AS SHE IS TAUGHT

Republicanism Expounded at Payson by A. L. Thomas.

MANY INCONSISTENCIES

And Very Little Else—The Republican Rally Did Not Hurt Democracy Any—Rather Did It Do It Good—News Notes of General Interest.

A correspondent from Payson signing himself "Farmer Jack" sends The Dispatch a long critical report of a republican rally recently held there at which Spanish Fork's little ex-Governor and the great Bob Bah, ex-Governor Thomas were the speakers. Judge Chadwick of Salt Lake was there to speak, but long before the ex-governor had gotten through, the audience was so thinned out that it was deemed best not to turn the judge loose. It would please us to publish the entire report but circumstances compel us to give only a condensation.

Morgan occupied nearly an hour in delivering a school boy lecture on the history of the two parties, and scored not one point. The lecture that most weariied the audience and that would have converted them away from republicanism had they managed to hear it because of its glaring inconsistencies, was that delivered by Thomas. He showed how reciprocity had benefited the farmer, but failed to go on and show how a more extended reciprocity, which democrats advocate, would benefit them more. He said that the manufacturer dare not make up the raw material he has now on hand for fear of a reduction of duty on raw material. Many in the audience, says the correspondent, expressed themselves as being of the opinion that the manufacturer would be anxious to get what he had on hand into manufactured goods and sold, before the raw material he has on hand before it decreases in value. The ex-governor thinks that free raw material will be utter ruin to the manufacturer as he will be able to buy his material cheaper. He showed that the tariff was not a tax, as the duty on wire nails is 34 cents and that you can get now all you want in Salt Lake at 2 cents per pound. There are a number of Payson merchants, says our correspondent, who would like the ex-governor to give them the address of the firm that is wholesaling them at that figure. One merchant, who is a republican, said he would take a ton or two of that figure. The speaker had two pieces of evidence. One was coated with the plate and the other was not. The coated one he said was American manufacture, when he said was cheaper now than when the McKinley bill went into effect. Being skeptical on that point, I called upon our tin merchant the next morning, who said that he was mistaken, and to prove his assertion he showed me two invoices of tin, one that was purchased before the duty was levied, which was $5.00 per box; the other one of recent date, which was $7.50 per box. And thus his argument vanished. Thomas said that American goods are dearer in England than here. Having doubts about this also I inquired of an Englishman who had just something the matter with his price list, as he had bought the same plow in England for $12.00 which he had to pay $14.00 for here. Again he said that any man was unworthy of citizenship who would appeal to the prejudices of a people to sway them to one party or the other and then he told them that President Brigham Young said so and so and that the principles of the detested people's party were so and so, appealing to the prejudices of his Mormon hearers. Thus was his whole harangue nothing but a batch of contradictions, inconsistencies, misstatements and misrepresentations.

Our little protection orator said the house was full to overflowing and that a number of ladies sat on chairs on the floor. Wonder if he would have had them sit on the ceiling? It would be as well before a man who attempts to report a meeting to attend it. Had the Times scribe been present he would have seen that there was room in the hall for 100 more than was present.

There was a person the next day who had been leaving toward republicanism before the rally and who said that it had made him a bigger mugger than ever, as he had been trying to best to publish as some of his friends belonged to the party, but the misstatements had lost the republican party at least his vote.

NEWS NOTES.

Joseph Wignall's new frame house in the northern part of town is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in a short time.

A petition has been circulated through the town seeking the city council to enact a prohibition law and if they cannot enact that to enforce the laws already in effect as to the keeping of minors out and the closing of the saloons at the proper time.

The hum of the threshing machine is now heard on every side and if times were with the farmer as they should be we would have considerable money in our midst this fall, as all have abundant crops of wheat, oats, corn, potatoes, etc.

The Payson base ball team is doing all corners and it is now said that the team is about to drop up the Springville mine after which they intend going to the Provoites, after which there come the renowned Famous nine of Salt Lake which two or three years ago our team came near doing up and would have done had it not been that their catcher got his finger broke.

J. J. McClellan Jr. is working hard among our choirs and it is whispered that before he leaves the town he will receive a benefit concert from them, which will be unexcelled by any concert which we have had in our musical city heretofore.

The Payson L. O. O. F. lodge is working up the excursion to Salt Lake on the 16th and if you can believe indications there will be one of the largest crowds attend this excursion that has ever gone from the town. The champion silver band of this place will go on this excursion.

Otto Ellandson is building a nice little cottage in the eastern part of town. Who will the bride be?

Wm. Worsenroft has built a nice brick house also in the eastern part of town and it is reported that it will not be long ere he leads one of Provo's belles to the altar.

Senate Bill is Accepted by the House.

SEPARATE BILLS PASSED

By the House Making Sugar, Iron Ore, Coal and Barbed Wire Free—Republicans Join with the Democrats in Voting for Free Sugar.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—In the house this morning, Chairman Wilson took the floor immediately after roll call. The members crowded around him, listening intently to every word. Wilson began with a recital of the difficulties encountered. He said each step had been pursued with an ardent desire to support with honor the desires of the house to resist what was regarded as unreasonable demands of the senate. He viewed the differences in the conference on the disputed items. He took up each proposition on sugar and spoke of the vast profits of the sugar trust, which would result from many of them. He did not indulge in the sharp criticism that was expected on the motives of the senate conferees.

Wilson spoke of the fight made by the house conferees, for a specific duty on sugar on the ground that under the ad valorem system it would be impossible to tell, on account of the invoice methods, the exact advantage which would accrue to the sugar trust. He made the remarkable statement that he had been deceived by the senate conferees and believed that the trust, participating in the enactment of the sugar schedule, had purchased $12,000,000 worth of raw sugar. If this was true, he said, the profits accruing to the trust from this sugar, at 10 cents per pound, would amount to $1,200,000.

He proceeded to state that the house conferees had been willing to concede almost everything except these vital items of sugar, iron and coal. The senate conferees had a go-ahead willingness to concede much, but were apparently dominated by the knowledge that they concede what were representatives demanded, they could not pass an agreement be useless. When closed at 11:35 o'clock, having taken just an hour.

Messrs. Montgomery, McMillan and Turner corroborated his statements. Mr. Crip followed. He spoke with much spirit, and round after round of applause greeted his remarks. He spoke of the critical position and serious need to accept the tariff, and then it need be introduced separate bills for free sugar, iron and coal. He said it was the "senate bill or nothing."

As long as there was a desperate chance of securing the concessions the house demanded, he was in favor of standing out, but he was satisfied the time had come when further instance by the house was useless. He offered a resolution instructing the house conferees to recess from the disagreement and the ways and means committee to bring in separate free sugar, iron and coal bills.

A burst of applause greeted the reading of the resolution, but half a dozen irate democrats were of their feet, demanding recognition of prominent among them being Boukie Cochran of New York.

Mr. Cochran declared that there was no necessity for the house to surrender as yet, and challenged Chairman Wilson's statement that four democratic votes in the senate would be lost if the fight proceeded. He demanded the names of the four senators, but Mr. Wilson refused to give them.

The previous question was demanded on the Crip resolution and ordered to a vote of 112 to 21. Among those who voted against the previous question were the Louisiana members, Cochran, of New York, and others. Fifteen minutes were then given to the opponents of the resolution to state their position.

PASSED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The long struggle over the tariff bill came to a close at 6 o'clock this evening, when the house, by a vote of 182 to 107, decided to discharge the house conferees from further consideration of the bill, recede from its opposition to the 64 senate amendments and agree to the same.

It was a complete victory for the senate. The house made an absolute surrender.

The democrats who voted against the motion were: Mr. Cochran of New York, Covert of New York, Davey of Alabama, Danphy of New York, Everett of Massachusetts, Gorman of Michigan, Hendrix of New York, Jonson of Ohio, Meyer of Alabama, Price of Alabama, Tarsney of Missouri, Warner of New York.

The Populists voted for the motion.

OTHER BILLS.

The free coal bill was passed by the house—yeas, 160; nays, 104. Arguing present, 1.

Mr. Wilson then stated he was dis-lected by the committee to present the bill placing iron ore on the free list. Mr. Wilson said he did not wish to consume any time. The bill passed.

The vote to put barbed wire on the free list was—Yeas, 187; nays, 84.

After the free sugar bill had been reported Mr. Robertson, of Louisiana, offered an amendment reducing the bounty on sugar one eighth yearly from July 1, 1895, to July 1, 1901.

The yeas and nays were then ordered, the republican joining with the democrats in voting for the free sugar bill, it passing—276 to 11.

At 10:25, the house adjourned until Wednesday.

THE OMAHA STRIKE.

OMAHA, Aug. 13.—All the packing houses were running almost their full capacity to-day and many men were turned away who applied for work. The packers say that a great many of their old men showed up for work and those who are needed were taken back and the other were paid off and told that they would be sent for if wanted. Some of the old men will never be taken back.

The strikers seem to be satisfied to let matters take their regular course and they do not propose to interfere with any men who go to work. The packers fear that after the militia is gone the strikers will again commence to intimidate their workmen, and are not in favor of releasing the militia for another week at least.

CHINESE FLEET HAS DISAPPEARED.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13.—There has been no confirmation of the reported engagement between the Chinese Pei Yang squadron and the Japanese fleet. The Chinese fleet seems to have disappeared and its whereabouts is a mystery. Report has it that Chinese war vessels may shortly be heard from off the Japanese coast.

Charm of New England Scenery.

There is something in the New England which is permanently attractive. It is never wearisome, never monotonous. In winter the White hills are sternly serene and beautiful in their mantles of snow, and though less inviting than in summer appeal to the imagination with striking effect. The variety of hill and valley is such that even when the snow covers the ground and nature takes on the appearance of uniformity the charm of the view is not lost, but heightened.

I have found the White mountains on a frosty winter morning, with heavy clouds sweeping over the shoulders of Mount Washington, and the snow white peak glistening in the sun as if it were covered with diamonds, irresistibly attractive to the imagination and awakening strong emotions which could not easily be controlled. There was a severity in their outlines which never appears when they are clothed in the evergreen and the browns of the heated season.—Donahoe's Magazine.
