The county court in adjourned session yesterday determined that no relief can be given parties whose homes have been sold for taxes legally. The only relief provided for by law is relief to the poor and indigent. The sum of $12.10 delinquent special tax was remitted for cause. The attorney's fee in the D. T. Clark case $20.00 was disallowed. Some claims were allowed, the county attorney authorized to collect delinquent rentals of school lands, after which adjournment was taken.

The Modern Way

Commends itself to the well-informed to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches and fevers without unpleasant after-effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Non. Nellie Bass' Wedding.

Recent London prints just teem with accounts of the Hon. Nellie Bass' wedding grandeur. Everything was on a gigantic scale, from the palms in the chancel, 30 feet high and hung with orchids, to the two wedding cakes, each weighing 250 pounds, brought in vans and set up by the caterer's men into structures of 6 feet in height. A list of distinguished names figure as donors of gifts, some of the names rather outstripping the present; it seems to the casual reader—as, for instance, the Earl of Craven, who is credited with a pencil case, and the Duchess of Marlborough a lotting book. But the bride had no cause to complain. Her father emptied a jeweler's shop into her lap, and her husband picked up a few baubles for her, such as a diamond link necklace, a diamond wing comb, gold bracelet, with his name, "James," in diamonds and ruby ring, diamond and ruby pin, gold sleeve links with enameled monogram, diamond pin, gold ring, walking stick and some others. It was a great day for Burton-on-Trent.

We Killed a Bear.

Rev. J. W. Bradshaw of the Congregationalist church of Ann Arbor, Mich., preached a sermon against woman suffrage on a recent Sunday morning, being greatly concerned lest the bad women should outvote the good women. The Democrat reviews the sermon and calls attention to the fact that "there are so few bad women, comparatively speaking, that as a class they never attempt to assert themselves in any place of civil government whatever." The Democrat says that Mr. Bradshaw's sermon carried little conviction and proposed to console him in this fashion: "Be sure, women will vote, the conservatives to the contrary notwithstanding, and when that day comes bad men and women will largely become a factor of forgotten history, while the present opponents of the cause will grasp the hand of the pioneer and proudly exclaim, 'We killed a bear, didn't we, Peggy?'"

Inconsequent

The Boston Herald lately predicted that if women were allowed to vote the "introduction of so versatile and inconsequent an element into politics" would make trouble and "lead to greater displays of demagoguism and cant than we now have." Mrs. Ellen B. Dietrich writes to THE HERALD: "If the time has come when American men are really justified in speaking of American women as a versatile and inconsequent element in our mutual affairs, then all I can say is, God help the American people! If the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters have no steadfastness and little reason, they are poisoning the republic none the less surely because their wishes and opinions are not legally counted."

Women on School Boards.

Addie S. Hiles of Glastonbury, in the Connecticut Grange, argues that women register, vote at school elections and work to have women on the school boards. She says: "The grange is awake now, and instructions to make educational suffrage a special subject for meetings comes from both the worthy lecturer and committee on woman's work, backed up by State Master Bowen. People outside of our ranks are looking to us, Patrons of Husbandry, for great advances in the improvement in the transportation of cattle, both by rail and water, the more humane treatment being almost entirely due to the women's society. One of the speakers at the anniversary was Miss Agnes Repplier, the clever essayist. 'How do we know that the animals were made for our use?' she questioned. 'We can eat sheep, and say that he was made for man's use. The lion eats man. Shouldn't we say that he made us for the lion's use?'—Philadelphia Call.

Women and Cruelty to Animals.

The woman's branch of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals celebrated its silver anniversary recently. One of the many notable achievements during the 25 years' work is the improvement in the transportation of cattle, both by rail and water, the more humane treatment being almost entirely due to the women's society. One of the speakers at the anniversary was Miss Agnes Repplier, the clever essayist. 'How do we know that the animals were made for our use?' she questioned. 'We can eat sheep, and say that he was made for man's use. The lion eats man. Shouldn't we say that he made us for the lion's use?'—Philadelphia Call.

—Never approach the horses from behind without speaking. If you do, they'll kick you on that thick head of yours, and the end of it will be we'll have nothing but lame horses in the squadron.

An old lady who claims "to know all about it" says the only way to prevent steamboat explosions is to make the engineers "bille their water on shore." In her opinion "all the bustin is done by cooking the steam on board the boat."

Ivy Poisoning

Eight Years of Suffering

Perfect Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla
"C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."
"Dear Sirs:—We have tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and find it to be all you claim for it. My wife was poisoned by ivy when a young woman, and for eight years was troubled every season with the breaking out and terrible itching and burning. I thought there was as bad a case as anyone ever had. She was in this distressing condition every year until she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has effected a perfect cure, without leaving any scars, and she has had

No Sign of the Poison Since.

She is well and hearty. I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla after the grip with good results, and have also given it to our four children. We are all pictures of perfect health and owe it to Hood's Sarsaparilla." J. C. FREEMAN, Vandalia, Illinois.

If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other instead.

Hood's Pills are hand made, and perfect in proportion and appearance. 25c. per box.

Of Great Importance to Utah Fruit Growers.
