"THE SUN" WOULD APPRECIATE ITS DELINQUENTS PAYING UP PROMPTLY

The price of news print paper has advanced until the product such as The Sun uses costs more than twice what it did a year ago. The Sun is now requesting all its subscribers to pay up their subscriptions and thereby aid The Sun in meeting its exorbitant print paper bills. Many country newspapers, as well as the city publications, are advancing their subscription prices, but The Sun has not resorted to this means of meeting the unparalleled conditions faced by all newspapers.

The Sun, ever since its establishment, has been exceedingly lenient with its subscribers, and believes they will now show their appreciation by paying up what they owe, and that quite many will pay in advance. It is seldom that The Sun duns its patrons in this manner, but it believes those who owe it will appreciate conditions and "come through." The label on each copy of The Sun shows to what date the subscriber has paid.

Subscription money may be sent by personal check, postoffice or express money order or cash by registered letter. Every remittance will be appreciated. "DO IT NOW." The blank paper alone from which The Sun is printed at this time costs around seven hundred and fifty dollars a year. The prediction is it will go still higher.

E. M. BROWN SOON TO CHOOSE NEW LOCATION

A. M. EHLEY BECOMES MANAGER OF THE GOLDEN RULE.

Former goes either to Kansas Or Oklahoma. Where He Will Have a Store of His Own—J. C. Penney Visits Price, Sunday, and Is Well Pleased With Conditions Locally.

J. C. Penney of New York City, president of the company bearing his name and which has around one hundred and seventy stores throughout the West, Northwest and the South, spent Sunday in Price with E. M. Brown, manager of the business here. From Price the gentleman continued on to Salt Lake City and while in that section visited Eureka, Pocatello and other points where he has interests, including several Wyoming towns on the way back to Gotham. "Business conditions everywhere I have been—the East as well as the West—were never better than at this time, and they promise to hold us well for a long time to come," said he to The Sun. "We are especially well pleased with the way things are going at Price. This is one of the very best stores we have in our big chain so far as the business done goes."

E. M. Brown, manager of the Price Golden Rule, leaves here in a couple of weeks for Kansas and Oklahoma on a "prospecting" trip, as it were. In other words, he is to have an interest in one of the Golden Rule establishments and is to pick out his own location. He will be succeeded by A. M. Ehley, who came to Price several months ago from Kansas at the instance of Manager Brown. Roy V. Ott, who formerly was at Price as local manager, is also to have a store, rather an interest in one. He will pick his own location, too. H. A. Norris, who went from Price to Arizona for the J. C. Penney Co., is still with the firm and is said to be doing well both for his employers and himself.

Manager Brown has built up a splendid business for his people at Price and the going of himself and his splendid family will be regretted by very many close friends they have made socially and otherwise during their residence here. A. M. Ehley, the new manager after the first of the year, is a most excellent business man and will unquestionably keep the Golden Rule up to the very high standard maintained in the past.

The Golden Rule has but recently opened forty-five new stores throughout its big territory in addition to the hundred and twenty-five advertised. Printers' ink and correct business methods are two of the secrets of success with the Golden Rule.

INSPECTOR TO PROBE MAIL BOX TAMPERING

C. M. Christianson, postoffice inspector with headquarters at Salt Lake City, is this week in Southeastern Utah. Numerous complaints have been received from that section that the rural free delivery boxes have been tampered with, and Inspector Christianson has been urged to assist the local authorities in apprehending the offenders. The penalty for tampering with these mail boxes is imprisonment for one year or a fine of one thousand dollars or both. Inspector Christianson says the placing of a few of the culprits behind the bars will serve to correct the evil.

HEALTH TESTS ARE TO BE FORCED IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Strict enforcement of the school regulation providing for examination of children for adenoids, faulty teeth and other menaces to health will be required by the state board of health. Vigilance on the part of parents and teachers will be required to protect the academic of children's diseases. Children suffering from cold in the head, coughing, rash, headache, fever or vomiting will be required to stay from school until these symptoms pass. While the male will continue to be the standard draft animal in the South, a gradual substitution of heavy horses on the farms is going on.

STEWART QUILTS TO WORK IN BOX ELDER

IS SUCCEEDED BY COLORADO SCHOOL GENTLEMAN.

Better Salaries, Wider Field of Operations and More Congenial Surroundings Reasons For Change—Has Done Much to Improve Agricultural Interests in This Section.

Prof. Robert H. Stewart of the extension department of the Agricultural College of Utah at Logan has been appointed to the same work in Box Elder county with headquarters at Brigham City, according to announcement made last Saturday by officials of the agricultural college. The appointment is made by the board of county commissioners of Box Elder and the choice of a man for the place was left to the college.

Professor Stewart has for a couple of years directed his attention to this work throughout Carbon and Emery counties, and he leaves here because of a better salary, more congenial surroundings and a greater and more promising field for his line of work. He was highly recommended to the Box Elder commissioners by college extension officials when they began looking around for the best available man for the place.

Professor Stewart during his time throughout the counties of Carbon and Emery has made his home in Price. He has done a good work in his line locally and will be missed not only by many close friends, but by farmers, stockmen, horticulturists and others who have learned to rely on him as an expert and who has at all times been ready to advise and help along with many difficult problems.

The court room in the old court house at Brigham City has been turned over to the farm department of Box Elder county for meeting purposes and a room adjoining will be used as a farmers' reading and room and library. Professor Stewart with his wife is to leave Price about the first of next month for Brigham City to begin a vigorous campaign for improvements on the farm and other important matters.

Professor Stewart's resignation is expected to go in to the commissioners of Carbon and Emery counties at their coming meetings. Professor Stewart is succeeded here by Prof. Wallace Sullivan, who comes from Scott's Bluff, Neb. He is appointed to the place by the agricultural college and is a graduate of the Agricultural College of Colorado. He has been stationed in Nebraska most of the time since leaving school.

Professor and Mrs. Sullivan are expected in Price next week. The former is to be shown over his territory by the present incumbent before the latter goes to Brigham City.

DRY FARMERS OF SOUTH SEEK EXTENSION OF TIME

A. H. Thiesen, section director of the United States weather bureau for Utah at Salt Lake City, has had a number of calls within the last several days from homesteaders, who are proving up on dry farm lands in Southern Utah. Settlers in the Modena district particularly have certified in their affidavits that the climate during the year 1914 was too dry for successful farming. They are basing their application for extension of time for final proof on this statement. "The records of the weather bureau show that precipitation was far below normal in that year, thus supporting the contention of the settlers."
