—Mr. and Mrs. Warner Head and daughters, Thelma and Lela, have gone to Payette, Ida., probably to remain permanently.

—Nick Bernardi returned Friday last from California with his mother after visiting both fairs. They report a most enjoyable trip.

—Rev. L. A. Jones is back from Milford, where he filled the Methodist pulpit last Sunday for Rev. Samuel Allison, formerly of Price.

—Mrs. Joe Litzette, who was operated on for appendicitis at Salt Lake City last week, is well on the road to recovery.—Helper Times, 21st.

—Mrs. Peter Barbioglio of Sunnyvale and Mrs. Maud of Somerset, Colo., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barbioglio.—Helper Times, 21st.

—H. W. Dewey, representative of Armour & Co. at Price, was at Grand Junction, Colo., last Saturday on business with the branch house there.

—Miss Bonnie Kennedy departed Wednesday for San Francisco and will take in the two fairs during August, returning to Price by the first of September.

—Mrs. Lars Gunderson and two of the children departed last Monday for an extended visit to Canada, where Mrs. Gunderson has several brothers and sisters residing.

—Bert Lamph and family of Standardville and Mrs. Lillian Mangus of Huntington visited last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lamph, at Cleveland.

—Adolph Hellman and Joseph Feltner left Price Sunday for the exposition in California. Their trip will include a visit to Yellowstone Park and down the coast by boat.

—Miss Ila Larsen went on a short visit to Price this week. Her mother, Mrs. James Larsen, went to Thistle Tuesday to meet her on her return trip.—Mt. Pleasant Pyramid, 10th.

—Master James Looftourne left Friday for Long Beach, Cal., where he will join his mother, Mrs. J. W. Looftourne, and sister, Miss Ruth, who are spending the summer there.

—Miss Irela Millburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Millburn, is at home from a visit to the San Francisco fair in company with Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Woodward of Winter Quarters.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fleisher, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Kahn and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stein, left Price last Saturday for the Pacific Coast. Their home is in the East.

—Harry Geese is here this week from Salt Lake City and will likely remain in Price until after the return of Joseph Feltner, his manager at the Kentucky Liquor House, from a trip West.

—Wallace Lowry, a prominent sheepman of Price, was in Mt. Pleasant Tuesday and Wednesday and while here purchased a fine lot of rams of W. D. Candler.—Mt. Pleasant Pyramid, 10th.

—Tom Averill came over from Fairview and pitched ball for the Price team last Sunday, later spending some time here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Averill, on North Ninth street.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. Fisher of New York City, L. Lovenshain, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stein and Mrs. M. Kahn of Price, were in Helper Tuesday, guests of the Harnberg and Stein families.—Helper Times, 21st.

—W. W. Lewis, the jeweler and optician, left the first of the week for Las Vegas, Nev., instead of Las Vegas, N. M., as stated in last week's Sun. Himself and family are making the trip by automobile.

—Mrs. John H. Pace of Price accompanied Mrs. Lars Gunderson and children to Canada this week. Mrs. Pace has a sister and many friends in that country that she will visit during the coming six weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Woodward of Winter Quarters and Miss Irela Millburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Millburn of Price, were registered at the Utah building of the San Francisco exposition last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cowie, Miss Ruth Cowie and Leland Cowie, who have been spending some time in California, are visiting at present in San Francisco. They will leave for home Thursday.—Salt Lake Telegram, 2d.

—H. C. McKinnon was down from Cameron Tuesday and ordered The Sun to his address. The mines worked full time there last week and every day so far this week. The output averages around four hundred tons daily.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tingler are back from a trip of about three weeks to the Yellowstone section of the former Utah reservation. They had a most delightful outing and enjoyed every minute of the time. Fish were plentiful.

—J. D. Niles was up from Woodside last Saturday and made The Sun a business call. He is figuring to buy a ranch close to that town. The weather down that way is dry and parching, but crop prospects are good notwithstanding.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Naylor of Sunnyside, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Naylor of that county, were Sunday visitors in Emery county. They were over in Emery county, where Samuel Naylor has one of the best farms in Eastern Utah.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Brown of Price, who had intended departing about this time for a trip to California, are not likely to go. Mr. Brown's business connections with the Golden Rule are such that it is impossible for him to leave here at this time.

—Albert B. Hargyle and Lynn Strong are back from Scofield and the upper coal camps, where they were last week looking after the lines of the Eastern Utah Telephone company, which are in good shape generally and the exchanges working well.

—W. E. Tomlinson and J. E. Warner came home this week from Dry Lake and report some cattle dying out that way with blackleg. They have vaccinated all their young stock. Chris Halvorsen also vaccinated his calves.—Green River Dispatch, 25th.

—Judge Ferdinand Erickson stopped over in Price last Wednesday en route to Salt Lake City from Denver, Colo., where he had been for several days on business for Utah Fuel company. With him was E. A. Greenwood, assistant treasurer of that company and cashier at Zion for the Denver and Rio Grande. Mr. Greenwood did not stop in Carbon county, but went on through to Zion.

—Mr. and Mrs. Mark P. Braffet and daughter, Miss Maud, and their sons, Robert and James, are registered at the Cartright Hotel, San Francisco. From visiting the Panama exposition they are to go to San Diego, later visiting relatives elsewhere in the state.

—Eas Anderson was in Price last Saturday from his ranch on Soldier Creek. Much to the surprise of everyone he has been given employment for three teams on the county road work through Soldier Canyon, but he is only one of a very few so far recognized in this respect.

—J. W. McGann, the cigarmaker from Mt. Pleasant, came over to Price last Monday and took several nice orders for his goods while here. He is a hustler and manages to get his share of the business wherever he goes. McGann keeps posted on Eastern Utah affairs by reading The Sun.

—George E. Nelms got back Saturday evening after a three days' trip to Sunnyside. The camp is working on an average of at least five days a week now, while the coke oven employees are getting six days. It is believed it will not be long until the coal trade there picks up considerably.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Crain and Mr. and Mrs. Champlin of Springfield, Mass., were in Helper the latter part of last week, guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Avery. The party were on their way to Yellowstone Park and the Panama exposition. Mr. Avery accompanied them as far as Salt Lake City.—Helper Times, 21st.

—Rev. R. Allison left Wednesday morning for Tooele, where he will conduct an eight days' mission. During his absence Sunday, August 1st, the Methodists of Milford will be favored with the presence of Rev. L. A. Jones, principal of Price academy at Price. Rev. Jones will preach at both the morning and evening services.—Milford News, 10th.

—Don C. Johnston came in from the Nine Mile country last Saturday. He says the road work being done by the county through Soldier Canyon is good and of a substantial nature, but residents there who had a right to expect employment for themselves and their teams are very much disappointed in that most everything is being given to outsiders.

—Robert Howard, inspector of mines for the United States Fuel company, was down from Black Hawk Tuesday and Wednesday attending a meeting of the county school board. Meanwhile, he says, worked six days last week and Black Hawk five. Full time would be given the miners at all three of the company's camps but for the lack of railroad cars.

—Levi Eugene Santachi, Jr., stationed at the Utah Agricultural College at Logan, was quite recently called to San Francisco by the war department to help in the inspection of troops there who are soon to sail for foreign shores. Lieutenant Santachi, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Santachi, Sr., of Black Hawk, will be back at Logan about the 16th of the present month.

—Felix Pressett made a trip in town the other day when the Pressett Bros' stock got sick. It was feared it was the dreaded foot and mouth disease. Several telegrams were sent to the state veterinarian, but they were unanswered. That shows what kind of treatment stockmen here can expect if foot and mouth disease should break out here.—Green River Dispatch, 29th.

—Pete Vignette and Bert Happe went over into the reservation country last Saturday to play ball with Duchesne against the banners at the Pioneer Day celebration at Duchesne, but were not allowed to participate in the game. The banners objected to the Helper battery, alleging that they were "big league players." The boys returned home in time to participate in Sunday's game.—Helper Times, 21st.

—George Pope left Bonnevill last Thursday for Salt Lake City, where he will shortly start with his mother, Mrs. Robert Pope, now 80 years old, for a visit at her girlhood home near Montreal, Can. On his return from the East Pope expects to re-enter business in Duchesne, and if he does will be more energetic and better liked merchant than George Pope.—Reservation (Myton) News, 20th.

—Bishop Samuel Dugmore, accompanied by Mrs. Dugmore, was in Price last Monday on route home from Ferron, where they had been visiting their children, William Dugmore and Mrs. John Leslie, for a week or ten days. They went over there and returned in an automobile, making the trip from Sunnyside over in six hours. Bishop Dugmore owns a good ranch close to Ferron and figures to spend the balance of his days there after he gets too old "to putter around" the coal mines. Crops of all kinds through Emery county where he went are looking fine and one of the very best harvests for many years is guaranteed the people of that portion of Eastern Utah.

—Robert McKune got back from a trip of three weeks to the reservation last Friday, the time being spent in both business and pleasure. His sawmill close to Altonah is working full capacity and finds a ready market for everything that is turned out. At Myton and elsewhere orders are being taken for large quantities of mill material that will keep the mill going for months to come. There are bumper crops everywhere he went and the people are generally prosperous for a new country. Mrs. McKune accompanied him on the trip. The roads are in fairly good condition considering the work done on them and the late rains everywhere. There are lots of Price people out that way on their vacations and many former residents here who have gone there to make homes. All are doing well.

PRICE AND NEARBY

Frank Hill of Wellington has several music students at Elmo that are progressing nicely under his direction.

Mr. and Mrs. John Redd are entertaining a new daughter, now about two weeks old, at their home on North Sixth street.

Mrs. George Novis has closed out her confectionery and news stand in the Eko theater building and will retire from business.

Arthur McKune is suffering from an injury to his right hand, that member having come in contact with an electric fan a few days since.

Willard James of Green River, a brother of Master Mechanic James of Helper, sustained a broken ankle while riding a broncho at Green River last week.

Louis Pressett of the Green River country has recently lost seven head of fine calves from blackleg. He has moved all his stock from Little Valley to Iron Wash.

Mohrland is soon to have a new school building, the plans being drawn by a Provo firm of architects, and are now in the hands of the Emery county board of trustees.

Bert Happe, star pitcher on the Helper ball team, has received an offer from Manager Hienkenship to join the Salt Lake City team in the Coast League. He may accept.

W. C. Brooker is carrying his right arm in a sling. While cranking an automobile the other day he knocked the flesh from a portion of the back of his hand, and this later became infected.

Edward, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Callaway, has a broken arm which he received in a fall the other day while wrestling with one of Mrs. J. H. James' little boys on the lawn at the latter's home.

E. H. Priest, manager of the Western Gypsum company at Denver, writes The Sun that he has been called East from the Colorado capital and will be absent until the latter part of the month. Upon his return he expects to come to Price and begin work on the holdings of his company in the Cedar Mountains.

The Sun's advertising rates are published at the head of the fourth page, first column. All patrons are treated alike. No deviation from these prices. The Sun's subscription books are open to all advertisers. Patrons are invited to The Sun's press room on publication day, that they may actually see the papers printed.

Price's fire department was called out about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to extinguish several blazes in a mature pile at the barn and garage of Elmore Shiner, south of the railroad tracks. The fire caught from sparks from burning wood in the smoketacks of the log plant adjoining. The loss was nothing.

Dr. A. H. Kashiwara of Green River recently bought from E. C. Lee of the Nine Mile section forty-six head of registered Herefords that he will take to his San Rafael ranch about the first of September or when he gets his fences completed. Owing to quarantine conditions the doctor has been unable to get through to Utah several fine head of hogs recently bought in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Frank Mitchell, whose husband was arrested recently in connection with the fire at the Sheep Ranch saloon, has tired of the notoriety and domestic troubles that have come to her at Price, she says, and is leaving this week for Oklahoma. When she comes back, says Mrs. Mitchell, her name will be Miss Nettie Clark. She expects to get a divorce while gone and wants her maiden name back.

Guthell-Brooker have finally closed their deal for the Short building on North Ninth street. It will be connected with their present garage by an archway, while the second floor will be used as living apartments by the families of the two members of the firm. The south room of the short block will be for sales room purposes and the north one for automobile display. Accessories and surplus stock is to be placed in the basement, fifty by eighty feet.

Harry Honts, a tramp printer, has confessed to the police at Salt Lake City that he wrecked the Denver and Rio Grande passenger train east bound out of Springville last Monday afternoon, when six passengers and train employes were more or less injured, an account of which appears elsewhere in this impression of The Sun. Conscience stricken, the man voluntarily gave himself up. He has been identified by Thomas Durg, special agent of the road, as having attempted to wreck a Southern Pacific train a year or so ago. The man is unquestionably demented.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Goetzmann gave a dancing party at their home on North Eighth street last Tuesday evening in compliment to the Misses Meda and Fern Shaw of Salt Lake City, nieces of the hostess. Those present were the Misses Leona Jansen, Cora Allison, Ora Dell Woods, Grace Davis, Evelyn Olson, Vida Bryner, Gladys Nelms, Irla Millburn and Martha Bradley and Messrs. Lynn Faussett, Arnold McKune, Scott Faussett, Tullin Bryner, Will Hensley, Clarence Hubbert, Karl Averill, Fred Woods and Frank Averill. It was one of the very pleasant affairs of the season. Refreshments were served.

H. J. Turner, the leading civil and mining engineer of Price, has an advertisement in this impression of The Sun. Engineer Turner has lately been employed in the work being done in Carbon and Emery counties by the Utah Power and Light company, which shows in what esteem he is held by his professional associates at Salt Lake City and elsewhere—big men, who are doing big things. The Sun's management has known "Bolt" Turner ever since he came to Utah and it has no hesitancy in recommending him to those who want civil engineering and the work in his line done and done right. A letter to his address at Price will always reach him, whether he is in the city at the time or not. Promptness, reliability and honorable dealings are characteristic of "Bolt" Turner.

The society editor of Salt Lake's Telegram tells this one on the daughter of A. H. Cowie, vice president at Salt Lake City of Utah Fuel company: "Miss Ruth Cowie and Jack Hinder of Salt Lake City, who have been visiting at the Senator Kenney ranch at Santa Rosa, Cal., will long remember their visit there. Especially will they remember their leave taking, for they were liberally and plentifully sprinkled with rice before the train pulled out, in spite of their frenzied appeals that they did not deserve the shower and that there was nothing to it. Their appeals were unheeded, however, and bags of celestials' stuff of life were scattered over the station platform, down the backs of the departing ones, and through their various grips and belongings. There were about seven or eight of the practical jokers, and they certainly made things interesting for the two who were leaving."

Miss Ora Dell Woods entertained last Friday evening with a dancing party in honor of the Misses Martha Bradley and Grace Davis of Salt Lake City. The home was attractively decorated in pink and white and the same colors were used in the refreshments. Many words of pink sweet peas further carried out the color scheme. Miss Dorothy McMillan and Miss Marion Forrester presided at the punch table. The young hostess was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. F. E. Woods, with Mr. R. Anderson, Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, Mrs. Doll Faussett and Mrs. T. H. McMillan. About twenty-five young people were present to meet the guests of honor. Those present besides the hostess and guests of honor included Misses Evelyn Olson, Irla Millburn, Marie Fiamaurice, Mame Plack, Bernice Myer, Mildred Hamilton, Ester Ferguson, Vida Bryner, Leona Jansen, Meda Shaw and Messrs. Lynn Faussett, Scott Faussett, Martin Mulvey, Verne Whitmore, Clyde Fullmer, Irving Ward, Huton Bryner, Arthur Brown, Karl Averill, Lloyd Woods and Fred Woods.
