

CAPITOL COMPLETION DELAYED

State House May Not Be Ready Until January 1, 1914.

The contract between the Stewart Construction company and the Utah Consolidated Stone company, submitted to the state people several days ago, was signed Friday of last week and returned to the construction company. The officials of the construction company forwarded it east and it will not become operative until approved by the board of the company.

Because the Stewart company has asked a delay of six months, it is probable that the new state house will not be completed by July 1, 1914, as planned, but about January 1, 1914. C. S. Tingey, secretary of the capitol commission, states that while official extension of time has not been granted the Stewart company, he believes that this will be given.

Officials of the Utah Consolidated Stone company say that they have asked for no extension of time, but as the Stewart company is to receive six months' grace, they expect a share.

UINTA BASIN FAIR WILL BE HELD AT FT. DUCHESNE

The second annual Uinta basin fair will be held at Ft. Duchesne, September 18-21, and then the products on exhibition will be sent to the Utah state fair. At the end of the week a conference of the Mormon church members in that vicinity will be held, and the following Monday the government will auction choice lands.

The Sun Dance opera, produced in Vernal last spring, may be given at the Utah state fair this fall. Indians from the reservation will be the principal actors.

FIFTY-EIGHT CREMATED.

BINGHAMTON N. Y., July 22.—Fifty-eight persons were killed, according to late estimates, and many injured, a dozen or more mortally, in a fire which swept the four-story factory building of the Binghamton Clothing company this afternoon. The victims chiefly were women and girls.

Early tonight twenty-six bodies had been recovered. In the city hospital and in private institutions are thirty injured. Some two-score persons are known to have escaped, as by a miracle, from the building, which burst into flames like a tinderbox and became a roaring furnace almost immediately after the first alarm was sounded. About a hundred and twenty-five persons were in the factory when the fire broke out. Three unaccounted for, or most of them, are believed to be still in the red-hot ruins of the structure.

Around the scene of the fire district, the greatest the city ever has known, thousands watched the workers in the glare of three big searchlights, many in the great throng being restrained only by the closely drawn police from rushing into the ruins to seek the bodies of relatives or friends.

GIVE SETTLERS A VOICE IN FOREST GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—Home rule, in part at least, for the users of national forests, is the policy which has been adopted by Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture. In an order issued today he granted to settlers and other users of government forest land the right to a voice in forest government.

The regulation provides that whenever an association is organized "whose membership includes a majority of the local residents using a national forest, with a like purpose, the secretary shall appoint a committee, which on application to the district forester may be recognized in an advisory capacity on behalf of the association."

Further these associations are to receive notice of proposed action and have an opportunity to be heard by the local forester in reference to any proposed changes likely to affect materially their use of the forests.

PRAISE UTAH HOSPITALITY.

The travelers, dusty and tired as they were when they arrived in Salt Lake Friday afternoon, were profuse in their praise of Utah hospitality. "We never saw anything like it," said one of the party, "and everywhere we were loaded with fruit, the most delicious we ever tasted. At Spanish Fork seventy-five pretty girls were lined across the street to stop us. We weren't scheduled to stop, but how could we help it with a reception like that? And the girls gave us so much fruit that when we arrived in Provo very few could eat luncheon." Members of the party declared that the people along the line deserved great credit for the road work they are doing. They remarked especially about Price canyon, the party being the first to go through there after the splendid work of the citizens of Price to get it in shape.—Tribune.

GOVERNMENT CLERKS MUST PAY OR LOSE THEIR JOBS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—Clerks in the government departments either must pay their debts or relinquish their jobs. The latest department to emphasize this order is the war department and an order signed by Secretary Garrison is being handed to all the employees today. The order says that "creditors and collectors will be denied access to employees" during office hours, and adds:

"But the department will not permit itself to be used as a collection agency. It will not consider as its employees any one who contracts a debt and then without sufficient excuse neglects to make payment."

It was denied at the department that there was any epidemic of bad debts among the employees there, and the statement was made that the order, an old one, merely was called to the attention of the clerks. Similar regulations are in force in the departments of state, agriculture, navy, interior and commerce, but they are not considered so drastic in effect as the interpretation of the order issued today by Secretary Garrison.
