

PRICE AND VICINITY

J. C. Barton of Mt. Pleasant was a visitor in Price the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Emma Pace of Mt. Pleasant was among the relatives who attended the funeral of Judge Dixon last Friday.

Am. Coates of Mt. Pleasant passed through Price last Thursday en route to Castle Dale, where he attended the funeral of the late Judge Dixon.

The city council has decided to put in two additional hydrants, one at the corner of Fourth and H streets and one at the corner of Sixth and K.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Kirkpatrick left Tuesday for their new home at Castle Gate, where Mr. Kirkpatrick will be in the employ of the Utah Fuel company.

Luce & Hunter, W. H. Luce and A. H. Hunter, is the name of a new real estate office formed this week. The office of the company will be in the Wade block.

L. Evans, brother-in-law of Jack James, went up Sunday to see how Mr. James was progressing and reports that his condition is very favorable for his complete recovery.

At a meeting of the city council Tuesday night Mrs. M. W. Millburn was appointed a member of the library board to succeed Mrs. C. C. McWhitney, who resigned recently.

Dr. J. J. Dorwell, ophthalmic specialist of Salt Lake, will be at the Mathis Hotel Wednesday and Thursday, December 3 and 10. No charge for testing eyes. References—Adv.

While the content of the recent election at Price and Helper has not been filed as yet, one of the attorneys in the matter, B. A. King, advises The Advocate that it will be during the week.

As a result of the railroad company having taken off the night operator at the local depot, E. M. Peyton has accepted a similar position at Harrison, Ida., and left for that place last Tuesday.

Albert Heintz, who was operated upon recently in Salt Lake, returned home Monday with his mother. The young man is in excellent health since his operation and from which he has wholly recovered.

Another restaurant firm comes into existence this week—Leonard Bevan and Fritz Larson, who will conduct one eating house in the basement of the Miller building and another in the Price Club saloon.

There seems to be little news in the Price postmaster scrap with the exception. The Advocate understands that State Commissioner Wallace and State Chairman Thurman have decided to support W. E. Olson for the position.

Mrs. Wallace Lowry returned to Price last Saturday from Salt Lake City, where she attended her sister, Miss Mabel Walker, during her operation at the L. D. S. Hospital. Miss Walker is recovering rapidly but will be in the hospital for several weeks yet.

The county commissioners, Randolph and Sharp, held a short session Monday. Little business was transacted and no bills passed upon. The meeting was held for the purpose of answering correspondence which had accumulated during the campaign and had gone over from time to time.

Sheep in the desert country are reported to be suffering from the long dry period and many sheepmen are being obliged to move their flocks great distances in order to get water. There has not been the slightest precipitation on the desert since the flocks were moved to their winter range.

Mr. and Mrs. Horner have put in a very large assortment this year and request shoppers to drop into their place of business and look over what they have to offer for the young people as well as the older folks.

The government still insists that it is going to move its Price postoffice and a dispatch from Washington in Sunday's Deseret News states that it will be located on the north side of Main street between Seventh and Eighth. H. J. Turner, however, is equally insistent that Uncle Sam cannot have his building for quarters.

Owing to our large stock of seasonal gifts for the holidays we anticipate quite a rush from now on, and would advise all desiring articles to be engraved, to purchase early, giving us time to do our best in this respect. Look for the invitations announcing home economics girls' dance Friday, December 4. Prizes given to best lady and gentleman waiters. Prize for the most popular lady. Each ticket purchased entitles the holder to ten votes voting places at eleven o'clock, refreshments served in the domestic science cafeteria, nothing over ten cents.

A complete list of the books at the Carnegie library and their donors will be published in next week's Advocate. Miss Mathis, the librarian, reports that there have been about sixteen books donated by local people with no record of their names. The givers will be given credit for their generosity if they will hand in their names to the librarian.

Harry Ackerman and family returned the first of the week from a visit with Mrs. Ackerman's relatives at Levan. After an inspection of other towns in the state Mr. Ackerman believes that Price is not only the "biggest little city," but the best little city on earth. Conditions here, he says, are far ahead of those in any of the other places he visited.

There are some new babies in town. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marquess are rejoicing over the arrival last Friday of a fine boy at their household. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Guitze's home was made happy last week with a girl. There is also a fine new baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Dunlevy and another at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. West. The new arrivals and their mothers are all getting along splendidly.

The first issue of the Carbon appears this week. It is probably the neatest in typographical appearance yet gotten out by the high school students having the paper in charge. The editorial staff is composed of Carl Allison, Agnes MacLean and Glenn Harmon. Milton Olson is the business manager and Bryan Olson is the circulation and advertising manager. Zella Paunett '15, Walter Lee '16, Grace Paunett '17 and Arthur Brown '18 are the class reporters. The issue is quite liberally patronized by local advertisers.

Prompt Action Will Stop Your Cough. When you first catch a cold (often indicated by a sneeze or cough), break it up at once. The idea that "it does not matter" often leads to serious complications. The remedy which immediately and easily penetrates the lining of the throat is the kind demanded. Dr. King's New Discovery soothes the irritation, loosens the phlegm. You feel better at once. Attack Mormon Church. Pittsburgh, Dec. 1.—Attacks on the Mormon church were the feature of the concluding day's session of the National Reform association today. The afternoon session was given over to anti-Mormon and anti-polygamy speeches. Speaking on "Mormonism Commercial," the Rev. J. B. Martin of Pittsburgh, superintendent of the association, declared the Mormon church was "the most arrogant, the most deep-rooted and the most dangerous of all monopolies."

Mrs. J. F. Dieffenderfer of Erie, Pa., characterized the Mormon church as a "system of Mohammedanism—merely a theocracy, now a despotism." That Mormons are still polygamous was the declaration of Mrs. A. M. Snow of Kallida, O. The Rev. Dr. John H. Harris of Pittsburgh denounced the Mormon church as a menacing political machine and Bishop T. C. Carter of Chattanooga, Tenn., declared the Mormon church was antagonistic toward the United States government.

Addresses were delivered by the Rev. W. I. Wishart and W. M. Rochester of Toronto, Canada.

Officers of the association were elected.

Mrs. McClain's Experience With Croup. "When my boy, Roy, was small he was subject to croup, and I was always alarmed at such times. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy proved far better than any other for this trouble. It always relieved him quickly. PRICE BUSINESS MEN NEED HAVE NO FEAR

Considerable apprehension has been manifested by the business men of Price on account of their inability to procure war-tax stamps. A dispatch from Washington, however, would indicate that in view of inadequate provisions made for those affected by the new tax no fear need be entertained by them but that they will be justly dealt with by the department. The dispatch in question, which bears the date of December 10, follows:

Internal revenue collectors throughout the country had notice today from the government's revenue bureau that the government does not intend to procure anyone subject to the war revenue law who shows a willingness and readiness to buy the new stamps. The notice was sent to allow four on the part of thousands of persons all over the country who yesterday besieged the internal revenue offices in attempts to obtain revenue stamps to comply with the law and who, because of their inability to do so, became frightened over what might happen in the event they were not on the minute with the stamping.

No Need of Anxiety.

There was no need for such fears and this was made clear in a telegram which Commissioner Osborn of the internal revenue bureau sent to all collectors. The telegram was in response to frantic calls from collectors who told of crowds rushing their offices demanding stamps and it was hoped by officials today that the notice would relieve the situation which gave indications of causing embarrassment to thousands of persons and which also might have resulted in considerable confusion to railroads and shippers.

The telegram is as follows:

"Date all special tax returns November thirtieth until you are able to handle applications promptly, unless you have information that no effort was made to file same prior to that date. If unable to supply demands for documentary stamps for bills of lading, permit shippers to get forward bills of lading and affix or cancel stamps when received. Notify railroads."

Officials Hampered by Congress.

Officials of the internal revenue bureau here explain that while everything possible had been done to get ready to enforce the law, they have been hampered in their work because of the failure of congress to appropriate additional money for that purpose. While the stamps have been shipped away as fast as they could be turned out by the bureau of engraving and printing, failure of some collectors to heed suggestions from Washington that all applicants be given supplies sufficient to last a few days and not be permitted to have large quantities, had complicated the situation.

STORAGE-IN-TRANSIT WOOL RATE SOUGHT

Efforts to secure a storage-in-transit freight rate on wool will be augmented this week by the Commercial club through its committee on new industries. The club is working with the National Woolgrowers' association to secure the establishment of great wool warehouses in Salt Lake.

Preliminary investigations of the rate questions and other matters looking to building wool warehouses are being made by S. D. Tuttle, chairman and other members of the committee, who will report at a meeting to be held at the club Friday noon at 12:30. Since the National Woolgrowers' association has made Salt Lake City the permanent convention seat and headquarters of the organization, the Commercial club and business men generally are eager to see the city the actual market center of the wool industry. It is said that the lack of a storage-in-transit rate is the greatest barrier in the way now.

In connection with the wool warehouses it is proposed to conduct annual sheep shows and sales in Salt Lake, probably at the same time as the woolgrowers' convention is held. The new industries committee will look about for suitable sites for both warehouses and sheep corrals.

HAS PLAN TO SETTLE WESTERN COUNTRY

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—Major F. R. Reed of Boise, Idaho, commissioner from his state to the Panama Pacific exposition, has instituted a movement having for its ultimate object the settlement and cultivation of vast areas of land in western states now virgin to the plow. He has interested officials of the transcontinental railroads in the project and a conference with their representatives will be held here the present week.

Major Reed expects to have the movement well under way by the end of the year. It is the intention of the Idaho commissioner, after obtaining the railroad companies' indorsement of his plan, to bring about a conference of governors of the western states, which will result in a systematized modus operandi. In each state the land available for settlement, whether owned by the federal government, the state or individuals, will be listed, with the terms of payment, etc. If the land must be purchased, instead of being acquired by homestead entry, it will be sought to have the terms of payment extend over a period of fifteen to twenty-five years and to procure free transportation for the prospective settler.

"There are in the western states," said Major Reed today, "millions of acres of fertile land lying idle, while many thousands of industrious Americans would eagerly take up the cultivation of these tracts if only they were given the needed start. With a couple of horses, a cow, some implements and provisions for the first year, they would become self-supporting thereafter. This plan has been tried in Canada with such success that the great northwest has been settled with an excellent class of husbandmen."

What has prevented the settlement of our western country by men of small means has been the difficulty of keeping them on the land until it began to yield returns. I believe that in each state a fund can be raised to tide the settlers over this period, with a capable organization to handle the project. If we can raise large sums for the relief of starving foreigners, we surely should be able to do something for our own people, when the money required would remain right here and be employed in state development."

Land Entry is Cancelled.

Because the DeLores company, which has a $2,000,000 reclamation project involving lands in Utah and Colorado, has been unable to get $4,000,000 to do the necessary development work on its project, the state land board of Utah yesterday cancelled the company's application for temporary segregation of about 200,000 acres of land in southeastern Utah.

The company originally asked for segregation of about 250,000 acres of land, 200,000 in Utah and 50,000 in Colorado.

Under the requirements of the state, it is necessary for a reclamation company to complete certain development work in its projects in a fixed time before an application for temporary segregation can be granted.
