

From Tuesday's Daily. The H. G. Western depot is being repaired.

THE CHALLENGE.

Democrats Put Up A.D. Gash Against All Comers.

He is Authorized to Meet the Flower of the Republican Flock in Public Discussion.

The Enquirer is still harping upon the creation of its imagination that Mr. A. D. Gash had accepted a challenge from a man named Brannagan...

The city council met last night, but no quorum being present the council adjourned until Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

The slush mill owned by Samuel Liddard turned out 2900 brick yesterday. This is more than any slush mill in this part of the country ever turned out before.

The first game of lawn tennis was played on the tennis grounds last evening and was witnessed by a large number of spectators.

MARRIAGE licenses have been issued to George E. Warren, of Salt Lake, and Mary D. Ross, of Provo; James Warburton and Flora Houtz, of Pleasant Grove.

A MEETING of all the water masters taking water from Provo river will be held at the mouth of Provo canyon tomorrow at 10 o'clock for the purpose of devising means for obtaining more water and having more equal distribution.

MICKEL & Co. are starting to build just north of their present office. The building will be of brick, 2x50 feet, three stories high, and will be used as an office and warehouse.

AN excursion is being arranged between a select party from Provo and another from Pleasant Grove, in all the coming week.

The Liberal meeting fell with a dull and heavy drizzle upon those who witnessed it from outside the hall.

FARMERS who have planted beets for the Utah sugar factory say it is the handsomest crop they have ever grown and many of them think they can be raised without irrigation.

THE chemist engaged by the Lehi sugar company for the purpose of making polariscopic tests to determine the percentage of saccharine in the beets to be purchased this fall has begun to make his report.

ONE of the prisoners in the County Jail yesterday quarreled with the other prisoners and during the day three of them and came off victorious each time.

THE vicinities of the Utah sugar works resembles a tented village. There is a strong resemblance to an army encampment in the number of tents which have been set up.

A COMPOSITOR employed in the District news department named Sam DeRacke left his home in Provo last night, stepped on a piece of glass, which penetrated his foot, causing an ugly gash from which the blood flowed freely.

THE Second ward Republican club held their primary in the Courthouse last night. Delegates were elected to attend the county and district convention to be held Wednesday July 15 as follows:

THE tramps who asked for a change of venue from Justice Brown's court last Saturday were taken to Springville yesterday and tried before Justice Boyer, Messrs. Houtz and Whitecotton presented, and their legal brother tramp defended.

THE Fate of the Missing Men. Victoria, B.C., July 21.—Nothing has yet been heard of the four missing men on which the McKensley bill, as well as the whole doctrine of extreme protection rests. The sugar bounty should be promptly removed, and sugar left on the free list.

EDITORIALS.

FARMERS, LISTEN!

Here are some burning words from the President of the Farmers' Alliance, which state the situation in a nutshell.

"Mr. Chairman: Retrospection in American agriculture means national decline. The power and grandeur of this great country cannot survive the degradation of the American farmer."

"We protest, and with all reverence, that it is not God's fault. We believe, and so charge, solemnly and deliberately, that it is the fault of the financial system of the government—a system that has placed on agriculture an undue, unjust and intolerable burden of the burdens of taxation."

Do you think that is putting it a little strong? If so, read some statistics. The war which the protected mill-owners began in 1862 to obtain control of the whole market for manufactured goods, and to secure for themselves the $415,000,000 supplied by the farmers, and as much more as they could get of the partly manufactured goods imported every year.

Between 1860 and 1880 our agricultural exports increased 25 per cent. yearly. In the twenty-eight years since then they have increased 3 per cent. yearly.

Since 1881 they have driven our exports of farm products down $430,000,000. Here are the figures:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Total Exports. Data points for 1860, 1870, 1880, 1890.

Here is the result of the last seven years of the farmers' competition with the manufacturers, aided as the manufacturer is by the tariff, as stated, page 43, Bureau of Statistics report for 1888:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Agriculture, Manufactures. Data points for 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1888.

The McKensley bill provided that after July 1 sugar should be admitted free of duty, and that a bounty of two cents a pound should be paid to American sugar producers.

The McKensley bill provided that after July 1 sugar should be admitted free of duty, and that a bounty of two cents a pound should be paid to American sugar producers.

Another fact has also been developed, and that is that it will require $9,000,000, as estimated by the treasury officials, to pay the bounty to American sugar producers as required by the late congressional enactment.

Commenting on these facts the News wishes to ask why sugar producers should receive a bounty any more than the producers of any other article.

Why should the man who raises beets or cane and manufactures the same into sugar be entitled to a bounty of two cents a pound thereon, any more than the man who raises wheat and manufactures it into flour?

Why should every class of people be taxed to pay $9,000,000 in 1892 to the sugar producer, when no bounty is received on their own products?

MISLEADING LITERATURE.

The people of Provo and Utah county generally, and possibly other parts of the territory, have had scattered broadcast among them by the Republican party, a certain series of pamphlets called "The Defender."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

"The Defender" is published by the American Protective Tariff League, and in the interests of the protected mill-owners. Its avowed object is the "protection of American labor and industries."

SPANISH FORK

Co-operative Institution,

HARNESS, BOOTS and SHOES.

DRY GOODS, HARDWARE, CLOTHING,

GROCERIES, FURNITURE, FANCY NOTIONS,

FARMING IMPLEMENTS, ROLLER MILL FLOUR, GRAIN

"The Defender." Too true, but how about manufactured goods? White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

White lead sells for 7 cents in the foreign market and 11 cents here; soda, 14 cents on the foreign market and 23 cents here.

LOCAL SPLUDCLES.

SUMMER goods for ladies at less than cost.

Hox, W. H. King went to Salt Lake yesterday.

SHIRAZ FOWLER went to Payson last night on some civil business.

The Arcade restaurant is closed up and the sheriff holds the keys.

Just in at McEwan & Co's, a fine lot of men's pants, shirts and summer underwear.

Two dances were given last night; one at the Lake resort, the other at Graves' Gardens.

THERE will be a grand ball at the Provo Park grounds, Tuesday night, July 21. All invited.

Fifty men and teams wanted at once. Apply to S. S. Jones & Co., Provo, Utah.

A MARRIAGE license was issued yesterday to John R. Morgan and Elizabeth Harrold of Gosden.

The grading on Second street is nearly completed, and the street now presents a fine appearance.

LANSING and picturesque sign painting done on reasonable terms by Sam Jepperson, Provo, Utah.

THERE is not much use for the street lights such as these. The moon shines the streets as light as day.

THE R. G. Western pay-car went over the road yesterday, a gliding-thing of the "Provo" class.

J. K. LONGENECKER, an old-time friend of George W. Craig, our genial U. P. agent, is at the Hotel Roberts.

HAVE you seen the new line of ladies' dresses just in at McEwan & Co's, and the prices they are offered at.

McEwan & Co. are selling out their summer stock of misses' and children's dress hats. Come and get genuine bargains.

ATTORNEY HOLTZ took a rest from his law, yesterday, and with his family and a few friends spent the day at the lake.

A NUMBER of people have been anxiously inquiring as to the cause for his national colors upside down on their flagstaff.

JAMES SHERLY was before Judge Noon yesterday on a charge of drunkenness. He pled guilty and was sentenced to five days in jail.

THE P. L. M. & R. Co. are having the doors and windows of their office and warehouse painted, adding much to the appearance of the building.

J. S. THOMPSON returned yesterday from his Nevada trip. He reports a rich strike in his mining claims out there and he is jubilant over it.

CAMPBELL's of all description and as cheap as the cheapest on short notice by L. E. Kershaw, opposite Opera-house, Provo, Utah.

The steamer Florence will have an awning stretched over the deck on Saturday to shield the excursionists from the sun. This will be a great improvement.

THE County Court is in session yesterday, as a Board of Equalization for the county. A quorum not being present an adjournment was ordered until the 24th.

SIX horse carloads of ties were hauled through town last evening by the Street Railway motor. This makes fourteen carloads that have been hauled away in the past few days.

REV. G. M. JENNINGS has notified the committee on the 24th celebration, that he will be unable to make a speech that day on account of business matters which require his attention.

Persons interested in considering the advisability of holding a county fair this fall are requested to meet at the Commercial and Savings bank in this city this evening at 8:30 p. m.

JAMES HAYWOOD will be here early next week to expound Democracy. It is suggested that he will sprinkle a little Democratic pepper with the Republican salt, ex-Congressman Hoar declared in Provo yesterday.

J. L. CLAYTON returned yesterday from Mantu, where he has been looking after some work. He says the Mantu waterworks are a sore gage, and the city has been looking for a contractor for $50,000, in order to push the works ahead. A force of men are at work, and the trenches will soon be completed into town.

The Sun Foundry is building a very neat office on the premises it now occupies. The new office is nearer the street, however, than the present one, and is much larger. It will be built of rustic siding and finished with California redwood. The company is also constructing some mining cars of boiler plate.

ON Monday night the friends and relatives of M. S. BOSS, who was examined by Sheriff Fowler, came before the Dispatch, met at his residence and celebrated the cotton wedding of himself and wife. The evening was spent in amusements of various kinds and the fun was kept up late hour. We acknowledge the receipt of some nice cake. The liquids didn't materialize.

The Wonderland Co., in addition to the adjacent company will have the Swiss bell ringers, who make their first appearance with the company at the Provo Opera House July 22. Miss Price is a singer, and gives a performance that is truly marvelous. She is supported by ten specialty artists. The program promises to be one of the very best of the season. Summer prices will be given for the evening, 25 cents; reserved seats, 50 cents.

The burglars who entered Gibby's store on First street, and who were captured by Sheriff Fowler, came before Judge Brown for examination yesterday. Two of them, William McCormick and Thomas Brown, plead guilty and were bound over in the sum of $1,000 each to await the action of the grand jury. The other one, John Harrington, plead not guilty, and his hearing was postponed. He stated that he had never been in Provo in his life until he was arrested and brought here by the officers. The testimony of Sheriff Fowler and Marshal Brown was to the effect that he had been in Provo that time, and that he made a different statement to them when arrested. The evidence was conclusive enough, and Judge Brown decided that he be held in $500 bail.

A VERY neat surgical operation was performed by J. B. Carson, of this city, on a horse owned by one of the Madsen boys, over the river. About a year ago a swelling appeared on the horse's knee, which continued to increase in size until it reached enormous dimensions, crippling the horse. Dr. Carson, who is a veterinary surgeon of no mean order, undertook to remove the swelling, and yesterday afternoon he drove over and performed the operation. He succeeded in removing the largest cancer on record, weighing three pounds. The operation was over in half an hour and the horse free to walk about. The largest cancer ever removed from a horse was in Kentucky, and it only weighed two and one-half pounds. Dr. Carson was highly complimented on his piece of work.

Wm. H. King's Discourse Sunday Afternoon.

He Takes the Lord's Prayer and Shows the Beautiful Lessons of Forgiveness That It Teaches.

Religious services were held in the Tabernacle on Sunday as usual. President David John, president and pastor, the opening exercises Elder W. A. King addressed the congregation. He said:

do not know which subject I shall talk on this afternoon. There is such a broad field open before me that an elder requires the spirit of God to guide him. The gospel is like a great field in which many kinds of crops are raised for us to see that we are in the right place in the field. No man can rest upon his oars in this great race. Some are like the man who has a boat down stream to a haven of rest. But we are pulling up the stream, and if we rest on our oars we will be carried nearer destruction. God has placed us in the world as a place of safety. It requires men with untamable courage to pull up stream, and I have yet to learn that man can succeed in anything without a struggle. It has invariably been the case that where the people of God have lived in a land of peace and plenty, they have forgotten Him. Man cannot afford to rebel against God. We should have our oars and oarsmen and our oarsmen should be the humblest follower of Christ who has raised up in relics and forgot God. We can only follow the name of God by our devotion to Him. Our arts and sciences are hallowed by the devotion of the artist, but we can only follow the name of God by our devotion to Him. The children of Israel once made a golden calf and worshipped it and the question often comes up in my mind as to what the children of Israel were worshipping idols? Condemning them upon them, and it will also come upon us if we sin as they did. There are more things than golden idols some of which are idols of the heart. We should be faithful in keeping His commandments. The coming of the kingdom must be brought about by human agencies, for every movement has been through the agency of some of the human family. We need not expect God's kingdom to be established by any other means, and we need not look for the Savior to accomplish it. He will not establish His kingdom, but His coming will be to establish the will of God and to accomplish it. The speaker dwelt at some length on the principle of charity, saying that we all had too much criticism in our compositions. If we hear of some one making a mistake, we should be kind to him to a sentence, it grows to a paragraph and a paragraph to a column. This is not charity, and as long as this spirit exists the kingdom of God will not be established on earth as it is done in heaven. We should not draw a microscope on people's faults to enlarge them. We should learn to do unto others as we would that they should do to us. We should learn the lesson of forgiveness and apply it, as we have many opportunities presented to us to exercise this noble attribute. "Lead us not into temptation," this deserves at least a passing remark. God does not lead us into temptation, but we are led into temptation, and our prayer should be to have strength to overcome. The conclusion of the Lord's prayer, "Thine is the Kingdom, the Power and the Glory," is to be purchased by the blood of Christ and should teach us to be prepared, at all times, to render unto Him that honor, and that power, and that glory that we pray about.

Under the annual appointment of pupils to the University of Deseret, the following names were placed on the list: J. L. CLAYTON, returned yesterday from Mantu, where he has been looking after some work. He says the Mantu waterworks are a sore gage, and the city has been looking for a contractor for $50,000, in order to push the works ahead. A force of men are at work, and the trenches will soon be completed into town.

The Sun Foundry is building a very neat office on the premises it now occupies. The new office is nearer the street, however, than the present one, and is much larger. It will be built of rustic siding and finished with California redwood. The company is also constructing some mining cars of boiler plate.

ON Monday night the friends and relatives of M. S. BOSS, who was examined by Sheriff Fowler, came before the Dispatch, met at his residence and celebrated the cotton wedding of himself and wife. The evening was spent in amusements of various kinds and the fun was kept up late hour. We acknowledge the receipt of some nice cake. The liquids didn't materialize.

The burglars who entered Gibby's store on First street, and who were captured by Sheriff Fowler, came before Judge Brown for examination yesterday. Two of them, William McCormick and Thomas Brown, plead guilty and were bound over in the sum of $1,000 each to await the action of the grand jury. The other one, John Harrington, plead not guilty, and his hearing was postponed. He stated that he had never been in Provo in his life until he was arrested and brought here by the officers. The testimony of Sheriff Fowler and Marshal Brown was to the effect that he had been in Provo that time, and that he made a different statement to them when arrested. The evidence was conclusive enough, and Judge Brown decided that he be held in $500 bail.

A VERY neat surgical operation was performed by J. B. Carson, of this city, on a horse owned by one of the Madsen boys, over the river. About a year ago a swelling appeared on the horse's knee, which continued to increase in size until it reached enormous dimensions, crippling the horse. Dr. Carson, who is a veterinary surgeon of no mean order, undertook to remove the swelling, and yesterday afternoon he drove over and performed the operation. He succeeded in removing the largest cancer on record, weighing three pounds. The operation was over in half an hour and the horse free to walk about. The largest cancer ever removed from a horse was in Kentucky, and it only weighed two and one-half pounds. Dr. Carson was highly complimented on his piece of work.

Under the annual appointment of pupils to the University of Deseret, the following names were placed on the list: J. L. CLAYTON, returned yesterday from Mantu, where he has been looking after some work. He says the Mantu waterworks are a sore gage, and the city has been looking for a contractor for $50,000, in order to push the works ahead. A force of men are at work, and the trenches will soon be completed into town.

The Sun Foundry is building a very neat office on the premises it now occupies. The new office is nearer the street, however, than the present one, and is much larger. It will be built of rustic siding and finished with California redwood. The company is also constructing some mining cars of boiler plate.

ON Monday night the friends and relatives of M. S. BOSS, who was examined by Sheriff Fowler, came before the Dispatch, met at his residence and celebrated the cotton wedding of himself and wife. The evening was spent in amusements of various kinds and the fun was kept up late hour. We acknowledge the receipt of some nice cake. The liquids didn't materialize.

The burglars who entered Gibby's store on First street, and who were captured by Sheriff Fowler, came before Judge Brown for examination yesterday. Two of them, William McCormick and Thomas Brown, plead guilty and were bound over in the sum of $1,000 each to await the action of the grand jury. The other one, John Harrington, plead not guilty, and his hearing was postponed. He stated that he had never been in Provo in his life until he was arrested and brought here by the officers. The testimony of Sheriff Fowler and Marshal Brown was to the effect that he had been in Provo that time, and that he made a different statement to them when arrested. The evidence was conclusive enough, and Judge Brown decided that he be held in $500 bail.

A VERY neat surgical operation was performed by J. B. Carson, of this city, on a horse owned by one of the Madsen boys, over the river. About a year ago a swelling appeared on the horse's knee, which continued to increase in size until it reached enormous dimensions, crippling the horse. Dr. Carson, who is a veterinary surgeon of no mean order, undertook to remove the swelling, and yesterday afternoon he drove over and performed the operation. He succeeded in removing the largest cancer on record, weighing three pounds. The operation was over in half an hour and the horse free to walk about. The largest cancer ever removed from a horse was in Kentucky, and it only weighed two and one-half pounds. Dr. Carson was highly complimented on his piece of work.

Under the annual appointment of pupils to the University of Deseret, the following names were placed on the list: J. L. CLAYTON, returned yesterday from Mantu, where he has been looking after some work. He says the Mantu waterworks are a sore gage, and the city has been looking for a contractor for $50,000, in order to push the works ahead. A force of men are at work, and the trenches will soon be completed into town.

The Sun Foundry is building a very neat office on the premises it now occupies. The new office is nearer the street, however, than the present one, and is much larger. It will be built of rustic siding and finished with California redwood. The company is also constructing some mining cars of boiler plate.

ON Monday night the friends and relatives of M. S. BOSS, who was examined by Sheriff Fowler, came before the Dispatch, met at his residence and celebrated the cotton wedding of himself and wife. The evening was spent in amusements of various kinds and the fun was kept up late hour. We acknowledge the receipt of some nice cake. The liquids didn't materialize.

The burglars who entered Gibby's store on First street, and who were captured by Sheriff Fowler, came before Judge Brown for examination yesterday. Two of them, William McCormick and Thomas Brown, plead guilty and were bound over in the sum of $1,000 each to await the action of the grand jury. The other one, John Harrington, plead not guilty, and his hearing was postponed. He stated that he had never been in Provo in his life until he was arrested and brought here by the officers. The testimony of Sheriff Fowler and Marshal Brown was to the effect that he had been in Provo that time, and that he made a different statement to them when arrested. The evidence was conclusive enough, and Judge Brown decided that he be held in $500 bail.

A VERY neat surgical operation was performed by J. B. Carson, of this city, on a horse owned by one of the Madsen boys, over the river. About a year ago a swelling appeared on the horse's knee, which continued to increase in size until it reached enormous dimensions, crippling the horse. Dr. Carson, who is a veterinary surgeon of no mean order, undertook to remove the swelling, and yesterday afternoon he drove over and performed the operation. He succeeded in removing the largest cancer on record, weighing three pounds. The operation was over in half an hour and the horse free to walk about. The largest cancer ever removed from a horse was in Kentucky, and it only weighed two and one-half pounds. Dr. Carson was highly complimented on his piece of work.

SPRING OF CHARITY

From Tuesday's Daily. The H. G. Western depot is being repaired.

The Enquirer is still harping upon the creation of its imagination that Mr. A. D. Gash had accepted a challenge from a man named Brannagan...

The city council met last night, but no quorum being present the council adjourned until Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

The slush mill owned by Samuel Liddard turned out 2900 brick yesterday. This is more than any slush mill in this part of the country ever turned out before.

The first game of lawn tennis was played on the tennis grounds last evening and was witnessed by a large number of spectators.

MARRIAGE licenses have been issued to George E. Warren, of Salt Lake, and Mary D. Ross, of Provo; James Warburton and Flora Houtz, of Pleasant Grove.

A MEETING of all the water masters taking water from Provo river will be held at the mouth of Provo canyon tomorrow at 10 o'clock for the purpose of devising means for obtaining more water and having more equal distribution.

MICKEL & Co. are starting to build just north of their present office. The building will be of brick, 2x50 feet, three stories high, and will be used as an office and warehouse.

AN excursion is being arranged between a select party from Provo and another from Pleasant Grove, in all the coming week.

The Liberal meeting fell with a dull and heavy drizzle upon those who witnessed it from outside the hall.

FARMERS who have planted beets for the Utah sugar factory say it is the handsomest crop they have ever grown and many of them think they can be raised without irrigation.

THE chemist engaged by the Lehi sugar company for the purpose of making polariscopic tests to determine the percentage of saccharine in the beets to be purchased this fall has begun to make his report.

ONE of the prisoners in the County Jail yesterday quarreled with the other prisoners and during the day three of them and came off victorious each time.

THE vicinities of the Utah sugar works resembles a tented village. There is a strong resemblance to an army encampment in the number of tents which have been set up.

A COMPOSITOR employed in the District news department named Sam DeRacke left his home in Provo last night, stepped on a piece of glass, which penetrated his foot, causing an ugly gash from which the blood flowed freely.

THE Second ward Republican club held their primary in the Courthouse last night. Delegates were elected to attend the county and district convention to be held Wednesday July 15 as follows:

THE tramps who asked for a change of venue from Justice Brown's court last Saturday were taken to Springville yesterday and tried before Justice Boyer, Messrs. Houtz and Whitecotton presented, and their legal brother tramp defended.

THE Fate of the Missing Men. Victoria, B.C., July 21.—Nothing has yet been heard of the four missing men on which the McKensley bill, as well as the whole doctrine of extreme protection rests. The sugar bounty should be promptly removed, and sugar left on the free list.

THE CHALLENGE.

Democrats Put Up A.D. Gash Against All Comers.

He is Authorized to Meet the Flower of the Republican Flock in Public Discussion.

The Enquirer is still harping upon the creation of its imagination that Mr. A. D. Gash had accepted a challenge from a man named Brannagan...