It is needless to say that they enjoyed themselves. -Mr. A. M. Shreckengost recently purchased a band of sheep from Fred Hoffer. "Shreck" is a good man, and we hope he will grow immensely rich. -E. THE TRIBUNE grants full and free consent. -The threshing machines are making things hum in Boise valley. Grain is turning out well. The first crop of wheat on Geo. Stafford's sage brush land yielded over thirty bushels per acre.

A Letter From Our Tourists. "Smitten Rock," Two miles above the Falls, Long Valley, Idaho. Sunday, August 12, 1888. All quietly resting in camp content and happy among the tall pines, on the green grass, among the hills, with the purest spring water to drink, with the finest scenery before our eyes the world affords. Yes happy, amid happy nature! At this moment our children have climbed to a summit rock two hundred feet higher than our camp, and joyfully haloo whoopee to us. Ed. Maxey brought in the first venison. Charlie Oakes and Willie Maxey the next one. Rev. Gwinn is champion on grouse and carries the big knife. Mrs. Little and our Mary have seen the only bear, which came into camp and was voraciously consuming the contents of the grub box. Dr. Maxey was quietly called, and he with a 40-82 Winchester and night clothes succeeded in frightening the monster out of camp. It is a question whether the gun or the night clothes scared his bearship. Trout fishing at Tripod was excellent. One week ago to-day Rev. Gwinn and Dr. Maxey went up on an exceeding high mountain and were tempted of the devil. Mrs. Gwinn was quite sick at the Tripod, but is spry as a girl now. While making the ascent of Squaw Creek divide night came on and we were compelled to camp among the great rocks. While all hands were busy preparing camp, some one raised the cry of Snakes. Our rest that night was startling, except Charlie Oakes and Will Maxey, who affirm that they kept the serpents out of their bed by surrounding it with a hair rope on the ground. They say the serpents would cautiously crawl up and stick their heads over the rope and then draw back. The explanation to the mystery was that the rope tickled their throats. H. N. Maxey and ye correspondent, while watching a deer lick, heard the native growl and snort of bruin, which made us feel anxious. Now I must close. Capt. Little and Dr. Maxey wish me to say that it is impossible for them to get home by the 18th, but will probably roll in about the 22nd. We start tomorrow morning for the lakes, and will return by the meadows. I forgot to state that Huckleberries are excellent and abundant, and our lips are blue by partaking thereof. I can not tell you more now. SAUNCH. LATER-Party have arrived and promise another article next week. -Ed. Put Up and Shut Up. A wise man has said that betting is the last argument of a fool. There is nothing so disgusting and disagreeable as the fiend who always wants to bet. It is usually his only argument on all questions. If a man expresses an opinion on any topic that does not conform with his ideas, his first words are, "I'll bet you so-and-so." That is his one and only argument. Of course any sensible man knows that "I'll bet you" is no argument, and turns away disgusted. Then the betting fiend inflates himself like a bull frog, and to an admiring crowd of his own calibre, tells how he shut Mr. Blank up on the tariff question, and is happy in his superior wisdom and argumentative powers. And he has a right to be. It takes a mammoth intellect and profound thought and study to say "I'll bet you." It carries conviction with it to some people. Caldwell has her share of the betting species. A man hardly dare express an honest and intelligent opinion without some crank with more money than brains, confronts him with the unanswerable, overwhelming argument "I'll bet you." True, a ten year old boy can use this conviction-carrying phrase as well as a statesman, but then it takes years of deep study and experience to say it in that haughty, cold-blooded, patronizing way that admits of no argument. A wager on the probable result of anything is all right, but the betting fiend never makes a wager. He don't want to bet, he merely uses his only argument. But what we started out to say is that those who bet had best shut up as soon as they put up, as the following from the Revised Code of Idaho will explain: Sec. 6366. Every person who makes, offers or accepts any bet or wager upon the result of any election, or upon the success or failure of any person or candidate, or upon the number of votes to be cast, either in the aggregate or for any particular candidate, or upon the vote to be cast by any person, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Sec. 6213. Except in cases where a different punishment is prescribed by this Code, every offense declared to be a misdemeanor, is punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars or both.

-The Nappa artesian well is progressing rapidly. -If you are going to vote this year you must register. Do it at once. -Mr. H. R. Steavenson has been slightly under the weather the past week. -The Caldwell Fair Association has evidently turned up its tender toes to the daisies. -Judge Beaty is taking the school census. We will print the report next week. -Jas. Wardwell and daughter, Miss Elsie, of Emmett, were in town several days this week. -There was over one hundred cars of live stock shipped from Caldwell in the month of June. -Have you seen the Sierra Buck Glove for sale at Gwinn's? Get a pair and secure the $500 prize. -Born, near Parma, August 16, 1888, to Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fletcher, a fine son of standard weight. -Boise City has 722 children of school age-360 boys and 362 girls. It census shows a gain of 62 over last year. -Jim. Wardwell tells us that Hammersly and others at Emmett, have discovered a mineral spring just above town. -The monthly gospel, temperance meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Baptist church, Sunday evening, August 26. -The W. C. T. U. will meet at Mrs. J. H. Packard's, Saturday, August 25, at 7:30 p. m. Members are requested to be present. -Hon. P. J. Peley, Lord Mayor of Boise City, was in town several days this week. Caldwell was on her good behavior during his presence. -Mrs. S. D. Hartkopf returned from her eastern visit this week. Her brother, who desired to see something of the "wild and woolly west" accompanied her home. -J. V. Parker and Hoyt Sherman, two U. P. railway officials, stopped all night in Caldwell last Thursday night. Inasmuch as they did not stop at Nampa this time, we can very safely claim a boom. -Dr. Maxey informs us that he met our old friend E. J. Smith in Long Valley. Mr. Smith informed the Dr. that a recent census showed a population of over 300 souls in Long Valley, and immigrants still pouring in. -The latest move in telephone matters is to put in an exchange at Emmett. It will connect at Star, thus affording Emmett direct communication with both Caldwell and Boise City. We understand that Caldwell will take $150 in stock. -J. O. Baker, the enterprising clothier of Boise City, was in town last Sunday. Baker has recently added a first-class tailor shop to his establishment, and will make suits to order in the latest styles at reasonable prices. -Charley Hartley, with his usual enterprise, was the first patriot to lay his trophy at THE TRIBUNE'S feet, in the shape of one of the largest and finest watermelons that grows in Idaho's soil, and that can not be beat. Melons are not so plentiful as usual this fall. -There must have been an exodus at Ontario last Monday. We noticed the following gentleman from that town on our streets: T. T. Danilow, W. L. Geary, R. S. Rutherford, W. E. Hulery, J. M. Heady and C. K. Clark. The "Bazoo" man must have been on a tear and cleared the town. Hope he'll do it often. -Capt. Abner Packard has sold his interest in the Willow Creek sheep ranch to his former partner Robert Aikman, or better known as "Scotch Bob." All of Bob's friends here wish him plenty of range and two bits a pound for wool. It is rumored that the Captain has now come out for free trade and Cleveland. It is but fair to say that the rumor was started by a naughty democrat. -The exploring party, under command of Capt. Little, arrived home Thursday evening. We can conscientiously say, and without fear of successful contradiction, that of all the down-right tough-looking outfits that ever struck the town, this caravan took the cake. Dogs barked, children cried, timid women locked their doors, cayotes slunk away and hid, cattle stampeded, and brave, resolute men armed with shot-guns and pitch forks went out to see by what authority the supposed strangers invaded our sacred precincts. By voicing for each other they at last succeeded in making themselves known, and they were allowed to enter town under guard. Friday morning, however, they appeared on the streets as bright and fresh as a daisy, and with the exception of a little tan, as natural as ever. They report having a glorious time and tell some good fish stories, but as no one has yet laid claims to killing a bear, the glory of Rev. Boone shines undimmed.

-When you want anything in the line of Gents' Furnishing goods remember Gwinn has the finest assortment ever brought to Caldwell. -The Board of Trade will elect directors as soon as a quorum can be obtained. Why not send for the Omaha printers? They are probably interested enough to attend. -Mr. John McMahon and son and daughter, of Sucoor Creek, arrived in town last Thursday. On Friday the son and daughter left to attend school, the son going to an Oregon college while the daughter goes to California. -Many bodily ills result from habitual constipation, and a fine constitution may be weakened and ruined by simple neglect. There is no medicine, for regulating the bowels and restoring a natural action to the digestive organs, equal to Ayer's Pills. -Everybody who desires to vote must register. The registration books will be open every Saturday afternoon. Do not delay or neglect to register, as your ballot will not be received unless you are registered. Drop into the Judge's office and take the blood-curdling oath this afternoon. -A letter from the Long Valley party which appears this week, was received to late for publication last week. Since the return of the party, it has leaked out that the bear that Dr. Maxey scared out of camp, proved to be a defenceless old cow which was enjoying a quiet lunch on crackers. -It would appear from an article in the West Shore Magazine, that Portland, Oregon, is the center of manufactures for the great Columbia River region, and possesses advantages calculated to make it the great manufacturing point of the Pacific coast. The West Shore is an illustrated magazine, the only one on the Pacific coast, and makes a specialty of describing and illustrating the west in all its features. Artistically and typographically, it is the peer of any publication in the United States, and its literary standard is a high one. As a family magazine it has no superior, and as an exponent of the resources of the west, no rival. Subscription, $2.50 per year. Published by L. Samuel, Portland, Oregon. -Keep Your Money in the Country By buying your lumber of home mills. I have on hand an immense stock of well-seasoned lumber, which I will sell from this date until January 1, 1889, at the following low rate for cash: Common lumber, $10 per thousand; dressed lumber $15 to $22.50, according to quality; shingles, warranted full count, $3.50 per thousand. Now is the time to buy lumber. I need money and must have it, and will give you bargains. JAS. WARDWELL, Emmett, Idaho. -HELPING THE RIGHT SIDE. To help the right side is not only commendable in a general political sense, but is also a wise and prudent course in the case of the individual. The right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most common ailment of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vomiting, an unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, is a complaint, called by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its 4th. Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, N. J., says: "I was down with consumption for two years, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable case. I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and now on my third bottle, and able to resume my work as usual. It is the best medicine ever made." "I have Middlebury, Decatur, Ohio, says: "I had not been bed-ridden for two years, and was told that I would never be able to get up. I had used various cough balms and expectorants, without obtaining relief. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and was happy to say that it helped me at once. By continued use of this medicine I was cured of my cough, and I am now as well as ever. -Mrs. E. Coburn, 18 Second St., Lowell, Mass. I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for over a year, and sincerely believe I should have died had it not been for this medicine.
