NO. 144.

CALDWELL, IDAHO, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1892.

$3.00 PER YEAR

THE LOCAL ROUND-UP

The All-Seeing Eye and Big Ears of "The Tribune" Do Service.

Items Roped and Branded With the Iron of Truth—People and Things Which You Are Interested In.

A full line of school supplies at Wright's drug store.

Mrs. Louis Ruebelmann, of Pocatello, visited friends and relatives in Caldwell this week.

The latest bark upon the journalistic sea is the Wallace Democrat. We wish it a pleasant voyage.

This is only a scheme to inform you that we can furnish your children with all school supplies. Blatchley.

Mr. Woodward, of Boise City, attending the College of Idaho, made THE TRIBUNE a pleasant call last week.

Miss Bloch, of Boise City, occupied Mrs. Mann's place in the primary department of the public schools this week.

D. Kelleher purchased the Woods property on Kimball street this week. Price $1,250. He takes immediate possession.

Mrs. S. D. Hartkopf visited friends at Weiser this week, and Sam is trying the bachelor act. He don't look as though it agreed with him.

Rev. Hicks reports a grand prohibition victory in South Carolina—the legislature having been elected on that issue by a majority of 10,000.

Nancy Hanks has lowered her own record to 2:04 on a regulation track. Steam engines had better look to their laurels. Monbars also lowered Axtell's three-year-old stallion record to 2:11 1/2.

W. W. Woods moved to his ranch property south of town this week. He has just completed a fine 7-room dwelling and other improvements on his claim, and is nicely and pleasantly situated.

Mr. T. T. Danilson, the merchant prince of Ontario, Oregon, spent a few days in Caldwell this week. Mr. Danilson owns one of the most valuable corners on Main street which will some day be worth a fortune in itself.

Alex. Hoover raffled a fine combination chair, valued at $50 last Monday night. Hereafter when Hon. H. K. Hartley sinks into its luxurious depths he will recall the old adage that it is better to be born lucky than rich.

Subscribers to THE TRIBUNE are exempt from the cholera. We have made arrangements with the cholera bacteria to keep off of all TRIBUNE subscribers who are paid up to date. Delinquents will have to pay up or shift for themselves.

In another column will be found a notice calling a special session of the district court on October 24, 1892. The session is called expressly for the purpose of naturalization of citizens, and no other business of any nature will be done.

A New York newspaper, the Recorder, has distinguished itself by coming out on paper chemically treated with carbolic acid, and furnishing a doctor's certificate that to carry the paper in one's pocket is a sure preventive of cholera.

The Central Lumber Co. are nothing if not pushers. They have already forced the product of their mills on the Payette as far east as Pocatello and Idaho Falls. They will corral the entire lumber trade of South Idaho yet. Caldwell is the great distributing point.

While in Portland TRIBUNE the small had the pleasure of taking dinner with Capt. and Mrs. W. L. Geary formerly of this place. They are most pleasantly located and are pleased with Portland. They have not forgotten Idaho friends, however, and follow their movements through THE TRIBUNE with a great deal of interest.

Something for Breakfast! see our window. "The Finest" is the place to get a variety of the best goods to eat.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Glenn is very sick with typhoid malaria.

Dressmakers please take notice: Oakes Bros. have the best dress linings in the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Murray, of Payette, formerly of this valley, are rejoicing over the advent of a fine daughter.

Mrs. Ed. Melvin, of Bowman, is home again after a two month's stay at her daughter's on the Payette, near Emmett.

Only an advertisement to remind you that Blatchley always has a full stock of drugs, toilet articles, wall paper and paints.

The mandolin orchestra gave a very pleasant dance at the Athletic hall last Monday evening. About twelve were present and enjoyed the evening's pleasure.

THE TRIBUNE enjoyed a social visit from Hon. J. M. Ballentine, of Star, democratic candidate for house of representatives from Ada county, last Thursday.

From a Mountain Home paper we learn that Brunt Young is still on the sick list and has gone to Boise City for treatment. Friends in Caldwell extend sympathy and trust to soon hear of his complete recovery.

The shelfware for the Caldwell Pharmacy has not arrived yet, which delays the dispensing department, but anything else in the drug, patent medicine, or toilet article line you may want, can be found there. North room of Masonic block.

Picard & Roberts have about completed their stone warehouse, and a very substantial looking structure it is. They can now lie down to pleasant dreams without the nightmare of being roasted alive over the flames of their shop.

E. L. Waggoner, of Boise City, republican candidate for sheriff, paid his respects to the subsidized press of Caldwell last Wednesday. He is an affable gentleman and will make Clay Branstetter get a Waterbury movement on himself.

Col. H. R. Steavenson and Col. Fay, of Denver, Colorado, went up into the upper Payette country after bar some days ago and have not yet returned. We rather expect that grizzly pelts will be a drug on the market when they get back.

Chas. Oaks, of Emmett, was a TRIBUNE caller last Tuesday. He says Payette valley was blessed with abundant crops this year, and that prosperity is the rule. The ditch work in that valley this summer has furnished a good market for the farmer's produce.

Corbett has written THE TRIBUNE and offered us $2,500,000 to withdraw our challenge to fight him to a finish. We may possibly accept, but if we do we shall challenge the next best man in the world, Uncle Dan'l Bacon, of Nampa. After all our training we must fight somebody.

A. J. Crook and James Gunn, candidates for governor and congress respectively, on the peoples ticket, dropped in upon this subsidized newspaper last Wednesday for a short time. They are both pleasant and agreeable gentlemen and enthusiastic over the prospects of their party.

The political atmosphere is being stirred considerable of late. We look, however, for a very tame campaign. The people's party, the prohibition party and the Australian ballot law have completely knocked old party landmarks, and candidates this year have to feel their way cautiously. The result will be watched with greater anxiety than ever, but the battle will be tame.

We have just received a letter from Grover Cleveland thanking us very much for our kind advice and suggestions in relation to his letter of acceptance. He adds as a postscript that Frankie and baby Ruth are enjoying good health, and that they just couldn't keep house without THE TRIBUNE. We want to inform Mr. Cleveland right here that he is two months in arrears on our books, and unless he remits at once we shall strike his name from the immortal scroll. A word to the wise is sufficient. ☺

Badley, the smoke vender. Oakes Bros. show up the best line of fancy dress trimmings.

THE TRIBUNE detective spent four hours this week trying to locate the tower for the fire bell. We suppose it has gone out to hunt up the Board of Trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Olmstead's little boy was very sick with cholera infantum this week and for a time was in a very precarious condition. We are pleased to announce that at present the little fellow is recovering.

What has become of the republican press association? It should be fumigated to relieve it of partisan odor and then take steps to do a little effective work for the good of Idaho journalism. Business should be the order and not politics and pleasure excursions.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Richardson and family, who have been visiting with Eli Wilson's at Bowman, for the past ten days, started for their Kansas home Wednesday morning. Eli made a short visit to Boise last Tuesday with his relatives, showing them the sights of capital.

Wm. C. Dunbar and Jack Anderson went over Snake river, near the Warm Springs ferry, last Sunday, to investigate the opal finds in that locality. They returned with some nice specimens, but are very reticent regarding their trip. It is the supposition that they have struck it rich.

Walt Sebree, Maurice Stiles and H. Dunbar went out on a little hunting excursion last Sunday and returned with 19 big mallards. They intend going up to John Thomas' ranch and stay with it two or three days, and promise that THE TRIBUNE skeleton will be remembered.

Bayard T. Templeton has been engaged to teach the coming term of school at Marble Front, which will open Monday. Mr. Templeton is an able, competent teacher—has state certificates from both Illinois and Iowa—and the patrons of the Marble Front district will have a good school.

That delightful society which the ladies call the Coffee Kitch, has been revived and Mrs. Tom K. Little entertained her friends Thursday. This society creates some interest in the masculine mind from the fact that no horrid man has ever been permitted to enter its sacred precincts. It is a kind of a stand-off for "Lodge" as it were.

Wes. Ricker, a good-natured stockman from across Snake river, imbibed too much Caldwell sheep dip and gave a very interesting snake exhibition Monday night. He was placed under the care of a physician, who succeeded in bringing him out all right, but he had a close call. Wes, you are too good a man to abuse yourself in such a way.

A new industry is to be opened up in Caldwell, and the building is now in course of construction. H. Y. Gwynn & Co., of Pocatello, will open up a hide, oil and coal house. They have procured ground between Isham's ice house and the Central Lumber yards, and have let the contract for a fine building to be erected at once. We learn that Mr. John Zehner, now with the De Lamar Mercantile Co., will have charge of the business, and that he is expected to arrive in Caldwell in a few days. This is one of Pocatello's oldest and most successful firms, and they will undoubtedly step into a good business at Caldwell.

Rev. Hicks and wife, Dr. Stalker John Lively, and Miss Anna Cook, returned from Payette last Monday where they had been attending the annual meeting of Idaho Baptist Association. They report a pleasant and interesting meeting. Eleven congregations well represented and nine ministers were in attendance. A decided gain throughout the district was reported by pastors and missionaries. Rev. Lynn, of Portland, Oregon, who has taken a charge in the district, was ordained for the ministry. On the liquor question the Association took decided grounds in favor of "prohibition for the state and total abstinence for members." The next meeting will be held in Boise.

Commissioner Peck went give his papers but you can get this one from now until Jan. 1, 1893, for 50 cents.

Admission free at Oakes Bros. You furnish the feet; Oakes Bros furnish the shoes.

Blatchley is headquarters for school books and all school supplies.

You want customers; so do we. Advertise and we will both get them.

If you want to take a drive, remember that Johnson can be found at the old stand.

Adjustable hardwood window screens to fit any window, at Central Lumber Company.

The price of four drinks will keep you posted on national, state and local affairs until January 1, 1893. Try THE TRIBUNE.

The Good Templars Grand Lodge meets at Caldwell, October 19. The saloons are not as yet making any preparations for a rush.

All's not drugs that's bitter. But we will guarantee the quality of drugs at Blatchley's, and the price too, and endeavor to merit your confidence and patronage.

We serve notice on all our contemporaries right here that we shall make mention of the "sere and yellow leaf" next week. They will please govern themselves accordingly.

You can buy a pad of blank promissory notes for 25 cents at this office.

Read the new advertisement of the Montie B. Gwinn Mercantile Co. in this issue. It is pretty big but not near so large as their store. An unparalleled stock, competent and obliging clerks, and value for money received are some of the secrets of this firm's great success.

Messrs. Morrison, Reed, Coffin and Gwinn went down to Payette Thursday to hear Senator Fred T. Dubois and W. E. Borah expound the principles of the republican party. They came back more firmly convinced than ever that the only way to salvation is through the g. o. p.

Go to Wright's drug store for school books for your children.

Brunt and Mrs. Young were in Boise Tuesday, and upon consultation with physicians there it was advised that Mr. Young go into Boise for a month, at least, where the physicians could keep control of the patient at all times. So Mr. Young will go there for a while. —Mountain Home Range and Valley.

You read this, and so do 1000 others; suppose it was a local of yours.

Frank Hardy, for many years a resident of Jordan Valley, but now one of Caldwell's business men, took in the races at Silver, visited De Lamar and had a jolly time with his old friends in Owyhee, who are only numbered by his acquaintances. Everybody goes to see Frank when in Caldwell.—De Lamar Nugget.

William Lowe and family, left De Lamar Thursday to seek a new home. They go first to Nampa, but have not yet decided where they will locate. Mr. Lowe has for a long time been employed in the company's mill and finds his health failing, making a change necessary. We hope that good health and fortune may be his in the future.—De Lamar Nugget.

School books at Wright's drug store.

Stiles & Dunbar will have something to say to you every week on the last page of this paper. As a matter of business you should keep posted on trade and business as well as upon other topics. Sometimes two minutes spent in reading advertisements gives an idea that saves you many dollars. Can you make money faster. The careful buyer is the man who gets ahead in the world. It is not so much a question of income as it is of outgo. We know that we can give you many valuable pointers in the course of the year.

LOST.

A gold finger ring with a big smoky topaz set. Any person returning the same to Judge Healy will be suitably rewarded.

Remember you cannot vote unless you register now. The fact that you registered two years ago will not entitle you to a vote. Registrar Callaway can be found at the postoffice.

THEY AWOKE THE ECHOES

A. J. Crook and Capt. Gunn Bow to a Caldwell Audience.

Capt. Gunn Talks for an Hour and One-Half With Unflinching Interest—School Report.

A. J. Crook, candidate for governor, and Capt. Gunn, candidate for congress, of the peoples party, were in Caldwell Wednesday of this week and in the evening Capt. Gunn addressed an assembly on the issues of the day from his standpoint. The speaking was delivered from a wagon that had been placed in the street for the purpose and a large crowd composed mostly of farmers and workmen lined the sidewalks.

Those who attended the meeting in the hope of hearing the old parties roasted in the regulation style were disappointed—as the Capt. does not talk on those lines—but proceeded to enunciate his points and give his reason for each. At the outset the speaker said that he did not propose to let the committees of the two old parties set the issues this year—that finance was the main question before the people and not tariff; that people who had debts to pay wanted money; that they were not at all interested in tin plate, cut glass, and a few other small propositions about which the old parties were wrangling, in order to deceive and cover up the real issue of free coinage of silver, control of railroad monopolies, etc. The speaker then cited the creation of the democratic and republican parties as proof that reforms could not be successfully carried within the lines of the old parties. It was folly to hope that either the republican or democratic parties could give relief from the abuses now afflicting the country—such a course could only come from a new party pledged to such relief and that was the peoples party. As the speaker warmed to his work he gave his old party several severe body blows—but in a manner in which there was bitterness. He then proceeded to dissect and explain his party's platform and wound up with an eloquent appeal for all to vote for Weaver and Field and forever bury sectional hate and prejudice, and a government for the people would be the result.

BORN—In Caldwell, September 28, 1892, to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Badley, a fine girl baby.

If any of our citizens find rattle boxes in their mail or other evidences that the postmaster is a little off, we trust they will charitably remember the circumstances.

SCHOOL REPORT.

Report of Caldwell public schools for the month ending September 30, 1892.

Enrollment.....	138
Average daily attendance.....	121
Cases tardy.....	36
Truants.....	—
Corporal punishment.....	—
Suspension.....	—
Teacher's meetings.....	5

Parents are respectfully urged to see that the children are regular and punctual in attendance. One of the most important lessons of life is to learn to be on time. Parents and teachers, by uniting their efforts, can reduce the cases of tardiness to the minimum. By order of the board a child who is tardy three times, or absent three half days in four consecutive weeks, unexcused, is subject to suspension. It is to be hoped that parents will see that this measure will not need enforcement.

J. L. NIDAY, Superintendent.

TAKE NOTICE.

On account of holiday (Jom Kiper) my store will be closed Saturday, Oct. 1, 1892, until 6 o'clock p. m.

ISIDOR MAYER.

Send 50 cents for THE TRIBUNE to January 1, 1893. Blatchley the druggist.
