THE MERRY WIDOW.

Whether or not women should wear hats in church is still agitating promptly put the judicial machinery the public mind. As far as the Herald is concerned the dear ladies are requested to wear their hats, but there should be a limit to the size and height of the church-going hat. A Merry Widow eight feet across is clearly not a member of the church, and is certainly not entitled to five or six pews. It is a lawn party attachment and should always stay out

Women have a method of settling these things according to their own notions, and when the decision does not meet with man's approval, there is no change made in the official program. If women desire to wear a genuine cart-wheel into church man has no alternative but to smile and try to look pleasant.-Weatherford Herald.

The anti-foreign feeling is running high in Mexico. There has always been a feeling of this kind, especially against Amrelcans, and the Mexicans are not altogether to blame. They have some very undesirable Americans there. Of course there are good Americans in Mexico, and their interests should be looked after, but there is a class down there that reflects no cerdit on this country.

writer, born. Died June 27, Austin Correspondent Tells of Execu tive Example and Precedent In the Famous Pierce Case.

(By James Fitzgerald.)

Austin, Texas, June 11.—As stated in a former article on the subject, the belief is well grounded in Austin that Governor Campbell will take every step that the law empowers him to take to secure the return of H. Clay Pierce to Texas to stand trial on the charge of perjury pending against him in Travis county. And it is further believed, surmise and guess work to the contrary, that when once Pierce shall be back within the confines of Texas, the governor will into motion to either prove the oil magnate an innocent man or to be guilty of the charge held against him in Travis county. We know the governor will do this, because he has to answer the indictment pending said he would many, many times since he has been governor. As the Denison Herald remarks, the oil organs may not be overjoyed at the prospect of Mr. Pierce's return to fully bent upon the vindication of the Texas or the assurance that he will law in this instance and in the reget a fair trial when once he shall be brought within the purview of the Texas criminal code; but then, the said organs are oversuspicious and sensitive to a nerve-wrecking point where oil is concerned in the slightest; they have a weakness that way which weakness they invariably manifest on occasions when oleaginous subjects become entangled within the law, physics or divinity to which statement the Denison Herald adds the following indorsement: "Just between us and not for publication, some of the Texas newspapers don't really seem to enjoy that decision of the matter of the state of Texas against Henry Clay Pierce, late of St. Louis, now of New York, and possibly a little later on of some place

Of course the Herald does not say why the said newspapers are disturbed over the action of the supreme court, but the fact that they are disturbed will not deter Governor Campbell from promptly acting in the matter when in his excellency's good trious example and precedent to guide him to a prompt decision

Everybody will recall, that is, everybody who is interested, will recall and energy in the Humphries affair were incited by a determination that Governor Hughes of New York is the criminal laws of the state should murderers would be driven to the Campbell cannot afford to be less vigorous, less prompt, less determinbring the criminal to justice than was Governor Sayers.
