

STATE FEDERATION SESSIONS WILL BE HELD BIENNIALLY

NATIONAL DELEGATES SELECTED

Interesting Sessions Continue—Musical Program for Tonight

One of the important actions of the Oklahoma State Federation of Women's clubs in convention today was the adoption of an amendment to the state constitution...

An amendment was offered and adopted changing the time of the issuing of the official call to Oct. 15 and Nov. 20.

There was every indication of politics among the delegates when the convention began the work of electing delegates to the national meeting next year at San Francisco.

Seven of the ten delegates to the general federation were elected on the first ballot and the remaining three will be balloted on late this afternoon.

One of the interesting reports of the afternoon session was made by Mrs. John Threadgill on the Educational Loan fund.

Mrs. Adelaide Wade O'Neill was able to be in attendance at the convention late this afternoon.

Reports are heard. During the intermission between the voting and the report of the tellers the reports from the new clubs of the state were heard.

Mrs. Mary Buford, chairman of the art committee, made her report. Several interesting papers and talks were given from this department.

Arrangements have been made to hold the regular session of the convention Friday morning at the Christian church, the musical program to be rendered at the Methodist church.

Delegates Visit College.

Mrs. J. R. Harris, president of the city federation, made arrangements this afternoon for the delegates and officers to visit the Girls' College.

Wednesday Evening Session.

Mrs. U. A. Brown, president of the Fifth District of Federated Clubs of Oklahoma received the gold medal in the literary contest at the state federation meeting last night.

Mrs. Tom Hope of Ada made the presentation speech and explained the rules and regulations of the executive board in the handling of the papers submitted.

Mrs. Mary Wadsworth of Columbia, Mo., gave the principal address of the evening on Shakespeare's women.

The musical numbers of the evening were especially good. Each of the ladies who appeared on the program was brought back for encore numbers.

Wednesday Afternoon Service.

Dr. J. C. Mahr, president of the state board of health, gave an interesting talk before the convention Wednesday afternoon on the subject of the "Inspection of children in the public schools."

Mrs. Mary Buford, chairman of the art committee, made her report. Several interesting papers and talks were given from this department.

MRS. MARY HEROD

PUBLISHERS TO PRISON

Telegram by United Press. New York, Nov. 9.—Lae Sidwell, secretary treasurer of the Columbia Sterling Magazine Company; Bryan Yates, director of the same company, arrested last night, charged with using the mails to defraud, were arraigned this morning and remanded to the Tombs in default of $1,000 bond.

The Beeler ranch is one of the finest in the state, well improved, over 100 acres of it being in alfalfa, while the Griffin property is among the best in the city. Mr. Beeler recently moved to Chickasha from Ninnekah. The deal was made by Driggers & Means and W. T. Phillips.

Frank Orff, of St. Louis, president of the company and John Atkin, counsel, are still in jail awaiting a bond of $15,000 on the same charges. It is charged that they promised quarterly dividends of 2 1/2 per cent from the company's "surplus" and it was discovered there was no surplus but instead a $210,000 deficit.

DR. ALLEN DISCUSSES "DIET AND HEALTH"

"Diet and Health" was the subject of the lecture given before the state Federation of Women's Clubs Wednesday afternoon by Dr. Thomas Allen ofureka Springs, Ark. After a suitable introduction Dr. Allen spoke as follows: "One of the latest and best definitions of disease is, soul repression. "The materialistic physician, who represents one extreme, will admit that disease is suppression, congestion, failure of nutrition through obstruction of the supply of nutritive material or retention of waste in the body or deficiency in the distributing organism; and the mentalist, representing the other extreme, may be induced to admit that a physical organism is necessary as an abode for the soul; that the soul can express itself only through a physical body—on this plane at least—and that as certainly as the physical character of a musical instrument determine the character of the music, so does the expression of the life depend upon the physical character of its instrument, the body. You can not get Stradivarian music without a Stradivarian instrument. "Now the body is built of food. There is not an atom in your body that was not once in the grocery store, except what the milkman supplied, and the little—I hope little—that came from the slaughter house. "No young mind was ever deeper stirred by the story of 'Dare Devil Dick' or 'The Winning of the Beautiful Prince' than mine was, as a lad, by Prof. Tyndall's 'Heat as a Mode of Motion.' Perhaps, in the last analysis there is no matter. It may be that all is motion, vibration. The difference between steam and water and ice is only their differing modes of motion. Life is vibration.
