

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

J. F. Clinton, a Boise capitalist, was a courting in Caldwell Monday.

Robt. Alkmar, one of the Boise city aldermen, was in Caldwell Monday.

R. A. Cowden's family left Tuesday for their new home at Silverton, Oregon.

Will Pucket, said to be the handsomest lawyer in Boise, was attending court Tuesday and Wednesday.

Horse pasture on the Dorman Ranch for sale. Not a barb wire on the ranch. Bell phone 282 Red 4.

Ed. Beers, of the Jordan Valley country, drove in a band of cattle Tuesday for shipment to Bozeman, Mont.

B. F. Walling, of the firm of Walling & Walling, of Nampa, had business in Judge Bryan's court this week.

John Drennan has sold his interest in the feed business to his partner John Baker, who will continue at the old stand.

A. M. Rowe, of Payette, was transacting business at the court house Wednesday. Mr. Rowe is the superintendent of the Payette schools.

Miss Mary Kernan, one of the popular teachers of our school, left Wednesday for a visit to St. Louis. She will remain during vacation.

Mary Kirby, whose home is in Long Valley, but who has been attending school at Spokane, was in the city Wednesday en route to her home.

Brooks and McComb of Bozeman, shipped 20 cars of cattle from Caldwell Wednesday. The cattle were from the Jordan Valley country and were in fine condition.

The bell which is a part of the equipment for the court house clock has arrived. It weighs 1350 pounds and the freight was $30.00. Charles Greene, the Caldwell jeweler, placed the order for the clock.

T. M. Ward has sold his suburban residence to a Mr. Palmer and will move to town as soon as he can secure a residence. Mr. Ward has rented the brick blacksmith shop, known as the Neubaurner shop.

Diek French, who is known from South Mountain to Squaw Butte and from Mountainhome to Huntington as one of the best stable men of the country, has entered the employ of Campbell & Garten.

Married, at the parlors of the Saratoka Hotel at 3 p. m., June 12, 1907, Mr. Guss D. Amen and Miss Eliza Miller, both of Emmett, Idaho. H. M. Maxey, Justice of the Peace, officiating.

Miss Frankie Madden, of Butte, will visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madden this summer. Miss Madden arrived a little earlier than she had intended owing to a case she had in court.

Miss Blanch Prescott left Nampa for Ogden, where she was married to A. W. Van Slyke. They have gone from Ogden to Oakland, California, and will make their home at that place. Miss Prescott was the principal of the Franklin school.

Ham Kadtsman, Caldwell's new optician, went to Boise Monday afternoon to be present at the organization of the Idaho State Association of Opticians, which will arrange to conform to the new optical law passed by the last legislature.

Charles Parsons, horticultural inspector for this district, informs the Tribune that the horticultural manual just issued can be obtained at the Gem State Rural office without money or without price. It will cost you 10 cents if you send for one.

At a meeting held Monday night, the Caldwell school board authorized Contractor Whiteway to use stone for trimmings in the new school house instead of cement. The stone will come from a quarry located near Vale, Oregon, and will cost but $50.00 more than the cement, and will be much more satisfactory.

Miss Laura Patton, of this city, and Mrs. Darah of Shoshone, left Wednesday for an extended visit with relatives in Kansas, Ohio and Pennsylvania. The ladies will visit with an aunt in Washington and take in the sights at the Jamestown exposition. Before returning home they will visit the town where their father was born and raised.

MIDDLETON

June 11, 1907.

Watch Middleton grow now that the brick question is soon to be settled, a kiln now being burned.

A. L. Murphy and A. H. Gray made a flying business visit to Nampa Saturday.

Mr. Moudy has purchased two more residence lots adjoining those his residence is on and is erecting a new house on them for rent. This is what Middleton is in sore need of and a person to build a few neat cottages for rent could certainly realize good interest on the investment. Who will be the next?

The Boise & Interurban railroad is through Middleton at last and the shriek of the construction engine is a familiar sound on our streets now. The track is completed about a mile west of Middleton and there only remains about three miles more of track laying to complete the road to Caldwell. The high tension wires are strung and the copper gang stringing the trolley wires are about a mile from Middleton. It will only be a short time now until we will enjoy all the privileges of residents on an up to date electric line and great will be the joy thereof.

Mr. Stark, who has a homestead several miles from Middleton, was recently appointed postmaster at this place and received his commission this week. He will move to town and assume the duties of the office soon.

Middleton is to have a newspaper soon that will be a credit to a town much larger than she. The "Payette Idahoan," a paper formerly published at New Plymouth will be moved here the coming week and established for business. This is something we need very badly and we extend the glad hand to this new enterprise. May it live long and prosper.

The Middleton Brick Co. has a kiln of about 150,000 brick burning at the present time and another kiln will be ready for burning as soon as these are out. These will be used to start construction on the hotel and perhaps a brick block on Main street also. Contracts for these buildings are already signed with the Brick Co., and will have the first orders of brick.

The Idaho Northern railroad has adopted a new innovation in passenger fares. They recently purchased an old chair car from some eastern road and they now charge 10 cents extra for riding in that car which means a rate of over six cents a mile for Middleton patrons. If there is some aspiring senator or representative who desires to ride into the next Idaho Assembly on a Railroad Commission ticket he would make a clean harvest of the votes around Middleton as these ten cent hold ups are getting to be too common to be tolerated much longer.

A crew of graders are busy this week filling in Main street and making it by far the nicest street in town.

In the City Court.

Frank Blake, bartender at the Phlax saloon, was arrested Saturday, charged with selling liquor to a minor. The hearing was set for Monday, but by reason of the city attorney being engaged in the probate court, the case was set for hearing Tuesday at 10 a. m., before Judge Shorb, a warrant had also been issued for the arrest of the owner of the place on the same charge. When the case was called the bar keeper pleaded guilty and the judge assessed him $25.00, but owing to extenuating circumstances, the proprietor was permitted to go free.

This case will have an influence in curtailing the privileges of some boys, who have been permitted the freedom of saloons. The law is such that the minor, the owner and the bar keeper, all can be arrested, fined and imprisoned.

Arrested for Vagrancy.

Charley Shirley was arrested on Monday charged with being a vagrant. It was first believed that insanity was the proper charge to be brought, but after an examination by Dr. Gue it was decided to lodge the vagrancy charge. The case is one of the kind that arouses the sympathies of a spectator, regardless as to whether he is a Christian or an unbeliever. Shirley has been afflicted for many years with a spinal trouble and in order to get relief he fell into the morphine habit, until it now has a firm hold on him.

Physically, he is a wreck, and has been in the habit of soliciting aid on the streets to such an extent, that he became a nuisance and Marshal Maxey decided to arrest him, which was done Monday. He was perfectly willing to go, either to the jail or the infirmary, but as there was no room for him at the latter place it was decided to let him board at Sheriff Thorp's hotel until such a time as arrangements could be made for him at the infirmary.

He has two brothers in Owyhee county, but he has been knocked from "pillar to post" for a number of years and will finally become a permanent county charge.

Who Pays for Water.

The question as to who will be expected to pay the Canyon Canal Co. for water next week when the water is pumped into the canal has been asked so often that we have taken pains to inquire as to the plans and purposes of the Company, and Mr. Niver has given us the following for publication: "George B. Rogers, president of the land company, is now at the dam installing the pump, motor and transformers and expects to be pumping 10,000 gallons of water per minute into the canal through the headgate by Monday, the 10th. Those who have no land under cultivation and do not need the water will not be expected to pay until the dam is repaired and the company is fulfilling its contract. Those who use the water on their lands will be expected to pay for water as though there had been no interruption in the flow of water. The company is expending between $6,000 and $7,000 at this time simply to supply water to those who need it. This expense the company stands without expecting anyone to contribute. In other words those who use the water will be expected to pay now; those who do not use it will pay when the dam is repaired. This is certainly fair and equitable."—Emmett Index.

Chautauqua Entertainment.

The ladies of the Homer Chautauqua Circle of Parma entertained two of the Caldwell circles Thursday.

The visitors arrived on the "Pony" and were escorted to the home of the president, Mrs. E. M. Kirkpatrick, where they were heartily welcomed by the Parma circle. The day was spent in conversation, music, games, looking over a large collection of pictures gathered on Mrs. Kirkpatrick's late trip to Europe, and a walk on the hill where a fine view was shown of the surrounding country. Lunch was served at the Hotel Illinois, covers being laid for thirty-one.

A number of catchy "yells" were given the classes of 1906, '08, '09, and '10, showing a good natured rivalry and considerable wit. In a Shakespearean game Mrs. Blatchley easily won a fine little cast of Shakespeare. The visitors from Caldwell were:

Mesdames Blatchley, Stone, Mosby, Rice, Philpott, Springer Oakes, Beal, Goldsmith, Buckner, Bach, A. K. and Chas. Steunenberg, Foote, Roberts, Van Wyngarden, Madden, Christopher, Misses Wood and Bean.

The ladies who entertained were: Mesdames Kirkpatrick, H. C. and J. C. Baldrige, Platt, Dilly, Fouch, Gromer, Blackwell, Sterry, Misses Campbell and Bess Fisk.—Parma Herald.
