingly, to haul wood.

It is within the hands of the people of this city to make Palestine one of the best towns in Texas. Nature has been extremely liberal with us, and has done a noble part in surrounding us with splendid natural advantages, but the people must develop these advantages.

Rev. Dr. Crozier in an article published in yesterday's Herald called attention to the splendid manner in which the Hon. T. M. Campbell conducted his late campaign. This was one of the features of our neighbor's campaign that the Herald was pleased to dwell upon at many times. It was something almost new in politics that a man could go through a campaign, meeting opposition, and yet violate none of the ethics of a gentleman. The pity is that more men cannot do the same thing.

WITH THE EXCHANGES.

Hon. John M. Duncan of Tyler has prepared a substitute for the Terrell election law. Well, a substitute is needed.—Dallas Times-Herald.

With Colonel Duncan leading the fight for a new election law, Judge Robertson of Austin for tax reform,

Judge Green of San Antonio for juvenile courts, there is going to be something doing in the next legislature.—San Antonio Express.

Regardless of what his attitude may have been toward the matters which were under discussion before the Democratic executive committee, the News believes that the people of Texas generally will approve and applaud the stand taken by Hon. George A. Robertson, member of the committee from Dallas, against the discussion and consideration of party matters and party business in executive session. In recent years, especially, the people of Texas have shown that they did not approve of secret proceedings, and that in their belief the rank and file of the party were entitled to know what their agents and representatives said and did while acting in a representative capacity. Those members of the committee who brought on the executive session did themselves an injustice, and have given gossips an opportunity to indulge in vain imaginings concerning the proceedings. If they have been spared from very serious criticism, it is because Mr. Robertson gave out a report of the meeting, after having first announced that he would not be gagged and that he proposed to give a report of the proceedings to the public press.—Dallas News.

Star chamber methods never have been and never will be tolerated in Texas. Let the people know what is done and wherefore, otherwise the thing is questionable.—San Antonio Express.

Kaufman county farmers are learning that peanuts can be grown, and grown successfully in Kaufman county soil. Scores of acres were planted in peanuts last year by Kaufman county farmers, and in every instance the result was successful. There are no pests to contend against, the market is always certain and the price good. Those who tried the crop last year are going to increase the acreage next year.—Terrell Transcript.

The same thing is true in this county. The peanut is gaining in respectability.

The McKinney Courier-Gazette gives the following its unqualified endorsement:

This "poem" is from an unknown bard, but the Ottawa Herald vouches for its excellence: "The rose that smells the sweetest is the first to fade. The boy who runs the fastest is the one to soonest fade. The brightest of the evenings has the gloomiest of the dawns. The man who buys the biggest yards must cut the biggest lawns. The apple that is the biggest has the fattest worm of all. The fellow who gets on in life is sure to have a fall. The soup that is the clearest is the first to show the flies. The fellow who would sell the goods must pay to advertise. The hen that lays the largest egg will be the first to set, and things we always hanker for are the last of all we get. The simplest way is always best, and yet we pass it by, to dabble with the thuseled things that fool and catch the eye."

Count Boul refuses to cut the Gordian knot which ties him to Anna Gould unless she restores him to good standing with his creditors. The count may be a fool in some things, but there is no question as to his shrewdness as a financier when he thinks his victim is helpless.—Beaumont Journal.

Social Session.

Ivanhoe Lodge Knights of Pythias held a social session in their Castle Hall last evening, and the program, consisting of addresses and good music, was enjoyed by a good number of brother Knights. This is one of the largest K. of P. lodges in the state, and its membership comprises many of the leading business and professional men of the city, so it is no trouble to get splendid talent on the program on such occasions as the one given last night.

MR. HEARNE RETURNS

And Brings Very Flattering Reports on Florida Tobacco Industry.

President John Hearne of the Board of Trade is home from Florida, where he went with United States Expert Hinson to examine into the tobacco industry of that state. And, he comes home much enthused over what he saw there. He is now preparing a report of his investigations, which will be submitted at a meeting of the Board Thursday night.

Mr. Hearne says that crop is making of the section of Florida he visited a very wealthy country, and that the industry has reached enormous proportions. And, too, he is of the opinion that what is being done there can be done here.

The Herald will endeavor to publish the report he makes to the Board.

HEAVY FREIGHT MOVEMENT.

The International Was Never Taxed As It Is Today.

The great problem that confronts the I. & G. N. today is motive power to move the enormous crops along its lines, and the heavy volume of other freight that is offered it.

Almost every switch along the entire road is blocked with loaded cars awaiting shipment, and though every locomotive and every train crew are worked to their full capacity, they cannot relieve the situation. Because of this congested state, the cars are also greatly in demand. Once loaded it is slow work getting them to their destination, and unloaded. It is reported there are a thousand loaded cars at Spring, awaiting an opportunity to reach the coast with their burdens.

The road has under construction a number of locomotives, but the first of them will not reach Palestine before the first of November, and then they will have to be broken in, which will require further time.

It is a very serious proposition, and one that is hard to solve. It but more fully emphasizes the fact that big crops have been grown, much goods is being bought, and that the country is in a prosperous condition.

"The Clansman"

Manager Swift of the opera house is polishing up the standing room only and free list suspended signs for the visit of "The Clansman" on Monday night, November 5th. The record of the play last year was capacity business throughout the entire season, and those who wish to see it now had better send in their orders at once. The advance sale of seats will open on November 1st, but mail requests sent in advance of that time will be filled in order of their receipt.

Services Well Attended.

The services last night at Grace church were well attended and a good meeting resulted. Rev. Dunn preached from the text, "Cease to Do Evil; Learn to Do Well." A number came forward for prayer during the penitential exercises. Two applied for church membership. A fine spiritual feeling was evident and there is every reason for the meeting to continue to grow in interest. Be sure that you take time to go tonight. "Is It Well With Your Soul?"

The Bijou.

This pretty little theatre opened to good business last night with a new bill for the week. The new pictures are good, and the popular little house will enjoy a good run of business this week. It deserves it.

The Minstrels.

The Dandy Dixie Minstrels played at the Temple Opera House last night to a decidedly top heavy house, and the bill seemed to meet with the approval of the major portion of the audience. Some of the specialties in the second part were very clever.

John Thomas and Company.

The large audience which assembled at the city hall last evening to hear the John Thomas Concert Company was treated to a very superior program. Mr. Thomas is an entertainer of the first magnitude, and the ladies assisting in the program were both accomplished artists. This was the first of a series of seven entertainments to be offered this winter by the Palestine Lyceum Bureau, connected with the Y. M. C. A. Each of the seven attractions are selected because of their superior merit in the various lines of amusements. A large number of season tickets have been sold.

FLUE CURING IMPROVES TOBACCO LIKE ROASTING IMPROVES GREEN COFFEE

Flue Curing Develops the Stimulating Aroma and Taste Found in Schnapps that Satisfies Tobacco Hunger

There are three ways used by farmers for curing and preparing their tobacco for the market; namely, sun cured, air cured and flue cured. The old and cheap way is called air cured; the later discovery and improved way is called flue cured. In flue-curing the tobacco is taken from the field and suspended over intensely hot flues in houses especially built to retain the heat, and there kept in the proper temperature until this curing process develops in the tobacco the stimulating taste and fragrant aroma found in Schnapps tobacco, just as green coffee is made fragrant and stimulating by the roasting process. Only choice selections of this ripe, juicy flue cured leaf, grown in the famous Piedmont country, where the best tobacco grows, are used in Schnapps and other Reynolds' brands of high grade, flue cured tobaccos.

Hundreds of imitation brands are on sale that look like Schnapps; the outside of the imitation plugs of tobacco is flue cured, but the inside is filled with cheap, flimsy, heavily sweetened air cured tobacco; one chew of Schnapps will satisfy tobacco hunger longer than two chews of such tobacco.

Expert tests prove that this flue cured tobacco, grown in the famous Piedmont region, requires and takes less sweetening than any other kind, and has a wholesome, stimulating, satisfying effect on chewers. If the kind of tobacco you are chewing don't satisfy, more than the mere habit of expectorating, stop fooling yourself and chew Schnapps tobacco.

Schnapps is like the tobacco chewers formerly bought costing from 75c. to $1.00 per pound; Schnapps is sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. cuts, strictly 10 and 15 cent plugs.
