MARTIN W. LITTLETON

Is Chief Counsel For the Electric Boat Company, Charged With Improper Influence.

Special to the Herald.

Washington, D. C., March 9.—Martin W. Littleton, chief counsel for Harry Thaw in his last trial, appeared today before the house investigating committee as attorney for the Electric Boat company, charged with using improper influence on congressmen in securing a government contract. The hearing of the charges began this morning.

The rumor is current that should Representative Lilley fail to make good his charges a resolution will be introduced in the house demanding his expulsion. Such a resolution would probably end Lilley's career just at a time when he is about to receive the governorship of his state. Owing to an impression that the congressman has the goods and will make his charges good, members of the house are inclined to await the outcome of the investigation. The result will mean either the disgrace of one or more congressmen or Lilley's expulsion from the house.

BAILEY FLAYS PRESIDENT

Junior Texas Senator Criticises the Aldrich Financial Bill and the Substitute of Culberson.

Special to the Herald.

Washington, D. C., March 9.—Senator Bailey of Texas in a speech today praised President Roosevelt and then flayed him. He said the president was not responsible for the financial panic, but accused him of over-riding the constitution. He said if Roosevelt was much better he would be a democrat, and if he was a little worse he would be obscure. Bailey then criticised the Aldrich financial bill and Senator Culberson's substitute, and advocated his own amendment providing for the issuance of treasury notes instead of national bank circulation as an emergency measure.

WILL BE A FAILURE

Is the Opinion of Former Chief Engineer Stevens of Panama Canal.

Special to the Herald.

New Haven, Conn., March 9.—John E. Stevens, former chief engineer of the Panama Canal, believes the canal will be a failure. Though a great burden of expense to the government, Stevens declares the canal will be of no commercial value when completed. He further declares that the idea of the canal being of advantage in case of war is absurd.

Stevens fixes 1915 as the date for the completion of the canal. He says the canal will be of greater value to European countries than to the United States, and that based on the Suez income it will not earn enough in many years to pay for the expense.

There was no demonstration as Aloisio under strong guard was taken from the jail to the court.

WANTS IT PASSED.

President Roosevelt In Favor of the Aldrich Financial Bill.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—According to a report current tonight on authority which leaves no reason to doubt it, the president has unhesitatingly the big stick in behalf of the Aldrich financial bill. He is said to have summoned Senators Beveridge of Indiana, Nixon of Nevada and Burkett of Nebraska today and told them that they must vote for the Aldrich bill, railroad bonds and all. His argument, according to the report, was that some legislation is imperative to put industry upon its feet, and that the Aldrich bill is the only measure possible of change.

This action, while it betrays the inherent weakness of the Aldrich measure, assures its passage in a form satisfactory to its author. It was very doubtful, as has heretofore been said, whether the railroad bond provision would be sanctioned, even by the senate, while it was certain that without some such commendation as the president has given it, it would be rejected by the house. The president has spoken the word which baptismally cleanses it of what the average politician regards as its original sin.

Hitherto the president has looked rather askance at the Aldrich bill. That he has now come to its rescue may suggest that he has demanded as a consideration, an opportunity for some of those reform bills which are languishing in committee rooms. It was by such a trade that the president made the rate bill possible.
