THE ball given in the Christensen Dancing academy last evening by Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Pike and Miss Florence Pike was a complete success. Everything to add to the pleasure of the guests seemed to have been anticipated and as pleasing as a rhythm of music passed away one of the most enjoyable parties of the season. About 9 o'clock the dancing commenced and until 12 a. m. the revellers whirled the hours away. A nice repast had been prepared by Mr. Fliener and at 11 o'clock about forty couple seated themselves at the first table. The feasting continued until nearly 1 o'clock when the last of the 150 couples present had their wants supplied. Mrs. and Miss Pike received the ladies royally and did all in their power to make them feel at home while the genial doctor extended the hand of welcome to the gentlemen, and presented each with a dainty bouquet of choice flowers. The costumes of the ladies were beautiful, and many of them were set off with a profusion of flowers. The music furnished by the Chi tenor-Coleman band sounded extra good and the floor was as smooth as though polished for the occasion. The guests, one and all, were happy and when the hour of parting came, mere congratulations did not begin to express their kindly feelings towards Dr. and Mrs. Pike and Miss Florence. THE DISPATCH regrets its inability today to afford space for the publication of the names of the guests.

UTAH ODD FELLOWS.

Over One Hundred Visiting Brethren In Grand Lodge Here Today.

The grand lodge of Odd Fellows for the Utah jurisdiction is in session today in Provo and the city is honored with the visitation of some over a hundred representative citizens, lodge officers, who will remain with us two or three days.

Oleon's band and many members of the Provo Lodge No. 14 met the visitors at the train this morning and all marched to the opera house where at 10 o'clock a formal and hearty welcome was extended to them.

Mayor Hooker in a pleasant, cordial and happy speech, welcomed the Odd Fellows and gave them the freedom of the city. He also complimented them on the growth of their order and the good work done by the same.

E. A. Wilson, Noble Grand of the Provo Lodge No. 14, also delivered a speech of welcome, which, to say the least, was about as neat a thing, as well done and as prettily put as any speech of the kind ever was in Provo.

He referred to the aims and objects of the order which are to elevate mankind, ameliorate suffering, spread the mantle of charity, to inculcate a reverence for our Maker, a feeling of gratefulness and loyalty to our country and fraternity among the members of the order and all mankind. Its platform is broad enough for all christians and all Americans so stand upon.

Master of the Grand Lodge of Utah responded warmly to the words of welcome that had been offered and delivered an able historic address upon the origin, growth and work of the order that was very fitting for the occasion and well received.

From the opera house line of march to Odd Fellows hall was formed. Proceedings there, are, of course, secret. However, any work done that at all affects or interests the public will be given to the newspaper readers.

Beauty In Age.

A dear old lady of 83 is she who is described by Kate Sanborn in "A Truthful Woman In Southern California" as Grandmother Wade. She says:

"I have known several interesting old gentlemen, but never one that surpassed her in loveliness, wit and positive jollity. She still has her ardent admirers among men as well as women and now and then receives an earnest proposal from some lonely old fellow. The last of these aged lovers, when refused and relegated to the position of a brother, urged her to reconsider the matter and make it a subject of prayer. But she quietly said:

"I'm not going to bother the Lord with questions I can answer myself!"

One day when she was choked by a bread crumb at the table, she said to the frightened waiter as soon as she could regain her breath:

"Never mind if that did go down the wrong way. A great many good things have gone down the right way this winter."

She is invariably cheerful, and when she was parting with her son for the winter she said:

"Well, John, I want to know before you go just what you have left me in your will."

This little joke turned a tear into a smile.

Even when ill she is so bright and hopeful that a friend once exclaimed:

"Grandma, I do believe you would laugh if you were dying."

"Well," said she, "so many folks go to the Lord with a long face, I guess he will be glad to see me come to him smiling."—Youth's Companion.

W. R. PIKE, Medical Superintendent.

Branding a Maverick.

In a dell in the forest we espied some "mavericks," or unbranded stock. The punchers are ever alert for a beef without half its ears gone and a big HF burned in its flank, and immediately they perceive one they tighten their cincha, slip the rope from the pommel, put their hats on the back of their heads and "light out." A cow was soon caught, after desperate riding over rocks and fallen timber, thrown down and "hog tied," which means all four feet together. A little fire is built, and one side of a cincha ring is heated redhot, with which a rawhide artist paints HF in the sizzling flesh, while the cow kicks and bawls.

She is then unbound, and when she gets back on her feet the vaqueros stand about, scrape in hand, after the bull-fighter fashion, and provoke her to charge. She charges, while they avoid her by agile springs and a flouting of their rags. They laugh and cry, "Bravo toro!" until she, having overcome her indignation at their rudeness, sets forth down the canyon with her tail in the air.

—From "In the Sierra Madre With the Punchers," by Frederic Remington, in Harper's Magazine.

The Largest Cities of Antiquity.

The greatest cities of ancient times were Babylon and Rome. The former is said to have had an area of 100 to 200 square miles. Its houses were three or four stories high, but palaces and gardens occupied much of the vast area, so that the population was not what these figures would seem to indicate. In fact, it is said by one historian that nine-tenths of this area were taken up by gardens and orchards. The total population of the city under Nebuchadnezzar and his son Evil-Merodach is estimated at upward of 2,000,000. Rome reached its greatest size during the fourth century of our era, and its population was then about 2,000,000.—Western Mail.

The Evolution

of medical agents is gradually relegating the old-time herbs, pills, draughts and vegetable extracts to the rear and bringing into general use the pleasant and effective liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs. To get the true remedy see that it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only. For sale by all leading druggists.

A Card

I wish to inform my patrons and friends that on account of ill health, I am unable at present to serve people, and have therefore leased my shop to J. Thulin of Salt Lake city, whom I can recommend to my customers and the public generally as a very competent blacksmith. Thanking you all for your patronage in the past, and trusting it may be continued to Mr. Thulin and indirectly you will thereby favor me. Respectfully,

H. H. BERG.

Insist upon HOOD'S

Read Mr. Chase's Experience with a Substitute

And the Glad Result of Taking HOOD'S.

Mr. C. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Last March I had to give up work, 'completely worn out.' I felt tired all the time; had frequent headaches, and spells of dizziness; I had no appetite, and what little I did eat, distressed me terribly. My wife was feeling about the same. I went to the drug store, and called for Hood's Sarsaparilla. The druggist said he was out of Hood's, but that he could give me a medicine made from about the same formula.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

just as good. I bought a bottle and carried it home, and wife and I took it faithfully. That bottle was finished, and we could see no improvement. A second and then a third bottle followed, when my wife declared she would take it no longer, as she believed she felt worse than she did before taking it. We put the third bottle away half full, and I went to the drug-store and got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and a box of Hood's Pills. In less than a week

We began to improve.

We began to relish our food, and it didn't distress us as before. That tired worn-out feeling left us gradually, and after taking five bottles, we called ourselves well, and gave Hood's Sarsaparilla the credit it deserves. Whenever I take a severe cold, I always take three of Hood's Pills at night, and in the morning find my cold broken. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills are a complete medicine chest in themselves, and I heartily recommend them to everyone." ERVIN C. CHASE, Bothell, Washington.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.
