

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS

Read Before Daughters of the Confederacy on the Occasion of Jefferson Davis' Birthday.

The following address, prepared by Mrs. A. R. Howard, was read before the Benedette B. Tobin Chapter, U. D. C., on Thursday of last week. The address by Mrs. Howard calls to memory some treasures of history, and we take the liberty of giving it, as it will be interesting to those who had not the pleasure of hearing it:

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

I bring to you today greetings from the Texas Division, U. D. C. I wish to say that I feel it a privilege, as well as an honor, to be with you on this occasion, to commemorate the birth of our one and only president of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis.

This wonderful man whose memory we have come to honor was truly remarkable for many things, but in nothing was he more remarkable than for his broad spirit of devotion to a cause once espoused, and a charity which could recognize good even in those with whom he disagreed.

In his farewell address to the senate, delivered after the state he loved so well had seceded, he said: "I see around me senators with whom I have served long; there have been points of collision, but whatever of offense there has been to me, I leave here. I carry with me no hostile remembrance. Whatever offense I have given, which has not been redressed, or for which satisfaction has not been demanded, I have, senators, in this hour of our parting to offer you my apology for any pain which in heat of discussion, I have inflicted."

Such were the feelings of the man whose memory we revere, and such is the rich heritage he has left us, and surely this example we should endeavor to emulate.

We have also a beautiful living example of such characters in one of your valued members—our one and only past president of Texas Division, U. D. C., our beloved friend, Mrs. D. A. Nunn.

We represent an organization whose chief concern is to honor the memory of the men who served nobly and fell valiantly in the service of the Confederacy, as well as the southern women who bore patiently every hardship and discharged heroically every duty which came to them during the been described as the fairest blossom that springs from the soul, the petals of which are respect, gratitude and kindness, and the man or woman who feels a warm sense of appreciation for kindness received and a desire to do something in return, a love for all mankind, the forgetting of self for the cause represented, forms the constructive force of an organization, but the ungrateful, selfish person may be likened to a lighted powder fuse woven into a fabric, burning a way through and destroying as it goes.

"Then let us take no thought for aught but love and right, Content, if such our fate, to die obscure;

Youth falls and honors; fame may not endure;

And even lofty souls soon weary of delight,

Hold fast to love; be all true men and women ought,

Let neither pleasure tempt nor pain appall;

Who hath this, he hath all things, having naught,

Who hath it not, hath nothing, having all."

Mrs. C. W. H.

MAKE WAR AGAINST RAT

Citizens of Gibson County, Indiana, Observed Today as "Rat Killing Day"—Statewide Movement.

(Herald Special.)

Princeton, Ind., June 6.—War against the pestiferous rat was begun in earnest today in the state, hostilities beginning in Gibson county, where the citizens observed the day as "rat killing day." The movement for the extermination of the rat in this state was originated by J. R. Strickland, a young druggist of Owensville, who is taking great interest in the problem and introduced a bill in the legislature, authorizing townships to pay a small bounty on rat tails. Owing to the rush of bills during the closing days of the session the bill was not passed, but the citizens realizing the importance of the problem, readily supported the plan of waging a wholesale war against the rats which are the cause of enormous damage and a source of constant danger in many of the infested districts of the state. The people of Gibson county were the first to take up the plan in a practical way and today was assigned as rat-killing day throughout the county. Statistics showing the number of rates killed are not yet available, but, judging from the extensive preparations that had been made for the day it is safe to assume that the number of rats in Gibson county was materially reduced today.

Rose Carnival in Portland.

Portland, Ore., June 6.—Rose Festi-today, cheered by their friends and relations who waved hats and handkerchiefs when the three battleships Massachusetts, Indiana and Iowa weighed anchor. For the first time in ten years the middies are going on a foreign cruise, which will take them to Marseilles, Gibraltar and the Azores. They are expected to return to Annapolis about August 29. The entire cruise will cover a distance of nearly ten thousand miles.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Palestine Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes or any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Palestine citizen says:

Mrs. Henry Scott, living at 312 Covert street, Palestine, Texas, says: "I have used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills in the last few months, procuring them from the Bratton Drug Co., and the best of results have followed. I suffered from a dull, bearing down pain across my back and sides and the kidney secretions were also entirely too frequent in passage, and annoyed me all the time. Doan's Kidney Pills have relieved me to a great extent and I can, therefore, recommend them highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Palace on Wheels For President of Buenos Aires

A luxurious railway saloon has been built at Birmingham, England, for the Buenos Aires centenary exhibition. The coach has been constructed for the president of that country and is a gift from the car construction company. The day saloon is furnished in white with green silk panels, the style being that of the Louis XVI. period. The bedroom is finished off most beautifully with a Tynecastle ceiling. The study is fitted with a handsome secretaire bookcase. The saloon contains two bathrooms, fitted with marble wash basins. It is probably the most beautiful railway saloon in the world and far surpasses any royal carriage.
