FRED E. FISK CANDIDATE NOMINATION FOR STATE TREASURER

FRED E. FISK.

Fred E. Fisk, the well known Parma business man, was in the city Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Fisk has just announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for state treasurer. The formal announcement of his candidacy was made at Parma yesterday.

Mr. Fisk is one of the leading business men and farmers of the Boise valley. His home is at Parma where he is interested in the banking, mercantile and farming lines. He located at Parma 15 years ago and has since the first been prominently identified with the upbuilding of this section of the state. Mr. Fisk is a public spirited citizen and a staunch Republican. He is a man of great ability and force of character.

The following statement, sketch of his activities and announcement of his candidacy, appeared in the Parma Review of the 27th inst.:

Fred E. Fisk, who in this issue of the Review announces his candidacy for the nomination for the office of state treasurer on the Republican ticket, is one of the strongest leaders in the party in Idaho today. Known throughout the state by voters of all parties as a man of many financial interests in which he has been uniformly successful, he comes before the people offering for the use of the state those qualities which have contributed to his own prosperity and which are necessary adjuncts to the mental equipment of one seeking to bring the office of state treasurer to its highest efficiency.

Is Active Republican.
Mr. Fisk, who came to Idaho from Illinois 15 years ago, enters the political arena this fall not as an untired candidate, but as one who has served his party and state continuously and with marked success. In directly Republican party affairs he has been a moving factor. He has attended every Republican state convention since his arrival in the state and was a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1912. As Canyon county representative on the state central Republican committee he served for eight consecutive years.

Handles Money Economically.
In 1909 he received from Governor Brady, unsolicited, the appointment as commissioner from Idaho to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle. His management of the duties of that position may be used as a reliable indication of his fitness for the office of state treasurer. At the close of the exposition the commissioners turned approximately $800 back into the state's treasury, an almost unprecedented accomplishment for an exposition commission.

Holds Town and County Offices.
In the conduct of county affairs Mr. Fisk has always taken an active interest, serving as chairman of the board of county commissioners during his tenure of office. He has given freely of his time and business acumen in serving for many years on the Parma school board and the village board of trustees. Since the organization of the Parma State Bank in 1903 he has been vice president of the institution which is unexcelled in its class.

Our candidate is a moving factor in the business, political and religious life of the state as of Parma, and on every question of public advancement and uplift he is found on the right side. Since coming to Idaho, Mr. Fisk has made his home in Parma and is bound to Idaho by every tie that the interests of children, brothers and sisters who make their homes here would naturally create. He is encouraged in his candidacy by large numbers of friends who feel that he is peculiarly qualified to efficiently and honorably discharge the duties of the office to which he aspires.

By those who know him best, those in his home town and county, those who have followed his administration of the duties of his office he has held, and his career as a business factor in the state, he is considered the man made for the office. As a Republican of open mind and sound judgment he is broad and liberal enough to stand at all times for the interests of the party as a whole, and he counts among his supporters all factions of the Republican party of the state of Idaho today.

Mr. Fisk has issued the following announcement:

Announces Candidacy.
I desire to announce to the people of the state of Idaho that I have decided to become a candidate for the office of state treasurer on the Republican ticket, subject to the will of the Republican voters in the primary.

I have been a resident of Canyon county ever since coming to the state about fifteen years ago and have held various offices in my own county as well as representing Canyon county on the Republican state central committee for a number of years in the past.

In asking for your support I am not unmindful of the importance and responsibility of the office of state treasurer. I feel that my years of experience in business have fitted me, if nominated and elected, to fill this office with honor to myself and credit to the state of Idaho.

I have received much encouragement from all sections of the state to become a candidate for this office and, if nominated and elected, will faithfully and to the best of my ability, perform the duties of the high office to which I aspire.

It will be my only ambition to serve the people of the state in such a manner that I shall be an honor to the office of state treasurer.

FRED E. FISK.

W. Y. MASON PASSES AWAY AFTER A LONG SICKNESS

Bright's Disease Finally Causes the Death of Aged Resident.

W. Y. Mason, for 10 years a resident of Caldwell, passed away Tuesday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank C. Hagerman, on Blaine street. Mr. Mason had three weeks ago been brought home from a hospital in Baker, Ore., where he had been cared for the past 15 weeks. Bright's disease and enlargement of the spleen caused his death.

Nine children are living and all of these except a son now in the Philippines were present at the funeral on Thursday afternoon. Services were held at the Hagerman home. A touching scene was witnessed at the bedside of the sinking man when a reconciliation with the former wife and mother of several of the children was effected. Previous to moving to Idaho Mr. Mason had lived for 20 years in Indian territory. He was a native of Kentucky and had also lived in Kansas.

INSURE.

If I had my way, I would write the word "insure" over the door of every cottage and upon the blotting book of every public man, because I am convinced that for sacrifices which are inconceivably small, families can be secured against catastrophes which otherwise would smash them up forever. It is our duty to arrest the ghastly waste, not merely of human happiness, but of national health and strength, which follows when, through the death of the breadwinner, the frail boat in which the fortunes of the family are embarked, founders, and the women and children are left to struggle helplessly on the dark waters of a friendless world.—Winston Churchill.

Methodist Church.

The Scouts will meet at the church at seven o'clock Thursday for drill. From the church we will go to the courthouse lawn for drill.

The Pioneers will take a hike Saturday leaving the church at 7:30. Each boy will bring lunch. Mr. T. A. Walters will be in charge.

At our Wednesday evening meeting we will begin the study of the book of John.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoffman and family left Wednesday for Parma, where they will make their future home.

The following named young people were received into the church from probation last Sunday morning: Charles Schreiber, Carrolle Cummings, Wayne Livingston, Opal Schreiber, and Helen Ackley.

Mr. H. E. Wallace returned Tuesday from a business trip of several days in Jordan Valley.

"The Trip to Jerusalem" plan is meeting with enthusiasm in the Sunday school. Mrs. Kimrough's class is still in the lead. H. E. Wallace's class made the greatest gain in one Sunday last Sunday a week.

The pastor will receive into the church any who wish to unite either by letter or probation or confession of faith, next Sunday morning.

The topic for the Philathea class Sunday morning is "Result of Paul's First Sermon," Acts 13, 42-49.

The Study Class will meet at the parsonage Friday evening. All interested are cordially invited.

W. R. C. Convention.

The District Convention W. R. C., this event was called off in Nampa April 20th, with an attendance of about 50 ladies and comrades.

The usual routine of business was attended to. A bountiful supply of "good eats" were served by the Nampa corps ladies, accompanied by music from Glenn Moffatt and speeches from comrades Leeson and Edwards.

After luncheon the convention disposed of a question box, and had some talks on methods and needs of teaching patriotism to immigrants and our own children, led by Mrs. Mary E. Hawkes, of Caldwell.

Hattie Stafford, of Boise, brought before the convention the projected matter of the W. R. C. erecting a monument in "Silent Camp" division of Morris Hill cemetery at Boise, to the memory of the common soldier.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN PLANS COMPLETE FOR FRENCH CANDIDATE RE-ELECTION PUBLIC SCHOOL MAY DAY FESTIVAL

Former Representative Burton L. French was in the city for a while yesterday meeting old friends and getting in touch with this section of the state.

"My hat is in the ring for the nomination for Congress," said Mr. French, "and I am glad to say that from the expression of sentiment that I find and letters that are coming in I am greatly pleased with the outlook for my nomination. I have had ten years in Congress and I am very fully acquainted with the needs and conditions of all parts of Idaho. I think the people generally concede that, with both senators and representatives from southern Idaho, the north is deserving of at least one representative at the coming election.

"My trip here is rather brief but later on I hope to give more time to this section. I am now on my way from the Republican convention at Twin Falls.

"Idaho is for Borah for president, and may feel proud of having a man who is receiving the earnest consideration of all sections of the country for the presidency. Nor is Idaho so far away from the centers of population, as was Illinois 50 years ago, when we think of the means of communication and transportation we have today."

Mr. French expressed himself as greatly pleased with the constant growth of Caldwell and the surrounding country. He reports the north as prosperous, but says the season is some three weeks late.

THE COLLEGE WINS MONDAY'S GAME

The College boys came back Monday and showed their support that they could play better ball than that seen last Thursday when they threw the game away through errors. Monday's game was intensely interesting. The first run came in the 6th inning. Webb got on by a little bingle. Tracy sacrificed him to second and Peterson scored him on a hit.

Whitman tied it in the 7th by an earned run. In the 7th Sherman drove out a three-bagger to center field, scoring Turner. Webb in the 8th hit a homer and the scoring was over.

The day was perfect and a good crowd was in attendance.

Errors: C. of I. 1; Whitman, 6; Hits: C. of I. 8; Whitman, 3; strikeouts: Alexander, 13; Henderson, 2.

Whitman Victor Tuesday.
Whitman got five runs in the 2d inning and Tracy, who pitched for the College, was hit hard. Errors also aided the Walla Walla boys to score.

De Grief pitched consistent ball throughout for Whitman. Whitman made 11 hits, and the College but 5. The College made 6 errors, while Whitman escaped with but 2. The Collegerun was made in the 8th, Alexander scoring Sherman with a double.

The French class under Prof. Boulton enjoyed a French breakfast last Friday. Everything was French—the cooking, the conversation, the manners and the ejaculations of surprise and disgust. It was quite a treat.

The Lowell literary society accepted a challenge from their sister society, the Columbians, and a contest will be held May 18. Judgment will be passed on ability in debate, oration, declamation and essay. The Lowells won last year.

Dorothy Luck received a visit Monday from her father, Rev. Chas. G. Luck, of Lakeport.

Eather Whyman led devotional meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday. "Is your Bible Dusty?" was her topic.

Walter Kerrick led the Y. M. C. A. meeting, during which the new officers took their positions. Will Chisholm the new president, gave a short address and outlined his plans for the coming year. Other members of the new cabinet also spoke.

Will Go in Camp.
Company G, the local militia company, will camp over Saturday night at the rifle range, shooting Sunday.

The pageant and May Day festival which is to be given Friday afternoon by the Caldwell public schools, promises to be the one event of its kind which has been produced in this city. The plans for its production are elaborate and the costumes are dainty creations of unusual beauty which in their range of color will surely delight all who see the performance.

Enormous Crowd Expected.
Those in charge of the production are receiving communications daily from surrounding cities, which would indicate a record attendance for a school event in Caldwell. It has been instantly predicted that over 4,000 people will witness the performance, and join in the national duty of paying homage to the pioneers who gave the great northwest its wonderful spirit of dauntlessness.

Parade at One O'clock.
The band, accompanied by a detachment of the state militia, will leave the armory promptly at 12:45 and proceed to 13th street and Cleveland boulevard, where the children from the Washington school will join the parade. In marching down the Boulevard they will be joined by the Van Buren children and the high school students who will meet at the high school building. The parade will then march down Cleveland to 6th avenue, where the Lincoln school children will be met, and the line of march will then lead over to Main street and on directly to the Court-house green, where the pageant will commence at once.

Synopsis of Pageant.
(The scene is at the Court of Columbia). Idaho asks admission to the Union. She is introduced at court by Oregon and California. Blue Magic appears and brings before Columbia and her court Idaho's youth, beauty, wealth, patriotism and pioneer spirit. Youth is symbolized by the Dance of the Hours: wealth by bags of money; beauty by the Dame of Beauty; pioneer spirit by a morality play in which the pioneer is lured to the West by the Spirit of the Trail. Ease, jollity, worldly wealth and the Ghost of Failure attempt to keep him in the Valley of Fulfillment. Strength, Endurance, Hope and the Spirit of the Trail lead him to the West. A bugle call sounds. The soldiers enter. A flag rises back of Columbia. Everyone turns to salute the flag. Magic waves her wand—Columbia and her court are alone. Idaho is crowned by Columbia and made one of the Union.

The pageant will be staged before a large green background 20 feet in height, which will be erected to serve as an open air theatre at the southwest corner of the county building. The performance of the pageant will be followed by the May Day celebration.

Schools Dismissed Friday.
In order that all who are to appear in the program of the afternoon, may have plenty of time to be prepared and back to the school buildings by 12:45 school will be dismissed on Friday morning.

Autos Welcomed in Parade.
A prize of $4.00 has been offered for the best decorated auto bearing children in the parade, while $2.00 will be given for the second prize. The contest is open to everybody.

STATE CHAIRMAN EVANS VISITS CITY FEW HOURS

Outlook Very Promising for Success in Idaho This Year.

Evans Evans, state chairman of the Republican party, was in the city for a couple of hours Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Evans has not fully recovered from the sickness he suffered just before the state convention, but is rapidly regaining his health and strength. A little later in the campaign he will visit Caldwell for the purpose of getting acquainted.

Mr. Evans stated that the found conditions throughout the state very satisfactory from a Republican standpoint. There are a few tangles which are being straightened out. He is confident that the entire Republican ticket will be elected in Idaho this fall. Mr. Evans will take up the work of organization of the party at an early date. He intends visiting every county in the state.

This gospel team was organized during the recent revival meetings in our neighboring town. This service will be for everybody. Men, you fellows, who walk as men, come out and hear men tell about salvation and Christianity, as they find them. This team is composed of between 50 and 75 men and their aim is to carry the gospel to those places we call destitute. Everybody come out next Sunday evening and let's fill the First Baptist church from the main room to the ceiling.

DREADED HOG CHOLERA MADE APPEARANCE IN BOISE VALLEY

Hog cholera has broken out again at several different points in the Boise valley at least five cases having been found in the past two or three weeks. Fortunately in all of these recent cases the disease has been of a mild form that has apparently been checked. With proper observance of quarantine regulations on the part of the owners of these herds, as well as of their neighbors, the trouble should not spread.

Hog cholera is carried by such agents as birds, especially magpies and birds of similar character, dogs, coyotes, horses, men, water streams, etc. Probably men themselves through their visits to infected hog pens, the exchange of livestock, borrowing of farming implements, etc., are more responsible than any other one agency for the spread of the disease.

A number of outbreaks of cholera have been traced to the more or less common practice of allowing hogs to eat the carcasses of other animals which have died from any cause. Such carcasses may not in themselves be injurious to hogs but when cholera is in the neighborhood, even within several miles, they are likely to become infected by the visits of dogs, coyotes or birds. Where such a practice, which is questionable at best, if followed, the remains of carcasses should be burned at once.

Cholera is more easily prevented than cured, although prevention is sometimes impossible with any ordinary means. Keeping up the vitality of hogs by ridding them of worms and lice, and by proper feeding and care makes them more resistant to disease but not necessarily immune from it and if a virulent infection gets into a herd the only known means of checking it is the prompt use of anti-hog-cholera serum, and unless this is used in time and liberally it may not be effective.

Some hogs die every year from cholera. During 1915 out of 136 herds inspected where hogs had died or were sick, only 40 cases of cholera were found. There is no other common contagious disease in the Boise valley, however, and every suspicious case should be regarded as a possible case of cholera and diagnosed as soon as possible. A positive diagnosis of cholera can generally be made only by post-mortem examination which means that it may be necessary to kill an animal for this purpose unless one has recently died. Even post-mortem examinations will not always show whether or not cholera is present, but it is always best to make such examinations in order to detect the presence of the disease at the earliest possible moment.

Through reluctance to sacrifice a sick pig worth less than nothing, some men will run the risk of losing a large part of their herds, cases of the kind having occurred in the Boise valley.

Quarantine is a necessary part of hog-cholera control and should always be enforced unless voluntarily observed. In the past, men have attempted to avoid quarantine by concealing the fact that cholera was present on their farms, but while a few short-sighted persons still display this tendency, the practice is becoming less and less noticeable.

The utmost effort that can be made to prevent a general outbreak of cholera this year may not be sufficient to accomplish that result; and without any effort in that direction no outbreak may occur, but in view of the history of the disease, as long as cholera exists in the Boise Valley the effort is eminently worth while.

H. A. IRELAND, Agriculturist, Boise Project.
