Bush and Lane Cecilian Player Pianos

As an instrument for individual recreation in the pleasant field of music, as the entertainer for social gatherings, as the orchestra for dancing, as the self-played accompaniment for singing, the player piano fills a real need in the life of every home.

BEAUTIFYING GROUNDS.

Under supervision of Commissioner Jim Robinson, George Hale and son are busy making the court house grounds beautiful. The Bermuda has been cut away from the roof of the shade trees, calla lilies have been embedded in different sections of the grounds and a large flower bed borders the Choctaw avenue front of the lawn. This flower bed will bear the legend, in blooming plants. "Grady County, 1919."

Daily Thought.

There is music, even in the beauty and the silent note which cupid strikes, far sweeter than the sound of an instrument.—Sir Thomas Browne.

NOTICE

The report has been current that the old opera house over the Globe Store, corner Fourth street and Chickasha avenue, has been condemned and is unsafe. The entire building has recently been gone over thoroughly, and post and iron supports placed under the balcony—which was the only part of the building which was unsafe. This work was done under the supervision of Mayor Coffman, and thoroughly inspected by him when finished, and we have his authority for the statement that the building and balcony are absolutely sound and safe.

The building has never been condemned, and the west side of the balcony is the only part of the house which was at any time declared unsafe.

RURAL SCHOOLS OF COUNTY ARE CLOSING

The school at Friend, conducted by Guy M. Wood, as principal, and Mrs. Guy M. Wood as assistant, held its closing exercises for the term yesterday afternoon and evening. An elaborate program was arranged and there was a full attendance of the patrons of the school. Among those attending from Chickasha were County Superintendent Shepard and Dr. G. W. Austin, president of the O. C. W. Dr. Austin delivered an address to the pupils of the school upon educational subjects.

This afternoon, the closing exercises of the Harrold school are being held. This school will close a very successful year under the charge of G. W. Cuthbertson. An interesting program for the occasion was prepared.

Treat in Store for the Boarders. "Ma," queried the small daughter of the boarding housekeeper, "what shall I do with these basting threads?" "Give them to me and I will stir them into the frosting for the coconut cake," said her mother.—Youth's Companion.

General Utility Suit

A suit for the street and general utility is made in a manner that appeals to young women and justifies their judgment. It is new in cut and very smart looking and it looks well in any of the fabrics—including the novel weaves—that have been used for this season's suits.

The skirt is not a new model, but is cut fuller than usual with deep, inverted plaits that extend to the waist line. These are its only distinguishing features. The coat is a novelty, simply and cleverly cut, with raglan sleeves and very full body. At the front a wide overlap terminates at the bust line. The coat fastens here with a half dozen large white bone buttons. Similar rows provide the decorative feature at the front and back and on the sleeves. There is a turnover collar of the material and cuffs similar to it with a plaiting let in at the back of each. As in nearly all other tailored suits an extra collar and cuffs of white organdie, which are detachable, recognize the advent of summertime.

White pique, white satin, embroidered batista and lace appear in collars

First American Lace Plant.
The first lace plant established in the United States was that of the Jennings Lace works in Brooklyn, N. Y., about thirty years ago. Other plants have been established from time to time until now there are about twenty-six factories operating 550 lace machines and employing several thousand persons.

Health Hint.
Eat less meat and more fruits and vegetables, and you will have better health.

As to a Matter of Economy.
Take it year in and year out you will find that a hired girl comes cheaper than medicine and a doctor at the last.—Exchange.

The Habit Chain---

Coffee drinking holds many in its grasp who do not realize that the caffeine in coffee is a subtle, habit-forming drug.

Your family physician can tell you about caffeine.

If not sure whether coffee hurts you, it is easy to find out by quitting it ten days and using

POSTUM

Made only of choice wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses, Postum has a rich, snappy flavor, much like that of mild Java Coffee, but contains no caffeine or other harmful drug.

When you note a "pick-up" in health after the change, then you'll know

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

Postum comes in two forms: The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum needs no boiling—a level teaspoonful in a cup with hot water makes the same delicious drink—instantly. The cost per cup of either kind is about the same.
