SUSPICIOUS POSITION AT STUDY

The child's attitude at study indicates whether he is putting forth unusual exertion or suffering from eye strain. The slightest indication of abnormal demands on the nerve centers should be observed by teachers and parents.

Nervous exhaustion and progress in study seldom go together in the same child.

Our special methods of analysis go to the bottom of eye strain difficulties and the consequent disturbance of the memory centers.

The entertainment given by the Ionine school Friday evening was a most enjoyable social occasion. It was the first time the pulpit had seen the new two-room school house and a general feeling of satisfaction permeated the entire crowd. Misses Cooper and Winder deserve great credit for the skillful manner in which the program was rendered. Considering that school began but four weeks ago—it was surprising that a flag drill and songs by the school could be given with such exactness. Supt. Shepard made a talk in his usual pleasant style in which he praised the Ionine patrons for their efforts toward a higher education for their children. At the close Mr. Winder apportioned the amount of $48. This will be used for basket ball apparatus and for improving the playground.
