Dr. F. A. Blake and Messrs. William Vassar and Sam Vassar left for the mountains yesterday. They are going after bear and other big game.

John C. Rice returned from north Idaho Friday of last week. Judge Rice visited most of the important points in the northern part of the state in his campaign for justice of the state supreme court. He was well received at every place and is quite confident that he will be nominated.

The bunch of 250 head of cattle, which H. W. Dorman is pasturing on the Andy Little place near Parma, are about "as nice a bunch of Herefords as you ever looked upon," says the Parma Herald. Mr. Dorman has brought some fine stock into the Boise Valley during the past few years.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wheeler were in the city Friday of last week. Mr. Wheeler is manager of the Hailey exchange of the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph company. He states that Hailey is enjoying considerable prosperity at the present time. The high price of silver and lead have started up a number of mines which have been dormant for years. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler left Friday afternoon for Boise. They returned to Hailey Saturday.

Fred E. Fisk of Parma, in the southwestern part of the state, in Canyon county, Republican candidate for the nomination for state treasurer, spent Wednesday here, this being his first visit to this part of Idaho north of Pocatello. Mr. Fisk, as are all people who visit Idaho Falls and the great valley for the first time, is wonderfully surprised with the community and the development. Mr. Fisk is making a tour of the state in the interest of his candidacy by automobile, that being the most convenient way of "getting around." He has been and is much interested in political affairs in Idaho and has a wide acquaintance. He has never held state office or been a candidate until this time. He served as a member of the board of county commissioners of Canyon county at the time of the famous trial of the man who murdered Governor Steunenberg at his home in Caldwell, and his life at that time was threatened many times by those interested in seeing that the murderers of the Idaho governor were acquitted.—Idaho Falls Register.

Messrs. Frank Roberts and Claud Burris left for Owyhee county Friday. Mr. Roberts has some very promising mining claims in Owyhee county which he is developing.

R. E. Spencer of Caldwell was a recent visitor at the big exhibit of Southern California products maintained free to the public in Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. He also attended the lectures, moving pictures and concert that are a part of the daily program. The exhibit is the largest of any in the country maintained by a commercial organization. Mr. Spencer expects to visit the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Diego, which will remain open all year.

Miss Della Ellinwood of Rose, N. Y., has been engaged to assist in reorganizing the Carnegie library. The books will be classed under the Dewey Decimal system, and a dictionary card catalog will bring out all the available material in the library. This will be of great assistance to the city schools whose demands upon the library have made the new system a necessity. New stocks have been ordered and supplies are beginning to arrive so that the work of reorganizing may begin promptly. September 1st.

John E. Roberts, publisher of the Malheur Enterprise at Vale, and a pioneer newspaper man of this section, died suddenly while out hunting near Brogan, 28 miles west of Vale, Sunday, August 6. With two companions and his son Rolla, aged 15, he had gone to that section after sagehens, and while climbing a hill complained of being short of breath. He sat down to rest, and in another moment fell over dead. He came to Harney valley from Missouri in 1887 and established The Times at Harney City, and since that time has been prominent in newspaper work in eastern Oregon and in Idaho. He conducted the Caldwell News for ten years. He has been connected with the Vale paper since 1913, the last two years as publisher. He was 53 years of age, and leaves a wife and three sons, the oldest of whom, Homer, aged 19, is continuing his father's work on the Enterprise. His funeral was held under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, of which he had long been a member.—Parma Herald.

THE HIRED MAN

A. E. Gipson was asking the Hired Man this week what under the sun I thought was an explanation of all this vandalism we have in the small boy who was always ready to shy a rock through a window in the vacant house, or split a board in a walk. It there is an explanation I don't know where it is. I remember one time when I was about seven, our little hamlet used to be literally alive with hop toads after every spring rain. I got it in my little peaked cranium that it was unalloyed fun to throw these toads onto the houses or in the doors. I put in one whole summer at this nefarious fun, supposing I was doing something tremendously great. There is a remnant of that in me yet. Then when eight, it was a craze for such laddies to have cross-bows. We shot little nails in them. One day I went to the store for something, and waited by the counter where the nail keg were. They were open and one of my hands slipped down in the four penny keg and sniped fifty nails. I tried my level best to make it quit, but it wouldn't do it. It just kept on sniping those little nails three or four at the time, until I had about fifty of them. I couldn't make it quit. Every time I said now that is wrong, you are stealing, that mischievous hand said I ain't neither. I didn't really enjoy shooting those nails, for I was all the time afraid one would fly back and knock an eye out. I cannot explain all this though. I just guess it is in the lower grade of humanity, and can't be helped.

The Hired Man had a splendid idea. I have written to Tiffany of New York City to see what he would charge me for a tray in which he will set the following stones: Jasper, sapphire, chaledony, emerald, sardonyx, sardius, chrysolite, beryl, topaz, chrysoptase jacinth, amethyst, alabaster, three kinds of meteors, pearl. Tiffany is the greatest lapicide in the United States, a virtuoso of the highest rank, and these stones are those

See Us About an account TODAY

The greatest bulwark against the indigence of old age or the financial drain caused by a protracted illness is a bank account. If you are a business man making big profits; if you are an employee with a fine salary, plan to lay aside a certain sum weekly. Then if the rainy day comes along it will find you prepared.

In times of stress you will find that your bank account is your friend. You can look the world in the eye. The man with a bank account looks better, feels better, is better than the man without a bank account. We transact all kinds of banking business.

inlaid in the walls of the city of God. Of course, we don't know where the meteors come from and the alabaster to be put in the cluster is to be the same stone from which the celebrated perfume box was made that Mary broke and poured the fragrance on Christ that time. Anybody who knows the sapphire here, will recognize it in heaven, for there is no change in stones. The amethyst there is precisely like our amethyst here and our chaledony here is exactly like their chaledony there. When I sit by the death bed of some saint who is about to doubt that he is soon to go to a real tangible place, I will draw on him my tray of precious stones. I will start the talk by referring to the alabaster, thence to the meteors that have come to earth from somewhere, and then I will run his fingers along on the other stones and tell him he will soon be among them.
