POLITICAL STRAWS.

The Enquirer admits that the fight being made against Hon. B. H. Roberts is "vicious and unjust." Pity the local g. o. p. organ doesn't "take a tumble" to itself and stop its "vicious and unjust" fight against the Democratic county ticket.

Probably the hardest county the Republicans have to tackle this year is Juab. On the east, or Nephi side, nothing but wool and the tariff goes, on the west, or Tintic side, nothing but silver is listened to. It places the average Republican orator in a hard box, and if the party management was wise it would leave Juab alone. It will be straight Democratic nearly three to one.

The Lehi Banner falsifies our intent and language when it says that we say Otto F. Malmberg will furnish us money to bet on his own election or the election of anyone else. What we said, and still say that money can be found, and we can find it, to cover any bets which the wild-eyed goldbugs of Utah, of which Brother Carroll is a representative, can dig up. Mr. Malmberg is out of this proposition.

Jacob Evans, Democratic candidate for county attorney, is having great success in his canvass of the county.

John E. Booth expressed great enthusiasm over the Omaha Exposition and says he enjoyed his eastern trip immensely. He has now settled down to the management of the animals for the local g. o. p.

Senator Jos. L. Rawlins and Hon. S. R. Thurman addressed an enthusiastic meeting at Alpine Thursday evening.

A very satisfactory Democratic rally was held at Cedar Fort Wednesday evening. The meeting was addressed by State Senator Abel John Evans, Jacob Evans and A. M. Davis, Democratic candidates for county attorney and county commissioner.

U. S. Senator Jos. L. Rawlins, who has just completed a canvass of Uintah, Carbon and Emery counties, gives a most satisfactory review of the situation from a Democratic standpoint. He says all the Democrats are enthusiastic and confident of success. Uintah county is unquestionably Democratic. Carbon county has been known as a Republican stronghold, but this year the Democrats have the best of reasons to expect its redemption. Emery county will undoubtedly roll up a big Democratic majority for the general ticket, and as local differences are healed, the county ticket will follow suit. Senator Rawlins estimates Roberts' plurality at from 1000 to 1800, and we believe his estimate is inside.

No meeting was held at Goshen last night as advertised owing to the hall having been previously engaged.

The Democratic doctrine of 16 to 1 is well illustrated by an ear of corn on exhibition at Democratic headquarters. The top of the ear is yellow field corn and all the remainder white sweet corn in the proportion of about 16 to 1. The ear of corn was presented by John Warner and is proudly regarded by Chairman Smoot as an evidence of nature's faith in Democratic principles.

Senator A. O. Smoot and Jos. T. McEwan, Democratic candidates for State Senator and county commissioner, held a highly successful meeting at Provo Bench on last Thursday evening. The hall was crowded and the meeting in marked contrast to the Republican rally(?) of last Saturday evening at the same place. Provo Bench is all right for the Democratic ticket.

Editor UTAH COUNTY DEMOCRAT:
DEAR SIR:—In your paper of 26th you copy from the American Fork World that the Enquirer accuses the lodges of influencing Democratic nominations. The World seems to think it too bad the Enquirer cannot say something it has at least a little proof for and be fair and just. Tell the World to save its ink. The Enquirer never does things fair, it don't want proof, it is not the mission of the Enquirer to deal in truth and justice. In fact I would compare that (the Enquirer) paper to Richard the III who was born with teeth and thus came to snarl and bite.

BEAN A WINNER.

"MORMON CYCLONE" KNOCKS FARRELL OUT IN 9 ROUNDS.

A Hard Fight and Both Men In to Win—It Was No Fake and Both of the Principals Received Severe Punishment.

The ten-round match between Willard W. Bean, champion of Utah, and Laurence Farrell of Colorado, took place in the I. O. O. F. hall in Eureka last Thursday evening. It was a hard fight with both men out to win and the large crowd in attendance undoubtedly received their money's worth. The conditions of the match were that Farrell should knock Bean out in ten rounds, but as the fight resulted, Bean whipped his man in nine rounds. The result was largely a surprise as Farrell was at least 30 pounds heavier than Bean and has had much more ring experience. Three preliminary bouts preceded the main event of the evening between local sports as follows: L. C. Johnson of Mercur and W. J. Trezou of Silver City, Jake Beaman of Silver City and Oren Kelly of Mammoth, Jack Laher and E. W. Packer, both of Eureka. All of these contests were lively and whetted the appetite of the crowd for the main event.

The fight proper was delayed about 45 minutes by the slowness of Farrell in getting ready, and it was over 11 o'clock before the principals met in the ring. Billy Wilson and Geo. Harrison acted as Bean's seconds, while Jack Laher and E. Packer performed a similar service for Farrell. Herb Slade, the Moari, was referee and Jack Lewis time-keeper.

Bean weighed in at 154 pounds and Farrell at about 185. From the start the fighting was fast and furious. The men clinched frequently, and both struck in the breakaways. Farrell forced the fighting, and in the second round drew first blood by a vicious punch on Bean's nose.

At the end of the second round Bean was bleeding freely, but Farrell showed little signs of punishment. Bean threw Farrell twice in this round, when the men clinched.

The third round was full of hard fighting, both men playing for the face. Farrell opened the fourth round by landing hard several times on Bean's face and neck, and getting several stiff ones in return. Farrell had much the best of it at the finish, however, and Bean was very groggy at the close of the round, and staggered to his corner. In this round Bean dislocated his right thumb by one of his vicious punches on Farrell's face.

The fifth round was rather tame. Both men showed effects of the hard fighting, and clinched frequently to avoid punishment. Commencing with this round Bean changed his tactics, making most of his play at Farrell's head. The result showed his wisdom as the body punches received by Farrell evidently did the business.

In the sixth round Bean was almost out twice, but landed several stiff punches on the Colorado man, and finished with a shade the best of it.

In the seventh and eighth rounds the fighting was vicious. Bean rushed Farrell frequently, but in return received considerable punishment, and was covered with blood when time was called.

The ninth and last round opened tamely enough, but was speedily finished by Bean, who justified his title to the name of "Mormon cyclone" by a terrific ruck and half a dozen hard blows on Farrell's body followed up by a severe cut under the ear that ended the battle. He rushed Farrell to the ropes. From there Farrell staggered across the ring and fell, face downward, and was counted out.

Those who expected the fight to be a fake were undoubtedly disappointed as the contest was certainly for a result. At the opening Referee Slade stated that the contest must be a fight or there would be no decision, and absolutely refused to allow the numerous fouls claimed. The result of the fight is most satisfactory to Provo as Bean is a great favorite here and all now admit Bean's claim to the title of "Champion of Utah." We hope the next fight he has will be pulled off at Provo and Willard given a chance to show our home people what he can do.

RETURNS OF BRITISH TRADE.

Increased Export of Machinery and Decreased Imports of Other Articles.
British trade returns for the six months ending June 30 show a slight increase in the exports, principally in machinery, but the imports continue to have the same tendency to augment the adverse balance already noticed at the end of each previous month of the present year. The excess of imports over exports for the last six months amounts to $495,756,250, being over $100,000,000 greater than in 1892, and more than $144,000,000 over 1893. The steady and continuous decline in British trade appears to be attracting a good deal of attention from foreign governments, among others the Swedish, which has caused a special report to be drawn up on the subject. This report, comparing the production of iron ore in England from 1871 to 1895 with that in Germany and the United States, shows the English output to have gone down from 16,957,000 tons to 12,249,000, while the German output has more than doubled, and that of this country has risen from a yearly average of 4,532,900 to one of 11,288,600 tons. The production of ore for the same period in Spain increased ninefold. The production of pig iron in England as compared with that produced all over the world has sunk from 46.3 to 27.5 per cent, and that of this country has risen from 16.1 to 30.9 per cent. In the output of coal England still has the lead in the world's production, but is gradually losing it, her proportion having fallen from 47 to 34 per cent, while that of Germany has risen slightly from 17 to 18 per cent, but that of this country from 17 to 30. Of the general trade of the four greatest trading countries, Germany, France, Great Britain and the United States, the first and last named have increased each 15 per cent, that of France has steadily declined, and that of England has increased only 2.5 per cent. The state of things described in the Swedish report appears to be causing something of a panic in commercial circles in England, and more attention is being given to the growing competition of this country. The fear that Germany was going to prove the successful rival of England in the world's trade is giving place to a greater fear of the unrivaled power of production of this country, and of its singularly advantageous position in respect to the most thickly populated section of the earth, western Europe and eastern Asia. The startling revelations of the trade statistics of this country for the last year have opened wide the eyes of those in England who have hitherto regarded Germany as the most dangerous competitor, and the danger is recognized to be the more serious because the rivalry of Germany was in price only at the expense of quality, while that of this country extends to both price and quality. Surely a greater than Germany is here, says one of the English financial organs, commenting upon the wonderful showing of American trade statistics for the last fiscal period, and it asks in all seriousness if the moment can really be at hand when England will cease to be the shopkeeping nation of the world, and will have to take off its hat in farewell to its former customers and retire from business.—Ex.

In the matter of the estate of Swan Freed, deceased, Abraham Halliday, W. J. Taylor and Luke Cook were appointed appraisers.

In the matter of the estate of Alonzo Pearce, deceased, final account and report of administrator was heard and approved.
In the matter of the estate of Wm. Fausett, deceased, report and petition for partial distribution was heard and approved, and petition granted.

The divorce case of Kitty A. Hines vs. R. S. Hines has taken up most of the time of the court this week. The direct evidence of the plaintiff was concluded Thursday afternoon, and since that time the defendant has been on the stand considerable of the time. The evidence is very conflicting and it is impossible, as well as unwise, for us to attempt to prognosticate the result. As to the evidence, we also believe the case has been discussed sufficiently and refrain from giving the details. The case is still in progress as we go to press.

Oldest of the Glass-Blowers.
James Laughlin Michels is the Grass Old Man of the glass blowing trade. His experience extends from the days when methods were crude and undeveloped to this age of machinery and rapid production. It began with the apprenticeship labor system, at the very inception of the conflict between capital and labor, and covers the stirring period which witnessed the birth of trades unions and the emancipation of the workman, mechanic and artisan. And in this vast movement Michels took a most active part. His efforts find their fruit in the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and in the Window Glass Workers' association. To Michels belongs the distinction of having laid the foundations on which both of these powerful unions were built, and he has lived to see them wield a mighty influence in the industrial world. Michels is a hale, hearty man. He is still at work at his trade. He is yet able to lift the blower's pipe and turn out single or double strength. He is the oldest glass blower in the United States still engaged at his trade. His form is erect, his step firm and his lungs sound as a drum. His intellect is keen and a brightness about his eyes shows the intelligent, kindly disposition of the man, old in years but young in spirit. He was born near Nowville, Mifflin township, Cumberland county, Pennsylvania, March 17, 1832.—Pittsburg Dispatch.
