"Last summer a man in my employ exhibited an act of presence of mind and self control that might well be compared to the deeds of daring on the field of battle," remarked John L. Nevins, a New York contractor. "Two workmen were engaged in repairing the lightning rod of the steeple of a church. To accomplish this somewhat difficult and dangerous task it had become necessary for one of the workmen to stand on the shoulders of his companion. While in this position a sudden gust of wind caused him to spill a quantity of molten lead, which fell on the hand and arm of his friend. Notwithstanding the sudden and intense pain, the brave man never flinched and had the courage to remain motionless while the lead burned its way into his flesh. He knew that a movement of his was liable to precipitate his companion from the dizzy height into the street below, and he endured the pain rather than risk the life of his fellow worker."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE FIRST IDEALIST.

A jellyfish swim in a tropical sea. And he said: "This world it consists of me. There's nothing above and nothing below. That a jellyfish ever can possibly know since we've got no sight or hearing or smell. Beyond what our single sense can tell. Now, all that I learn from the sense of touch is the fact of my feelings viewed as such. But to think they have any external cause is an inference clean against logical laws. Again to suppose, as I've hitherto done, that there are other jellyfish under the sun is a pure assumption that can't be backed by a jot of proof or a single fact. In short, like Hume, I very much doubt if there's anything else at all without. So I come at last to the plain conclusion. When the subject is fairly set free from confusion, That the universe simply centers in me. And if I were not then nothing would be." That minute a shark, who was strolling by, Just gulped him down in the twink of an eye. And he died with a few convulsive twists. But somehow the universe still exists. —Boston Globe.

PORTRAITS OF AMERICAN WOMEN.

A Novel Loan Exhibition of Paintings to Benefit New York Charities.

Arrangements are now being made for a loan exhibition of old and modern portraits of American women to be held early in November at the Academy of Design. Such exhibitions of women's portraits are given by the Gallery club in London, but they are new in New York. It is proposed to divide the proceeds from this exhibition between St. John's guild and the Orthopedic dispensary and hospital. The ladies representing these two charities who are arranging this exhibition are Mrs. Robert B. Potter, Mrs. H. Winthrop Gray, Mrs. John A. Lowery, Mrs. Charles de Rham, Mrs. J. Hobart Warren and Mrs. Adolf Ladanburg. The selection of the pictures will be in the hands of a committee of well known artists.

It is believed that the novelty of such an exhibition, in addition to its artistic merits, will insure its success. There are in New York many valuable portraits of women. Some of them are by American artists and some of them were painted abroad. So long as the subject is an American woman the painting may be hung in this loan collection. Already the announcement of such an exhibition has aroused interest, and it is intended to make it a social success. Mrs. Lowery said last night:

"We propose to have the exhibition during the week of the horse show, for then there are many people in town who would be interested in such an exhibition. There are many fine portraits of handsome women here, and I think that such an exhibition will attract attention and benefit our charities. It is impossible yet to give any details about the paintings that will be exhibited. That rests with the artists who are on the hanging committee, and of course it is too early for them to begin their work."—New York Sun.

Scrofula Tumors

Salt Rheum, Nervousness, Other Troubles
Complication of Diseases Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"G. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"Dear Sirs: From childhood I had been a great sufferer from scrofula, having a tumor on my left breast and another in my stomach. I was also afflicted with salt rheum. We spent much money for medical attendance and remedies, but all to no avail. Three years ago I commenced to run down. The trouble with my stomach would not allow me to eat and even milk distressed me very much. My right hand and arm became almost paralyzed, and my stomach difficulty was fast developing into Serious Female Troubles.

I became very nervous and was subject to fainting spells. Dark spots appeared before my eyes. The doctors failed to help me. In the spring I read about the wonderful cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to give it a trial. After taking it a short time I commenced to feel better, my digestion improved, and the burning sensation in my stomach and bowels ceased. Shortly I was able to work about the house, standing on my feet considerably, something I had not done for months before. For two summers I have done
