the race so there was considerable doubt as to who should receive the championship belt. The question was solved however, by the sudden appearance of a crowd of girls who had gone pie mad. In the evening battle, several pies were trampled under foot but the girls were very indispitably driven out and the doors locked. A prominent young lady of the Freshman class distinguished herself by eating a quarter of a mince pie at one mouthful, thereby damaging her face to some extent. The Y. M. C. A. by a unanimous vote awarded the championship belt to her and presented it at chapel the following day.

Prof. Hayman's two sons, Wallace and Paul, have been suffering from very severe colds which have threatened to develop into pneumonia.

The post exam jubilee held at Sterry Hall Feb. 5th was a grand success. The gloom of preceding weeks was completely dispelled and everybody cheered up to attack the perplexities of the second semester.

The Vaccination Girls' Quartette sang a couple of numbers followed by Wm. Hawkes and his "blamed little Ford." The faculty was given a chance to see themselves as the students see them in chapel and in off and lots were very clever. Prof. Rankin's astronomy class was the march led the students all over the building and in twenty five minutes of everybody longing for rest and the generous plates of ice cream and cake which followed. The jinks left by the exams were thus effectively killed and the design for more jubilees and fewer exams has become the prevailing wish of the student body.
