If the immigration agents should determine to bring prospectors to this part of the state, and will show home-seekers what we have here, it will be only a short time until this country is settled with a good class of people.

Whatever else happens to us, however the political fight goes, or whether we have one or two primaries, it is a cinch up to this good hour that we are going to have a good fruit crop, and that peaches and cream will be the official order of business in the good old summer time.

Yep, we have seen the comet, and can guarantee the attraction to any man who will get up at 4 o'clock in the morning and hunt it in the eastern sky. As yet it is not very brilliant.

Before we quarrel with a man let's be sure we understand his position, his acts and his motives. The only way to gauge a man is to take his acts and the things he is doing, not spasmodically, but constantly. The man who fawns on you today and makes great pretensions, may turn on you tomorrow and be your enemy. But the man who goes straight ahead respecting himself and respecting your rights, dealing fairly with all men and bowing to no one, is the man who will be constant and on whom you can depend. Too many men yield to the effusions of the gusher to awake later and find they have placed their confidence in the wrong place. Better abide with the man who treats you as a man and who does not try to play all things to all men.

Thomas Jefferson: "Do not sit up late at night; study and work in the daytime. Rise early and go to bed early. Avoid novel reading and cultivate the companionship of good books. Never tell a lie or stoop to a mean act. Be kind to every living creature. Speak no evil of any one. Be good, adore God, be loyal to friends and love your country better than yourself. Take hold of things by the smooth handle; avoid disputes; do not turn pleasant conversation into heated argument. Too much speaking is not best. Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today. Never spend your money before you have it. Never buy what you do not need because it is cheap. Pride costs more than hunger, thirst and cold. We never repent of having spent too little on our enemies, but too much on our friends."

If I could write one noble song, I heard the poet cry, an anthem clear and bold and strong, too grandly pure to die, I would not care for worldly state—but that's a futile hope; I have to write a hundred-weight of rhymes on Jimson's soap. Could I, the sad musician said, produce one living strain, to haunt the world when I am dead, my soul would know no pain; to have men say the harp was struck by one great master hand! But I must play—it's just my luck—the bass drum in the band. And thus it is and always since Time took up its path, poor foolish man rears up and paws the air in idle wrath. We think in vain for higher things to work and plan and try; unless we have some hand-made wings, we know we cannot fly; and that is why we seldom soar much higher than the grass; we write cheap odes or make a roar on instruments of brass.—Walt Mason.

We have to thank science again for a most important discovery. This writer always takes great interest in scientific questions and rejoices when some great scientific truth is brought out. The latest problem to be solved, and one that we rejoice in, is how the bat prepares to go to sleep. This is a matter about which we have long been concerned and there have been occasions when we could not sleep for worrying about this question, and wondering if the one in our proximity would never go to sleep. But we are relieved now, and know that as a matter of profound truth the bat does go to sleep, and that he makes careful preparation about it. The chief maneuver of the bat on retiring is to close his ears up something after the fashion of a man closing a telescope bag to leave Georgia for Texas, and thus having closed his ears and shut out all sound the bat simply hangs off from a neighborly limb and sleeps away.

The Waco Tribune, edited by our good friend A. R. McCullom, one of the anti leaders of the state, heard Cone Johnson in his speech in Waco last week, and while admitting that the Tyler man made a masterly speech, says the opinion was forced on him that Johnson is a bold politician who wants to be governor. Brother McCullom says Mr. Johnson is a most estimable gentleman, personally, but concludes that he cannot be trusted as a politician. It is a little remarkable that a man of good judgment like the Waco editor will give expression to such an opinion and charge Johnson with being a politician, when it is a matter of record that he has never before asked the people for an office, and when the greatest charge brought against Johnson is that he has never bowed the knee in service to any clique or faction, but has at all times expressed his views, often opposing the strongest faction in the political circle. We submit to Brother McCullom that Johnson has none of the ear-mark characteristics of the politician, has always expressed the opinions of Johnson. One may differ with Johnson, but he cannot be charged with being a professional politician. The records do not substantiate such a charge.

THE MAN.

"Give me the man who can hold on when others let go; who pushes ahead when others turn back; who stiffens up when others weaken; who advances when others retreat; who knows no such words as 'can't' or 'give up,' and I will show you a man who will win in the end, no matter what obstacles confront him."—Orison Swett Marden.

Tonight and Friday unsettled weather; warmer tonight.
Minimum temperature, 58.
Maximum temperature, 80.

Weather Conditions.
The western storm is moving slowly eastward and now overspreads the Rocky mountain states. It has rained during the past twenty-four hours in the Plateau states, the Rocky mountain region, the Plains states, and in North Carolina, Oregon and the Texas Panhandle. Temperature changes have been slight in nearly all sections. Light frost is reported in Illinois and Ohio, and killing frost in Utah. The weather is cloudy in Northern Texas and clear in the southern portion of the state.

Mineral Wealth of Texas.

The exploitation of the mineral wealth of Texas has not by any means kept pace with the development of the other vast resources of the state; in fact, comparatively little has been done in the way of prospecting in many sections. Yet, already there have been found enormous deposits of coal, some of iron, quicksilver, marble and building stone, and the field is a rich one for the prospector, as the underlying stratas of Texas no doubt contain great undiscovered mineral wealth, besides oil and natural gas.—Exchange.

Good Road Notes.

Mr. Roosevelt has well said that the difference between semi-barbarism and civilization is the difference between good and poor means of communication.

Early explorers in Peru found improved highways, one of the military roads being two thousand miles in length, with tunnels through mountains, bridges or ferries over streams, a road twenty feet wide, made of flag stones covered with bitumen.

NOTES OF SPORT.

The Typewriter League.

Several years in the Southern League.

Claude Rossman, the former Detroit first baseman, is playing right field for Columbus.

Four former Atlanta players, Ford, Sweeney, Hughes and Doyle, are with the New York Highlanders.

Doc Newton, a veteran of many baseball campaigns, is pitching for Toronto and getting away with it.

Comiskey is trying to sign Neal, the New Hampshire college catcher.

With so many actors and authors in the game "Bugs" Raymond says that baseball is no occupation for a ball player.

May 19 will be "Duffy" Day at the American League park in Boston. Hugh Duffy and the White Sox will be the attraction.

Joe McGinnity is still the "Iron Man" of old. In the first four days of the season he pitched three games for his Newark team.

Connie Mack will have to cut down his Athletic squad to get within the limit. He is carrying only twenty-three players now.

As a baseball star Johnny Kling has the piano finish, but as a theatrical star John himself admits that he is nothing but a piece of cheese.

If Arthur Devlin keeps up his good work with the stick as the season advances, McGraw will soon be doing a "Highland Fling" all over the Polo grounds.

Robert Addy, who played with Boston in the early '70's, died at Pocatello, Idaho, recently. Addy was one of the first players to slide to a base head first.

Jake Beckley, who has been released by the Kansas City club, will probably manage a team in one of the smaller leagues. Heaps of good baseball in "Old Eagle Eye" yet.

Nap Lajoie has gone back to second and Stovall is again playing first for Cleveland. Manager McGuire didn't think much of the shift, so he switched back to the old order.

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all. Palestine people endorse our claim.

W. B. Burton, living at 302 Palmer street, Palestine, Texas, says: "My kidneys were disordered for a considerable length of time. I had to pass the kidney secretions frequently during the night, and also suffered from pains in the region of my kidneys. One day I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and deciding to try them, procured a box from the Bratton Drug Co. They helped me so much I continued their use until I had taken the contents of two boxes. At the present time I am in better health than I have been for 2 years. I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I ever used."
