You Wouldn't cut grain with a sickle —

Modern harvesting machinery is now considered indispensable on the successful farm.

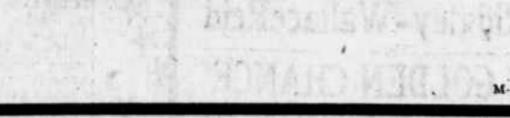

Despite the widespread use of machinery by farmers, there are still many who are not getting the full benefit of electrical labor savers.

G-E motors will do most of the hand tasks and in a fraction of the time.

G-E motors pay for themselves many times over in convenience and labor saved.

Let us show you how to farm the "electric way."
