If the Cobweb Kingdom's ruler Were a man discreet and wise He would have no cobwebs swaying. Swinging round and catching flies— He would crowd his store with buyers— He would simply ADVERTISE!

A SYMBOL OF HEALTH

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfills its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv. d&w

Costly Chinese Custom.

It is estimated that $10,000,000 worth of gold is destroyed annually by a Chinese custom of burning small pieces of gold leaf on certain anniversaries.

"CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS HAVE DONE WONDERS FOR ME"

"I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble for a number of years, and although I have used a great number of remedies recommended for this complaint, Chamberlain's Tablets is the first medicine that has given me positive and lasting relief," writes Mrs. Anna Kadin, Spencerport, N. Y. "Chamberlain's Tablets have done wonders for me and I value them very highly." Obtainable everywhere.—Adv. d&w

TRAINING MILITIA FOR AIR

United States Has Made Arrangements to Send National Guard Contingent to San Diego.

An announcement of Secretary of War Garrison to the Aero Club of America states that in the near future officers of the flying corps of the militia for the various states will be given training at the United States Army Aviation School at San Diego, Cal. Provision is made for mileage, subsistence and quarters of those who are authorized to attend, but pay from the federal funds during the period of attendance is not authorized.

It is doubtful whether any officers of the militia can be trained at the present time at the school, as it is already so short of aeroplanes that instead of having two or three for each officer pilot, as they have in European countries, a number of army-officers have together only one machine in which to train. Consequently, a number of officers, because of lack of equipment cannot get sufficient practice.

Sixteen states have become interested in the formation of a flying corps through the aero club's efforts and are now ready to take up the work of developing this branch of the service as soon as they can get funds for aeroplanes and for the upkeep of the corps. These states are Arizona, California, Illinois, Iowa, Florida, Maine, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Texas, Vermont and Wisconsin. Several of these states are already provided with aeroplanes. New York has two machines, an aeroplane and a flying boat, the latter for the use of the naval militia.—Popular Science Monthly.

FAMOUS AS FRIEND OF BOERS

Blacksmith Who Refused to Do Work for British Invaders of the Transvaal is Dead.

Dantz papers report the death of Gustav Kohls, an instructor in horse shoeing at the agricultural college of the province of Western Prussia, who became famous during the Boer war. At that time he owned a large black smith shop and horse-shoeing establishment at Graudenz.

One day a horse trader brought over one hundred horses to Kohls' shop to have them shod. The work was almost completed when the blacksmith learned that the horses were to be sent to South Africa to be used in the war against the Boers. "Off with the shoes! We are friends of Boers!" he shouted to his assistants and his order was carried out, despite the violent protests of the owners of the horses. The animals had to be shipped from Graudenz unshod.

The episode became widely known and Kohls received enthusiastic letters of congratulation from all parts of the world. The poet, Paul Fischer, commemorated the action of the blacksmith in a ballad. When General DeWet came to Germany after the South African war he visited Kohls at Graudenz and insisted that the blacksmith accompany him to Berlin, where the Boer hero and his West Prussian sympathizer received tremendous ovations when they drove through the city.

Want Licenses for Cats. Cats were lauded in the highest terms and criticized in a forceful manner during the annual battle royal of cat lovers and cat haters, which was waged before the Massachusetts legislative committee on agriculture, over the "cat bill," the Boston Post states. This measure provides that cats must be licensed and wear collars in Boston if they would meander about without being shot.

A large group of women turned out to pay tribute to "pussy," while among those who would license family mousers the masculine persuasion greatly predominated. Those who favored the bill called "pussy" a thief, a destroyer of valuable birds and property, etc., etc., while those who opposed it credited it with defending children from rats, a lovable pet, etc., etc., etc.
