VOL 29, NO. 42

CALDWELL, IDAHO, FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1910.

WEEKLY, $2.00 PER YEAR

TRIP TO PORTLAND ROSE FESTIVAL FOR HIGH VOTE

With but a few weeks of the Tribune's great popularity contest remaining the candidates are busily engaged in aligning their friends for the final struggle. Each succeeding day it becomes more evident that the young lady who wins this spectacular race will have won the hardest fought contest ever held in Canyon county. Four candidates are within striking distance of the lead in the first district, they are all working hard and almost every week the leaders change.

The friends of the candidates too, are doing all in their power to further the cause of their favorite. Several of them have receipt books and are making an active canvass for subscriptions. The young ladies who have friends of this kind should show their appreciation by devoting as much of their spare time as possible to the work. It would be very discouraging to the friends to find that they had been devoting their time in the interest of some candidate who didn't have energy enough to work for herself. The trips are too valuable to be won without a hard struggle, every opportunity you slight your opponent will grasp. Don't wait for someone to get votes for you, get them yourself.

In view of the unusual interest already aroused and the large number of candidates competing the management has decided to offer an additional prize to the young lady securing the largest number of votes for the ensuing week. The votes cast during the extra trip offer will apply on the Alaskan trips as usual. Here is the offer: To the young lady who receives the highest number of votes during the week beginning Wednesday, March 23 at 8 a. m. and ending Wednesday March 30 at 6 p. m. will receive free round trip transportation to Portland and all hotel expenses during the week of the Portland Rose Festival. Should one contestant win both the Alaskan and the special trip, she may take either trip she chooses and in lieu of the trip not taken the cash value will be given. The vote schedule will remain the same. Every candidate has an equal chance, only the votes secured during the time specified will apply on the extra trip, the present standing will in no way effect the winner of the extra trip as all contestants start even. Work a little harder this week, you will be well repaid, some one is going to win and it might as well be you. Even should you fail in winning the extra votes you secure will apply on your standing in the contest, so your labor isn't wasted in any event.

Following is the standing of the candidates:

DISTRICT NO. 1.
Mable Dutton	32,500
Jane Miller	32,500
Maud Decker	30,000
Mary Smith	22,500
Helen Isham	13,000
Edith Johnson	10,000

DISTRICT NO. 2.
Mamie Joslyn	13,000
Kate Peterson	10,000
Ethel Crites	8,000
Pearl Hall	3,000

THOMPSON FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

The friends of J. M. Thompson of Caldwell are urging him to become a candidate for district judge before the Republican primaries. Mr. Thompson is a man well versed in the law and would be careful and conscientious in the discharge of the duties of that important office. He served in the legislature last year, and was a tireless worker. His Republicanism is unquestioned. His personal life and character are above reproach. With these qualifications there is no reason why Mr. Thompson should not prove a strong candidate should he decide to enter the race. He has strong support at home among those who know him best and that is always a valuable political asset.—Nampa Leader-Herald.

ST. DAVID'S CHURCH.

(Protestant Episcopal.)

You are especially invited to attend the Easter services at the "Protestant Episcopal Church" next Sunday morning at 11:30 a. m.

The music and preaching will be in accordance with the spirit and great meaning of the day.

The offering which is expected to be as usual, of course generous, will be applied to the general current expenses of the church.

The new pews which were ordered six weeks ago are daily expected.

All communicants and friends of the church are requested to be present at the Good Friday services at 7:30 p. m.

Give my friend your home, the church and your fellow man their dues, and God will see that you will not have any regrets here, nor in the hereafter.

St. David's Church, David H. Jones, Rector.

DEATH OF ANDREW ROBERTS

The following is an interesting sketch of the life of Andrew Roberts, who died at a Boise hospital Monday morning. Mr. Roberts was unable to recover from an operation he underwent about three weeks ago. He was well known and most highly respected as a man and citizen in Caldwell, where he had lived for the past ten years. Mr. Roberts was a good man in every sense of the word. His death brought sorrow to every home in the city.

Canada, June 27th, 1832, died 2 a. m.,

Following is the reply to our request for information regarding the next annual Rose Festival to be held at Portland during the week of June 6. It is but a brief summary of the most wonderful of all western celebrations. Some young lady will have the opportunity of seeing it all at our expense. Should one candidate win both the Alaskan and Portland trip, she will be allowed to take both, or if she prefers, only one and the cash value of the remaining trip.

This is your chance, remember, the highest vote this week gets the Portland trip.

In compliance with your request for information relative to the grand annual celebration of our Mardi Gras of Flowers, and known far and wide as the Rose Festival, I will say that the fête will be replete with the most beautiful and dazzling and brilliant spectacular features ever seen on this continent.

The week will open with a royal welcome to the "Home Comers" Monday, June 6th, 1910, and a feast of lanterns and general illumination, Battle of the Monitor and Merrimac on the Willamette and gorgeous pyrotechnic display at the Oaks Park.

Opening of the competitive exhibit at the Exposition grounds, Tuesday. It is the most gorgeous congress of blooms ever seen anywhere in the world.

There will be a brilliant parade of automobiles decorated with roses and other flowers, probably not less than 5,000,000 roses will be used in this one parade, and in the Rose and Carriage parade even a greater number of blooms are shown.

In the spirit of the golden west pageant will be rare and costly floats, showing the products, resources and manufactures of the Northwest. These floats are made by skilled artists and are illuminated by reflective torches, red fire and electric sparklers.

Ten thousand school children will give a parade and will be deployed in marching evolutions that will give a kaleidoscopic perspective along the line of march.

The two electric parades, embracing historical, allegorical mythological subjects will eclipse anything ever attempted in America.

In addition to these six gorgeous parades, the Hunt Club and The Multnomah Athletic Club will give a society circus on Multnomah field.

Aviators of National renown will fly in aeroplanes and dirigible balloons.

There will be an international road race of famous automobile drivers.

The Rowing Club, the Yacht Club, and the Motor Boat Club will indulge in a regatta in which the entire west coast will participate. During this regatta a marine pageant and water carnival will be given.

The Riverside Driving Club have projected a matinee to be given at the Live Stock race course.

In addition to all this about twenty prominent societies and organizations will hold conventions in the Rose City during the week of June 6th to 14th.

There will not be one dull moment. There will be an army of musicians playing everywhere.

The Court of Honor, Sixth Street from Ankeny to the Portland hotel, will be ornate with vase, eight feet in height and filled with beautiful natural flowers. At the intersection of Ankeny and Sixth Street, the tourists coming from the Union depot will be met by a sign of "WELCOME" worked out artistically in electricity.

The city will be elaborately decorated and arrayed in gala attire.

"SABINE" SCORES A BIG HIT

The initial performance of "Sabine" given under the auspices of the Caldwell Commercial Club, by local talent, was presented to a large and tickled-to-death concourse of citizens Wednesday evening at the Opera House. To say that those who attended were surprised would be putting it mildly. "Sabine" was rare example of that form of entertainment that appeals directly to the eye and ear, and which, in judicious doses, gave even the most serious ample reason for applause. It was a living, palpitating sample of what home talent plays should be and usually aren't. The audience were a large and expansive composite, and that was working all the time.

Like most musical comedies it would have been impossible to have discovered the plot even with the assistance of a microscope. That part that was discernable to the naked eye dealt with the troubles of a stranded opera company in the land of the Sultan and of their efforts to obtain the wherewithal to return to their native heath, in this they were finally successful; the closing scenes being laid in the good old U. S. A.

More than one of the performers scored individual hits. Juanita Gigray as "Sabine" was charming. Her voice is real music in itself—sweet and clear as a bell, and all of her numbers were signals for a demonstration by a well pleased audience.

The big hit of the evening was Miss Lela Jones in her character song, "How would you like to have me for a sweetheart?" Not all the printer's ink on this sheet and the pen of a press agent could tell of her easy methods, her irresistible and natural humor. Suffice to say that she was the big hilarious scream of the evening.

Miss Hazel Harrington, as Ethel, has an easy stage presence and was good to look upon. Her songs scored a hit.

Mr. Westrope and Miss Redway, made a decided hit in their song, and were encored repeatedly.

Mrs. Knorr as Lela, "Sabine's Maid," carried her part well.

Gabe Broiler, as Johnny Burns, was exceedingly clever, his singing being exceptionally good. He also gave an exhibition of his tergichorean ability, a sort of a cross between a buck and wing and the Salome wiggles, which was well received.

Ed. Potter, as Clams, Mr. Alexander as Bones, H. B. Aven as Patah Bey, deserve a great deal of credit for the able manner in which they carried their parts.

Charlie Norton made a large, life-sized hit with his con songs. We hoped that he would tear loose and "hoe-down" a few yards but were disappointed.

The prettiest and daintiest lot of chorus, folk and ensemble, completed what was really the best offering Caldwell theatre-goers have had the opportunity of seeing for many moons. The voices in the chorus were good, better in fact than many of the road shows. They were admirably drilled and the dances went like clock work. The production reflects great credit on the parties in charge.

CONFERENCE RATES.

via OREGON SHORT LINE RAILROAD For April Conference, the usual special low round trip rates will be made to Salt Lake City. Tickets on sale from points north of Ogden, April 1st, to 5th, inclusive, limit April 15th.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Glenn wish to say that they appreciate the many flowers sent to their son, Chester, and that they want to thank their many friends for all the kindness shown during and after his sickness.

"How many of you boys," asked the Sunday School superintendent, "can bring two other boys next Sunday?" There was no response until a new recruit raised his hand hesitatingly.

"Well, William?"

"I can't bring two, but there's one little fellow I can lek, and I'll do my damndest to bring him."—Everybody's Magazine.

Ed. Reaney, the well known Boise transfer man, was in Caldwell Tuesday, settling up the estate of Mary Kimsey, deceased.

CALDWELL-NAMPA TURN DOWN PROFESSIONAL BALL

Is Nampa to have league ball with a team in a class C league with four of five games a week, or is it to be independent baseball with a game once a week, or perhaps no baseball at all? This is the question uppermost in the minds of the baseball enthusiasts of the city today.

MEETING CALLED.

A meeting was held last night pursuant to a call issued by V. T. Elver, for the purpose of taking some definite action on the league question. A state league being preferred to an interstate league by the majority of the fans here, invitations were sent to Mountain Home, Payette, Emmett, Weiser, Boise and Caldwell to send representatives, as well as to Oregon people—Vale, LaGrande and Baker City.

The meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Eddie Hendon of Caldwell was the only Idaho delegate to answer roll call, aside from Boise and Nampa, and letters from the other towns showed pretty conclusively that there was little doing in the ball line there. Joe Marshall, from Boise was present, also Grant Lincoln from La Grande, and W. Goodwin from Baker City. The Nampa delegates included Dr. H. P. Ross, president of the Nampa Baseball association; Claud Williams, Charlie McLin, Ed. Ford, Vic Elver, and W. L. Christie.

THE LEAGUE PROPOSITION.

Grant Lincoln did most of the talking on the league question, Joe Marshall looked wise and O. K.'d Lincoln's remarks. According to Lincoln, Baker City, LaGrande and Boise want Class C ball, and to complete a four-club circuit, Nampa is badly needed. Where a hired team is kept, it will cost no more for salary to play five games a week than one or two games. The cost of transportation between towns can be cut down by the Oregon teams coming to Idaho for a two-weeks' series and vice versa, and also by securing reduced rates, which was thought possible. Of course, with five games a week here the gate receipts would not pay expenses, but this was to be more than balanced by the big attendance at the other towns, which are claimed to be great ball towns. A check for $500 was to be deposited by each club to guarantee that it would finish the season.

NOTHING DONE.

Well, it looked mighty good, that league proposition, as Washington Grant Lincoln told it, but the Nampa delegation, while recognizing what a good thing it would be for the town to have league ball, etc., seemed inclined to think that the financial end of it would be a larger burden than the business men here would care to bear just at this time, when they are digging up their hard-earned coin to put the Chamber of Commerce on its feet and support numerous other organizations, and there the matter rested, and still reposes, for that matter.

CALDWELL BASEBALL.

Eddie Hendon said Caldwell could consider nothing but Sunday ball, for a number of the county seat players are also business men and show a strong inclination to attend to business six days of the week in spite of their sporting proclivities.

JOE WANTS A LEAGUE.

Joe Marshall claims he made money last year in Boise baseball in spite of the fact that he played in the cellar all season, and he figures that with Boise in a league with smaller towns, he might possibly hold a good position in the percentage column, and thus his capital city team would prove to be a better investment than his Nevada gold mine, for which he left today.

But the question still remains, "Is Nampa to have baseball this season, and if so, of what quality?"—Nampa Leader-Herald.

DEATH OF MRS. DR. F. P. SMITH

Mrs. Dr. Frank P. Smith died early Monday morning at a hospital in Kirksville, Mo.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith left here a week ago Thursday for an extended trip, visiting their old home in Brooklyn, Iowa, and their closest friends had no intimation that Mrs. Smith was in any but the very best of health and spirits. Monday a telegram from Dr. Smith announcing his wife's death and the news came to their friends as a great shock.

Mrs. Smith was born and raised in Brooklyn, Iowa, and went to school with Sumner Dee of this city, whose sister was her girlhood chum. Frank P. Smith lived in the same town and they attended the osteopath school at Kirksville, graduating together. The young people were married and lived for four or five years near Brooklyn before coming here.

They moved to this city five years ago last August and quickly built up an enviable practice in their profession. Mrs. Smith by her unusually attractive personality won a large circle of friends whom will be deeply grieved at losing her.

On behalf of the community the Tribune extends heartfelt sympathy to Dr. Smith in his bereavement.

DEATH OF MRS. W. S. MCVEY

Mrs. W. S. McVey passed from this life Tuesday morning after three years continuous suffering. Funeral services will be conducted from the Methodist church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. Powell will preach the funeral sermon.

Jennie M. Davis was born in Dubuque county, Iowa, February 5, 1861, educated in the Iowa county schools and taught in the schools of the state for ten years, was united in marriage to W. S. McVey, December 1888. For several years they resided in Denison, Iowa. From there they moved to Buffalo county, Nebraska, after which they moved to this city September, 1908. She leaves a husband and four children, one daughter and three sons. A brother, nephew and two nieces live at Emmett. One sister, Mrs. Ogden, lives in Williamsburg, Iowa, and a brother, J. A. Davis, who is financial secretary of the Methodist University of Denver, Colo. Another brother, T. M. Davis, of Alberta, Canada.

Mrs. McVey lived a devout christian having joined the Methodist church in her girlhood. While ten years of her life was devoted to school work and was recognized as among the best in the state, yet her greatest work was in the home as recalled by the results of her instruction and christian influence in the fact that all the children except the little one of nine years have without solicitation volunteered to join the church.

The noble influence still lives. The sympathy of the entire community is with the sorrowing relatives and friends.

A GOOD BALL TEAM THIS YEAR

It has not been fully decided yet just what towns will be in the league, but we are going to be one of the clubs that is assured.

Bert Elliott of Huron, S. Dak., arrived in Caldwell this week. He is one of the ball players Westcott and Sebree rounded up. "Bert" is a 2nd baseman and pitcher. He has played four years of College ball and two or three years of semi-professional ball. He had to turn two or three good offers down to come out here. He is certainly a strong addition to our team.

Caldwell can congratulate themselves on keeping Whisman Lue to play ball for "Ray" is there when it comes to pitching. Played with Central association two years and was purchased by a club in the Canadian Class B League. He led the league in batting and pitching, having the highest percentage of any pitcher in the league. Spokane of the Pacific Coast League purchased Whisman from the Canadian League. Whisman was supposed to go back to Spokane but some of his friends persuaded him to stay here with Caldwell.
