VOL 21, NO. 15

CALDWELL, IDAHO, SATURDAY, AUGUST 20, 1904

WEEKLY, $2.00 PER YEAR

HEITFELD IS NOMINATED

Democrats Named Ticket at Lewiston Tuesday

Governor — HENRY HEITFELD of Nez Perce.
 Lieutenant Governor — FRANK HARRIS of Washington.
 Congressman — F. H. HOLTZHEIMER of Bannock.
 Supreme Judge — N. H. CLARK of Custer.
 Secretary of State — J. J. WALLING of Canyon.
 Attorney General — KARL PAINE of Ada.
 Auditor — W. H. STUFFLEBEAM of Bingham.
 Treasurer — TIM REGAN of Ada.
 Superintendent of Schools — PERMEAL FRENCH of Blaine.
 Mine Inspector — M. J. LINCK of Shoshone.
 Presidential Electors — A. F. PARKER of Idaho, JOHN G. BROWN of Bingham, W. W. WOODS of Shoshone.

We pledge the Democratic party to enact such legislation as will effectually suppress this evil."

The platform presented by the majority of the resolutions committee declare allegiance to and reaffirmation of the National platform and every part; favored the enactment by legislation of a primary election law, whereby candidates for office shall be nominated by direct vote of the people; the adoption of a constitutional amendment passed by both houses of the Legislature enlarging the powers of the State land commission; opposed subsidies and special sugar bounty law now in force; opposed public officials riding on railroad passes; favored a judiciary of absolute purity and an eight-hour law.

On the question of Mormonism, the platform said, we are unalterably opposed to polygamy, adultery and unlawful cohabitation. We pledge the Democratic party to enact such legislation as will effectually suppress such evil. We declare that time and experience have vindicated the framers and founders of the constitution and Government of the United States in insisting on the complete separation of the church and state in political affairs. The constitution, the laws, public policy and Democratic traditions all require, as indispensable to good government, an untrammelled ballot and unbridged citizenship.

After a lengthy discussion, planks were adopted demanding taxation of timber on State lands, and denouncing the attempt to have the twenty-year term, during which standing timber purchased from the State, must be removed, increased in length, and pledging the party to effect reform in the State Treasurer's office so that all earnings from State funds shall accrue to the benefit of the State treasury. The platform as amended was adopted by acclamation.

The Democrats are overflowing with jubilation over the nomination of Gooding. Their joy is unbounded. He is just the man they can defeat with Henry Heitfeld with their hands tied behind their backs and both legs tightly hobbled. If the nominee had been Morrison or any other man the jubilation and joy would be just as unbounded. The hope and confidence of Democrats between nomination days and election is something beautiful to behold—a thing full of thrills and a joy—not forever—but until the votes are counted.—Idaho City World.

John F. Groome brought in a bunch of plums Tuesday that were the largest we have ever seen. He broke a limb off the tree about 12 inches long. The twig had 15 plums on it. Each was as large as a goose egg and off fine flavor.

Senator Hoar of Massachusetts is very ill and not expected to live. Mr. Hoar is 79 years old, and has been a member of the senate since 1877. Previous to his entering the senate, he served four terms in the house. He is also prominent in Unitarian church circles.

Considerable complaint has been made at this office that horses are allowed to stand tied to hitching posts all day in the blazing sun and often far into the night or all night without food or water. There should be a city ordinance regulating this matter and permitting the police to take horses found under such conditions put them in a livery stable and compel the owner to pay for their care.—Nampa Leader.

William E. Curtis writing to the Chicago Record says that some time ago a literary club of women in Michigan asked for certain information concerning members of the United States senate. Mr. Curtis submitted the question to a jury of well informed men and they furnished the information. One of the questions was, "Who is the least learned member of the senate?" Henry Heitfeld of Idaho, was the answer. That was quite a distinction for Idaho.

Avery C. Moore of Grangeville is in the city today on his way east on a business trip. Mr. Moore is the young Democrat who recently turned Republican on account of national affairs and the domination of Dubois in Idaho affairs. Speaking of the ticket at Lewiston this week Mr. Moore said that the only hope of success for it, in his opinion, was that the personal strength of Miss French might pull it through.—Pocatello Advance.

Melvin Bayse Little the two months old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Little, died Friday night, Aug. 12, of spinal meningitis. The little child was sick only one week but death was expected and the report circulated that he was dead several days before death came. The funeral services were held in the M. E. Church Saturday at 3 o'clock p. m. the interment taking place in the northside cemetery. The Record joins the many friends and neighbors in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.—Emmett Record.

TOMATO FARM QUITE LARGE

Former Caldwell Man is in Sunny California

The Monrovia (Cal.) News in its issue of August 6 contains an illustrated article on tomato culture which may be interesting to some of our readers, as the grower of the tomatoes formerly lived in Caldwell, and is well known here. Of Mr. Sebree's place the news says:

"One hundred and twenty acres devoted to tomatoes! The largest tomato farm on the coast, if not in the United States, is that found on the ranch of C. H. Sebree, two miles northwest of Monrovia, where the experiment of growing tomatoes on an extended scale has been proven a complete success.

"Three years ago Mr. Sebree purchased one hundred and thirty-four acres of land, being a portion of the celebrated Santa Anita rancho, with the intention of growing an orange grove, and being a frugal, thoughtful and scientific tiller of the soil, he set about to find something that he could cultivate with profit pending the time when his orange trees would come into bearing. A careful analysis of the soil and the mean temperature of his location, suggested the culture of the tomato on an extensive scale. He found that though the tomato plant is delicate and extremely sensitive to both heat and cold, that in this frostless and equable climate it could be grown the year round, and that as the local demand was greater than he could hope to supply, the returns financially were assured in advance.

"His ranch is on the northern portion of Santa Anita avenue, commanding a magnificent view of the San Gabriel valley and is well sheltered on all sides. He began at first with only a few acres, as the demand for product increased and its profitable growth demonstrated, he increased his acreage until at the present time he is cultivating more than one hundred acres to this choice table delicacy, and he finds that by being able to supply the market every day in the year the product of his acreage commands such prices as to make the venture financially a complete success. And when he has conquered the various details, great and small, such as picking, sorting, packing, shipping and selling, he will have established an enterprise of untold value to this valley.

"When he first began the experiment he did not foresee the great possibilities of his undertaking and the great scope it was destined to cover. His great success, thus far, leads him to the conclusion that his tomato farm will bring in greater returns, in profits, than the best kept orange grove in Southern California, and no danger of 'red ink' returns either.

"Up to this time he has confined his operations to the growing and packing of the best quality of table fruit, being unable to supply the demand in this line, but the growth is so prolific and the yield so heavy—the plant having a vigorous, heavy growth here—that he sees untold possibilities for tomato production in this valley for canning purposes—where many hundreds of acres can be profitably utilized for this purpose, giving clean, healthy and desirable employment to a great number.

"Mr. Sebree's undertaking is yet in its infancy; in time he proposes to pack his product in an acceptable shipping condition for the eastern market, and is sanguine that his open-air-winter-grown tomatoes will find ready sale at profit-producing prices."

Declare For Roosevelt.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance Co., is going to vote for Roosevelt and Fairbanks. He is a Democrat. His brother is Justice McCall of the Supreme court, elected on the Tammany ticket a year ago. Mr. McCall has been a life-long friend of Judge Parker. He is already working effectively for the success of the Republican ticket. The announcement last night at Democratic headquarters that Mr. McCall was out against Parker caused dismay.

Maj. John Byrne, president of Democratic Honest Money league in 1894 and 1900, which had branches in nineteen States and was instrumental in influencing any amount of gold Democrats to vote for President McKinley, has announced himself in favor of the election of President Roosevelt. He says the Democratic party failed to put itself on record at St. Louis as in favor of honest money and national integrity. Grover Cleveland, he said, could not have been nominated at St. Louis, because he is a Democrat.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Mrs. M. E. Fuller Dead

Sorrenso, Maine, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Mary E. Fuller, wife of Chief Justice Fuller, of the United States supreme court, died here suddenly yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Fuller was the daughter of William F. and Jane Brown Coolbaugh, and was born in Burlington, Iowa, Aug. 19, 1845. She is survived by her husband and seven daughters and one son.

The death of Mrs. Fuller occurred while she was sitting on the piazza of her summer cottage, "Mainstay," at Sorrento. Death was caused by heart disease.

Killed A Mountain Lion.

W. F. Burns of Nampa, who is working some mining claims in the country beyond Hailey, writes a letter home giving a thrilling account of his encounter with a huge mountain lion. He had just gone out to a lake, intending to camp out alone and kill a deer the next morning. He had just built a fire when he looked up and saw the lion about a hundred yards away. He immediately commenced to pump lead into the animal, and at the first shot the lion started toward him, "end over end" and seemed to come faster with every shot. Mr. Burns fired four shots before he brought the beast down, and at that time it was not over twenty steps away, decidedly too close for comfort, as the letter states. Mr. Burns shouldered his game and made his way back to the camp of his companions. He states that there is plenty of big game in that vicinity and he proposes to bring down some more of it before he returns.—Nampa Herald.

Time to Get Up

Saturday will be the last time the Enterj rise stage goes from Caldwell. The postoffice department has changed it to Nampa. This should remind the business men of Caldwell that they must be up and doing. While the stage from Caldwell to Enterprise does not amount to much, yet it certainly brought a little business to the town. Every little helps. While Caldwell is busy building million dollar sugar factories and hot air electric lines, Nampa is picking up the little snaps right at home. It is time that Caldwell business men were doing something. No longer should we peacefully rest on reputations or dream of metropolitan greatness while Emmett, Nampa and Parma are getting the business that should come here.

The Canyon County Fair.

Mr. Jessie Gowan of the Canyon County Fair Association assures us that the County fair will be a great success this year. Gratifying reports from all over the County are coming in and the various committees are hard at work. The exhibits will be larger and more diversified than ever before and there will be a much greater attendance. The association has a contracted with Beasley's & Dorsey's Combined Shows for a series of entertainments and concerts during the fair. It is the intention to combine the attractions of the regular county fair and the usual Carnivals, Beasley and Dorseys are well known Carnival people. Their performances are clean and entertaining, and everything connected with the fair and carnival will be conducted in a straightforward and progressive manner.

COMPARATIVE SHOWING OF COUNTY ASSESSMENTS

County assessments have all been reported to the state auditor, and schedules have been completed for the use of the state board of equalization which held its first session today.

The increase over last year in valuation amounts to nearly a million dollars although a lower value has been placed on some articles than obtained last year. The following table shows the assessed valuation in each county for 1903 and as returned for the present year:
