State committeeman—Melton 1858, Stacy 785.

Fuller and Moore were nominated as justices of the peace, Fuller with 413 votes and Moore 410.

Filippo and Reese were nominated for constable, Filippo 561, Reese 507, and Chilton, who was defeated, 499.

Held Bible Class.

Those who entered the mayor's office at one particular hour yesterday might have come to the conclusion that a Bible Class was pursuing its weekly labors, with disappointed candidates as members.

It happened that several of those who "also ran" had congregated at the city hall to get final returns from belated boxes when his honor was seized with a happy thought.

"Say, you fellows," said Mayor Coffman trying to console the disappointed ones, "there's no use of all of you zotting around here moping all day long. There's the New Testament. Each of you sit down and read a verse out of it. It will do you good."

And then began a biblical pursuit which interested the group for a quarter of an hour. Jim Dillon lead off with a verse which gave him cheer, but it was nothing compared with the verse which fell to Swan, which, interpreted by the young assistant attorney, showed him clearly that it was his Christian duty to try again.

Dews also found food for reflection in his statement of Scripture but Judge Vance suffered from a violation of the rule. The men had been asked to read only a single verse. Vance, although six votes ahead of Moore in the last report which he had received in the race for justice of the peace, read the Bible for luck but instead of one verse he read an entire chapter.

The violation of this point of etiquette cost him dearly for scarcely had he completed the concluding lines when he learned that Judge Moore's vote had advanced to a place which placed him in the lead by 24 votes.

But it was a merry time which followed.

MARCHES CALMLY TO SCAFFOLD

"I Die For My Country" Were Last Words of Sir Roger Casement Before His Execution at 9 o'Clock Today

ACCOMPANIED BY TWO CATHOLIC PRIESTS

Noted Irish Leader Shows No Signs of Breakdown and Did Not Lose Hope of Reprieve Till Last Night

By United Press.

London, August 3.—Sir Roger Casement, who was convicted of treason in connection with recent Irish revolts, was hanged at Pentonville prison at 9 o'clock this morning and was cut down ten minutes later.

"I die for my country," were the Irish leader's last words.

Only a few officials witnessed the hanging but a large crowd waited outside of the jail. When the bell tolled announcing the law's satisfaction a few cheers were heard intermixed with groans.

Several Irish women attempted a demonstration but were driven away by guards.

Sir Roger went calmly to his death, attended by two Catholic priests. He appeared to be slightly nervous when he left his cell but there were no signs of a breakdown and he smiled gravely at the guard, remarking, "It's a beautiful morning."

Casement expected a reprieve or a commutation of his sentence up to last night but when darkness came he realized that there was no hope.

By United Press.

Washington, August 3.—President Wilson today asked for a conference with Commissioner Chambers of the federal board of mediation and conciliation, presumably to discuss the threatened strike of the four big brotherhoods of railroad men which would cause a nation-wide tie-up of transportation.

Trainmen say they will not arbitrate and the railroads refuse to yield. Should the president demand arbitration he would face the resentment of several hundred thousand laboring men. If he fails to bring about arbitration he will face paralyzed transportation system, resulting in tremendous business confusion and suffering.

Administration officials and representatives of railroads and labor are pessimistic over a possible agreement being reached when the brotherhoods committee and railroad officials resume their conference in New York on August 8.

NEGRO HOME MINED.

By United Press.

Dallas, Tex., August 3.—A gunpowder bomb exploded under the home of William Connor, a negro living in the restricted district in Deers Park suburb this morning. His wife and two children escaped injury. Connor fled a week ago when the white residents of that district ordered him to move.

RECEIPTS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Income of Chickasha Postoffice in July 25 Percent Greater Than in July Last Year

By United Press.

Denver, Colo., August 3.—Miss Anne Martin, chairman of the woman's party, today told the United Press that if the Democrats fail to pass the federal suffrage amendment the influence of the woman's party and hundreds of thousands of dollars would be cast in favor of Hughes.

A flattering report for the month of July has just been forwarded by Postmaster Barefoot to the postoffice department at Washington.

This report shows the total receipts for the month to be $2978 as against $2372 for July, 1915, an increase of over 25 per cent. The increase for the last twelve months has been gradual.

As postal receipts reflect the business activity of a community Chickasha is shown to be in a very flourishing condition.

WIFE AND HOME ARE BURNED

The home of B. C. Berry at 1927 Minnesota avenue, was burned to the ground and his wife is in bed with a badly burned arm and on the verge of nervous prostration, all the result of the explosion of a gasoline stove.

When Mrs. Berry struck a match to light the stove preparatory to getting supper yesterday evening the explosion occurred. Fire caught her apron and she received some bad burns on the arm before she could put it out.

She was alone in the house and before she could call help and receive aid from the fire department, the house was too far gone to save.

The eight room, two-story residence belonged to J. T. Hill and was insured. Practically nothing was saved and the loss of furniture, clothes and other personal belongings amounted to about $1000. The contents were not insured. The house was valued at $2800, insurance $1200.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry and two children are staying at the home of W. R. Lacey, 227 East Alabama, where Mrs. Berry is under the care of a physician. Her mother, Mrs. W. T. Doyett of Ardmore, is expected to arrive in Chickasha this evening.

Norfolk, Va., August 3.—The German submarine Deutschland is now boring her way safely through the Atlantic ocean, having safely passed the allied patrol and headed for her home port, Bremen.

Reports which were received at Hampton Roads this morning indicate that the elusive ship has not poked her head above water since becoming submerged near the Virginia capes last night. At that time the nearest British warship was five miles distant, according to the tug Jimmie which accompanied the submarine as far as the capes.

EXCITING TOURNEY TOMORROW

An El Reno-Chickasha golf tournament, in which only twelve of the best players from the two clubs will play, is scheduled for tomorrow in this city. Players having the same handicaps will be matched against one another.

The visitors who will arrive on the morning train will be met with autos and taken to the club. The morning will probably be devoted to practice and the matches played in the afternoon. Luncheon will be served at the club at noon and dinner at six o'clock. Members not playing may reserve plates in advance.

GRATEFUL TO FRIENDS

Of all the winning candidates in the primary election Tuesday, perhaps none were happier or more appreciative for support than Mrs. Edna T. Watkins, nominated for court clerk. Mrs. Watkins issued the following statement:

To my friends and supporters: I take this method of extending to you my heartiest gratitude for your untiring efforts in my behalf. I am not entitled to any credit for my recent victory, but am according you all credit. It shall be my constant aim throughout my administration to manifest my appreciation and to give you an honest, courteous and efficient administration.

Gratefully yours, Edna T. Watkins.

FIGHTING AT VERDUN

London, August 3.—Fighting around Verdun again takes the center place of interest. Berlin admits the French attacks have penetrated the German lines there at three points. French reports indicate a movement almost of the proportions of a general offensive.

London, August 3.—The French forces today advanced materially south of Fleury, taking 700 prisoners.

REVIVAL AT POCASSET.

Pocasset, Okla., August 2.—At the Methodist church in Pocasset a series of revival services was begun about two weeks ago and is in progress now. Rev. I. W. Armstrong of Anadarko is assisting the pastor, Rev. A. B. Waldrip, by this meeting. From the very outset there has been a deep interest in the meeting. The members of the Baptist church have lined up and are working in all possible earnestness with the Methodist folks. Last Sunday was a great day when nine young people were baptized and received into the church. Mr. Armstrong preached two strong, convincing sermons Sunday and held a service for the children Sunday afternoon. During the first week there were over fifteen conversions.

Next Monday night a series of services will begin at the Gilbert school house, five miles from Chickasha, which will be conducted by Rev. Armstrong. This is a fine section of the country and great results are looked for. This meeting will last probably a week or ten days. The meeting here at Pocasset will close Sunday night. Rev. Armstrong will be at Verdun some time during September.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Oklahoma. Tonight and Friday, generally fair.

Local Temperature. During 24 hours ending 3 p. m. today: Maximum, 91; minimum, 72.

CEMENT BOY DIES.

Lester Wagoner of Cement, who was brought to Chickasha yesterday for medical treatment, died last night. The lad was twelve years old. The remains were shipped to Cement this morning and funeral services held this afternoon.

Mrs. Clarence Atkinson and two children and brother, Joe Phillips of Roswell, N. M., arrived in Chickasha yesterday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hill and others.

ANOTHER AIRRAID ON ENGLAND

Half Dozen Zeppelins Visit Eastern Counties Dropping Many Bombs But Doing Little Damage

ANOTHER UNARMED VESSEL IS SUNK

Not Determined Whether Britannica is Big Liner or Smaller Vessel; French Make Averages

By United Press.

London, August 3.—Little damage was done by the German air raid on eastern counties this morning, the fourth within a week.

According to first official reports six or seven Zeppelins dropped a great number of bombs. It is claimed they were badly damaged by anti-aircraft guns.

The Britannica Sunk. London, August 3.—The liner Britannica which was sunk last night, the admiralty today announced was unarmed. Lloyd's register lists three vessels of that name, one a huge White Star liner of 47,000 tons, and the others much smaller. It is not known here which ship was sunk or whether the vessel was submarined or mined.
