

DEMOCRATIC ADDRESS

To the People of Utah, Delivered at Salt Lake City on Saturday, June 16th, by the Territorial Democratic Convention.

Resolved, That as the convention was not called to make nominations or formulate a platform of principles, the following be adopted as the sentiments of the convention to be presented in the form of an address to the people of Utah.

We, the democrats of Utah, in convention assembled, hereby declare our devotion to the time honored principles of the democratic party as enunciated in the national platform and embodied in the history of its members.

We are emphatically in favor of equal rights to all and special privileges to none; of the greatest possible liberty to every individual compatible with the public welfare; of the advancement and support of our industries; of the maintenance of local self-government to the fullest extent; and of a strict construction of the national constitution.

We are in favor of such reform of the tariff as is consistent with the interests of the consumer and the producer, and declare that duties upon foreign imports should be levied upon the luxuries so far as possible, and not upon the necessities of life.

We demand the speedy passage of the bill for tariff reform now pending in the senate, including the provision for an income tax by which those large property holders who are best able to bear their just share of the burden of taxation. And we denounce the obstructive policy of the republicans in congress, by which a hasty measure to provide public revenue is delayed, causing uncertainty and doubt in commercial and manufacturing circles, and thus paralyzing industry and arresting trade.

We demand the restoration of silver to the constitutional position it occupied as money previous to the act of 1876, by which the republican party cast down that historic and essential money metal, and caused the increasing distress which, beginning with the panic of 1873 and bursting forth at intervals with terrible severity, has been pressing the agricultural interests of the country, creating unrest and discontent among the oppressed laboring classes and increasing the armies of tramps which swarm over the land, culminated in the panic of 1893 and still spreads its blight upon trade and industry.

We call attention to the undeniable fact that the republican party took the government from the democratic administration in 1880, with more than a hundred million dollars in the national treasury and turned it back to the democratic party in 1893 with a treasury practically bankrupt.

We denounce the silver policy of the republican party as a system of mischievous makeshifts to palliate the republican financial crime of 1873, and declare that only in and through the democratic party can the people of the United States expect the re-establishment of true bimetalism, which includes the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 with gold.

We believe that this can be done with safety and profit to this nation by American action, independent of any international agreement or international co-operation cannot be immediately obtained.

We denounce the republican policy of protection as embodied in the infamous McKinley law and reaffirmed by that party in its most recent advances. We regard it as an assistant agency to the prostration of silver in producing the poverty and distress and social calamities of various kinds which still afflict our country.

We deny that the high tariffs placed upon lead and wool and other commodities have raised their price or benefited the producer of such materials, while they have been oppressive and detrimental to the consumer and the country at large.

long career of power, republicans have fostered if not originated the movement upon Washington by thousands of the unemployed. They have interfered with the efforts of the judiciary and the executive in different phases to enforce the law. They have encouraged the making at the seat of government of thousands of homeless men, made desperate by republican misrule, hoping that their presence would embarrass the administration and convey the false impression that the party in power is responsible for thirty years of republican misrule.

In this arraignment we include those local republicans who have endeavored to cast ridicule upon the governor, oppress upon the judge and insist upon the militia and the constabulary, while those officers were engaged in preserving the public peace and seeking to turn back the tide of poverty which was drowning the territory.

We deeply sympathize with the distress of our fellow citizens, the unemployed working people of the country, and particularly of those who are dwellers in our territory. We deplore the policy which has brought into our midst large bodies of destitute men, who have been supplied with the very means that was required for the support of the resident poor, and some of whom sought to obtain the work which was needed by our own population.

We declare it to be our conviction that only by the reforms which will be introduced by a democratic congress and administration, can relief be afforded to the oppressed and needy working population and prosperity be assured to the toiling masses.

We denounce the false pretenses recently put forth by leaders of the republican party, by which they seek to deceive the voters of the United States into the belief that they are friends to silver by linking it with the heresy of protection. The terms "bimetallism" and "the enlarged use of silver" by which they seek to dazzle the eyes of the west and the south, are only catch phrases to fool the unenlightened. They do not mean the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, which is the only true solution of the money problem and the only genuine bimetallic policy.

We denounce the national republican party: For its false pretenses of sudden regard for the people of Utah against whom in its platforms and by extreme legislation it indicated intense hostility from its inception. Its simulated effect was in conformity with the appearance of a possibility of republican support in the territory, and that its support was the only cause of its new attitude. It is the selfish tendency which the spider feels for the fly.

We denounce the only republican legislature of Utah territory: For its waste of public time and money in vain endeavors to manufacture party capital.

For its opposition to the educational interests of the territory, by refusing to appropriate sufficient funds for the agricultural college and to carry on the university according to the provisions of the law enacted by the institution and requiring the establishment of necessary departments, and also by endeavoring to cripple the public schools in a scheme to take away part of the revenue necessary for their support and distribution.

We denounce the republican policy of making appropriations after refusing to give necessary support to the educational institutions and the deaf, blind, and kindred institutions, and neglecting to provide sufficient revenue to meet the appropriations inconsiderately made.

The spectacle of republican legislators running away in hot haste to avoid an issue which they had raised themselves, evading the officers sent to arrest them and hiding until a republican majority could be assured, thus stopping the progress of public business in the upper house of the legislature and bringing that body into public contempt, was a scene unparalleled in the annals of our country, and exhibits the republican party in an attitude of cowardice and absurdity.

The republican legislature showed more bombast and less capacity, more parsimony and smaller economy, greater partisanship and narrower statesmanship than any other legislative assembly in the history of the territory.

A LEAF AND A RESCUE.

How a Tramp Saved a Railroad Train and What Came of It.
Extra Wallace, west bound, reached Emerson at 10 p. m. June 16, 1878. In switching out at a car the forward brakeman was so badly injured that we left him for surgical treatment. I was breaking behind. From Emerson to Chamney, 12 miles, is up grade, and as Conductor Wallace had gone over to the engine I was left alone on the rear. The moon shone brightly, and I noticed a number of tramps riding out on top. We had almost reached the summit and the night express was only 15 minutes behind us when suddenly the speed slackened. The caboose, two cars of telegraph poles and three of cinders had broken off. I was standing on the lead pole and started for a brake when one of the poles became loosened from its position and rolled on my foot. I struggled desperately to free myself, for the cars had started forward.

I thought of the express with her cargo of precious lives and struggled again. I seemed to hear the crash, the shrieks and groans of the dying, the curses and prayers. Minutes wore years, and I grew old in the awful suspense. Then I heard a whistle and saw our front end following down the hill. On the leading car the conductor was swinging a back up signal, while the whistle blew a wild warning for No. 7. Faster and faster spun the wheels, and slowly, but surely, was the runaway overtaken. I held my breath.

Only 20 feet.
A form shot out over the chasm, swung in clear relief for an instant against the sky and then dropped safely on board the car of cinders. At the same moment the conductor gave a stop signal, and the gap widened.

Well timed it was, for given a second sooner and the leap would have been impossible; later, and a collision was unavoidable.
In a short time every brake was set, and as we slowed down I shrieked frantically: "Flag No. 7! Take a red light and flag the express!"

He understood and obeyed without a word. Fortunately or providentially, they were late, and he got back far enough to stop them. I was unconscious when at last released. My foot was badly crushed, and it was many weeks before I was again able to report for duty. As for our hero, he proved to be one of the tramps I had noticed and had volunteered for his dangerous task. When the superintendent, who was on No. 7, learned the circumstances, he offered him a position as brakeman, promising him advancement as he proved his ability. That was the beginning. Today he is a prominent general manager, and his name is a recognized power in the railroad world.—Chicago Record.

To a person who reads modern books and modern literature in general, and who has never had either time, opportunity or inclination to strike off into the bypaths which were so frequently and industriously followed by ancient writers, thinkers and dreamers, the heading of this "note" will be an enigma. Without further explanation, however, and following the desire which should always be uppermost in every writer's mind—that of at once getting the subject itself before the reader—I will say that there was a time, a time since, of course, when the lead men of the world really taught that the world was a square, not merely a flat, but that it was a cube. The primary geographers of Egypt, Assyria and China all taught that the world was a square plane. Evidence of which may be found on the thousands of ancient monuments in the countries mentioned, as well as in their inscribed tablets of clay and other early literary remains.

One of the most curious discoveries ever made in Central America concerning Toltec belief, symbols, etc., is that they also had a similar idea concerning the form of what we now speak of as the "globe." A late writer on the discoveries made among the monumental ruins of that country says, "They (meaning the Peruvians, Toltecs and Quiches) believe the world to be a cube, suspended from the heavens by cords of gold fastened to each of its corners."—Exchange.
