WEEKLY, $2.00 PER YEAR

NEXT WEEK IDAHO STATE FAIR WILL BE GREAT ATTRACTION

Next week is southern Idaho's big week and Caldwell will be the center of activity, for the Idaho State Fair, the oldest and largest exhibition in the state, will throw open its gates for the 16th annual gathering.

From present indications the fair this year will be the largest and most comprehensive in the history of the association. Reports to Colonel Amos J. Miller, general manager, from the superintendents of the different departments are optimistic in the extreme. The various division heads declaring that the quality and quantity of exhibits this year will excel all previous showings.

To properly handle the large number of entries it has been found necessary to enlarge and remodel the exhibition halls and to raise tents to handle the overflow. Manager Miller has been busily engaged for the last ten days directing a large force of workmen in making the necessary alterations.

Livestock a Feature.

The livestock department in particular promises to be a revelation to even the most enthusiastic Idaho booster and will as in former years be one of the features of the show. Entries have been received from all sections of the state and the showing of swine, cattle and horse aristocracy will be complete. In the cattle division nominations have been for herds from Union and La Rande, Oregon, in addition to a large number of Idaho herds entered and the friendly competition in this department is keen.

The national futurity shows of the Poland-China and Duroc-Jersey record associations are attracting wide spread interest among swine growers and it is confidently predicted that the swine show will be the largest held in the northwest. The two national associations distribute more than $1100 in cash to successful exhibitors in addition to numerous ribbons and medals. Winners are also given national publicity through the columns of the associations official organs. The futurity shows are held only at recognized state fairs and arouse keen competition among breeders.

Youngsters Have Building.

An exhibit that will prove of unusual interest to fair visitors will be the school and boys' and girls' club work. The size of the exhibit has made it necessary to place the entire manufacturing building at the disposal of the youngsters. The exhibit will include specimens of the children's work in art, manual training, domestic science and general school work. The prizes offered aggregate more than $1100, practically all of which will be distributed to the children of Canyon county. The display is under the direct supervision of Miss Z. Fay Fowler, county school superintendent and Professor W. T. McCall, county farm supervisor.

Idaho's Productivity Show.

The spacious agricultural hall will be crowded with prize winning samples of the many products for which Idaho is noted, and to the skeptical will demonstrate conclusively the wonderful fertility of Idaho soil. Fruits, grains, grasses, vegetables, berries and the countless things grown in the temperate zone will be found in abundance and in quality unsurpassed. Practically every producing section in southern Idaho will have its choicest products on display and the various agricultural hall will be amply repaid and will leave the building with an abiding faith in the future of Idaho.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Amesbury, assisted by Mrs. M. A. Roberts, Mrs. W. S. Mezey, Miss Mertis Riddle and others the women's building is being tastefully decorated and the exhibits installed. This year the display of fine arts, household, and women's work will be of unusual excellence and variety.

Caldwell's First Auto Show.

A distinctive feature of the fair this year will be the automobile show and parade. The show will be housed in a large tent and agents of practically every well known make have signified their intention of entering a car. Expert demonstrators will be in the tent every day and the auto enthusiast will be given practical demonstrations of the intricate points of the various makes. Several different makes of tractors and trucks will be shown also.

Wednesday, the opening day of the fair has been designated Automobile Day and the speed committee announces an exceptionally strong program in honor of the event. At 1 o'clock automobile owners will assemble in the downtown district forming in line and parading through the business section thence to the fair grounds. The committee in charge of the event have determined to make it the longest automobile parade in the history of the state and confidently predict that no less than 400 cars will be in line. All auto owners are urged to participate.

Music and Track Program.
Daily band concerts will be rendered by the Idaho State band assuring visitors high class music. Band concerts will begin at 10 a. m. and continue throughout the day.

That the speed program will be the best in the history of the association is the declaration of J. S. Harrington, chairman of the committee. Fast running and harness events are carded for each day and a large number of speedy horses will compete for the purses offered. In addition to the speed events high class vaudeville and novelty events will be presented.

Street Amusements Excel.
The amusement committee of the Commercial Club in charge of the downtown amusement features announces the engagement of the Sound Amusement company for the entire week. The company is one of the best in the northwest and carries numerous high class attractions.

In addition to the carnival features there will be confetti battle and dancing. Free open air vaudeville acts and band concerts will be featured nightly. For a week of wholesome fun and recreation visit the Idaho State fair at Caldwell next week. Your friends will all be there.

S. J. JENNINGS WAS AN IDAHO PIONEER

Life of Toil Devoted to Uplifting of State and Betterment of Man.

A great many of the older residents of Caldwell and vicinity were well acquainted with the late Rev. S. J. Jennings, an account of whose death at Nampa appeared in the last issue of The Tribune. Rev. Jennings was very highly respected in this community. He was a man of great force of character and splendid ability.

The Nampa Leader-Herald in its issue of September 26, pays a deserved tribute to Rev. Jennings as a man. The Leader-Herald says:

Death of S. J. Jennings.

One by one the pioneers who made Idaho great are passing to their eternal reward. Few, very few, will be missed as much as Rev. S. J. Jennings. In the early days his was a life of activity and arduous toil devoted to the upbuilding of the state and the betterment of his fellowmen.

To know him was to be his friend. It could not be otherwise for he was the friend of everybody. "As you measure to your neighbor he will measure back to you." He measured bountifully to all humanity in kind words and loving deeds and humanity repaid him in kind. There was nothing narrow or selfish in his makeup. He could see some good in every human being with whom he came in contact and he loved to dwell on that rather than the frailties apparent to those who prefer to see the evil side of life. It is doubtful if in all his long life he ever spoke an unkind word of any one.

To give joy and comfort was to him a most pleasant task than to bring sorrow or shame. His sympathy was as broad as the universe and his love for his fellow men knew no boundaries—it was all pervading. He was a quiet, unassuming man, whose talents were hardly known in his own community to those not intimately associated with him. To such as were numbered among his close friends, he was a great man, endowed with a splendid mind, trained and cultivated to a high degree.

His name and his blameless life will long be remembered and revered by the people, not only of Nampa, but all southern Idaho, where he labored so many years faithfully and well in the Master's vineyard.

Annual Church Meeting.

Members of the Christian church met in annual convocation last Tuesday evening at headquarters on the corner of Cleveland and Kimball. Members of the church and their households sat down at 7:30 to a delicious dinner spread in the bungalow adjoining, more than a hundred being served.

Following the dinner, a general exodus was made to the main auditorium of the church where officers were chosen for the ensuing year, committee reports were listened to, and other matters of business transpired. Mr. J. C. Rice, chairman of the Board of Officers, presiding.

Rev. Cook, the new pastor, responded in happy fashion to a call for a report of his work since becoming a Caldwell resident. The report was more in the nature of a prophecy as to future accomplishments.

U. T. C.'s Entertained.

Members of the U. T. C. Club, sixteen strong, were entertained last Tuesday afternoon at the Handy home on Seventh by Mrs. Brooks.

This periodical sewing-bee was as usual an unqualified success, the occasion being wholly informal.

DR. F. M. COLE HOME AFTER TWO MONTHS IN THE EAST

Dr. Cole returned Monday morning from the east, having spent the greater part of a month in study along surgical lines in a post graduate school in New York City. Incidentally, he has been interested in the study of infantile paralysis, an absorbing topic in America's metropolis during the past summer. The Willard-Parker hospital for contagious disease houses between fourteen and fifteen hundred cases.

Schools were to open the first Monday in September and picture shows were again thrown open to children, though the utmost vigilance is still being exercised to hinder further spread of the plague.

The theories in regard to the cause and propagation of this mysterious disease are paralleled by attempts to find an effective and certain cure. Its symptoms are so varied and it manifests itself in so many different forms.

Contrary to a belief very generally prevalent, except in medical circles, many cases escape without a trace of paralysis, and unless properly diagnosed and isolated, such patients became a menace to all with whom they come in contact.

It is now believed that the germs find lodgment in the human throat, and that adults are more often carriers of the disease than children. An examination of the spinal fluid is an almost certain test, and practically all suspected cases are now subjected to it.

Many of the theories advanced in the early stages of the epidemic have been exploded, not being able to stand the test of actual experiment. Milk is no longer considered a transmitting agency, and the serum treatment is not panning out a curative measure.

The medical fraternity and lay members as well look to this Nineteenth Century scourge as nothing short of a calamity, and every effort is being made to work out a definite treatment to mitigate its terrors.

Dr. Cole stopped off in Chicago where he brushed up on some extras in post graduate work, joining Mrs. Cole in Iowa for the return trip.

AUTOMOBILE PARADE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE OF THE FAIR

A distinctive feature of Idaho State fair week will be the grand automobile parade to be held Wednesday, the opening day. A determined effort is being made to have at least 400 machines in line and the committee in charge confidently predict that it will be the largest in history of the state.

"The parade will form on Main street in Caldwell, and will start 1 p. m. sharp. The Idaho State fair association has announced their best day's program to start promptly at 2 o'clock and the parade must start on time in order that all may enjoy the full program.

SOCIAL ROUND BEGUN.

The week has been crowded with social events which have kept hostesses and guests alike busy making and keeping appointments. The weather is irresistible, flowers are at their best and the spirit of sociability is abroad in the land.

Dinner Parties.

Mrs. C. G. Baker and her sister, Miss Lisle Canter, are hostesses at a number of social functions this week at the Baker home on Chicago street. The first was a dinner Tuesday evening at 7:30. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Jackson, Harrington, Walters, Presley Horne, W. Seabee, A. I. Myers, M. L. Walker, Holt, Scaterday, E. Boone, Kelley, Dr. and Mrs. Milled, Dr. and Mrs. Blondell, Dr. and Mrs. Gigray, Judge and Mrs. Bryan, and Dr. and Mrs. Gue.

A second dinner was given Thursday evening at which plates were laid for the following: Messrs. and Mesdames Parker, Sutton, Southward, Hedden, Botkin, Flynn, F. Boyes, Hayden, Dorman, Austin, W. A. Stone, W. Maxey, Vining, Berger, Dr. and Mrs. Cole, and Messrs. Dyer, Dean and Devers.

The Buckner home on upper Cleveland is the scene of a number of delightful social events recently, the hostess having hit upon a plan of entertainment as novel and opportune as it is practical and enjoyable. With the invitation, guests were asked to bring the materials for a Christmas gift, each to spend the afternoon in work on the same. At the two Kingstons on Saturday and Wednesday afternoons respectively, a merry time was had in the exchange of Christmas ideas and in actual work on the large assortment of dainty gifts-to-be.

P. E. O. Meeting.

The local chapter of P. E. O. met Monday evening at the home of Miss Hart on South Seventh. This being the initial meeting of the year, the business period was an unusually busy one. The program committee reported an interesting outline of work and entertainment, the literary part of which is to be confined to American writers and celebrities along other progressive lines.

Mrs. Blondell gave a graphic review of Harold Bell Wright's latest contribution, "When a Man's a Man."

This being a postponed meeting, the next regular one will be with Mrs. Murphy in Finney Hall.

Pleasant Horseback Ride.

Messrs. Fred Miller and R. B. Scatterday visited the famous hole-in-the-ground section of Owyhee county Sunday. They went on horseback. Mr. Miller made the trip in good shape but as this is the first horseback ride Mr. Scatterday has taken in fifteen or twenty years he did not stand the trip so well. The distance covered, going and coming, was about 40 miles. Forty miles on a raw egg diet was too much for Mr. Scatterday.

No Baby Show—Infants Ruled Out.

By a joint edict of the fair management and the local physicians, the baby show will be eliminated from the fair attractions next week in this city. Caldwell assumes that no precautionary measure is too great in an effort to keep the community free from the invasion of infantile paralysis, so it is in the interests of conservation that the babies have been ruled out of the big show.

With the terrible malady so prevalent in the east, the adoption of this common-sense preventative measure is most opportune. The congregating of children in large numbers is not considered a wise move, though the fair loses in the elimination of the babies one of its most enjoyable features.

The babies are not worrying over their lost opportunity and will bob up at the next fair a whole year bigger and brighter.

Cooked Food Sale.

Teachers of the Washington school will hold a cooked food sale all day Saturday in Vanhynning's grocery on Main street. The proceeds will be applied on the new Victrola for the school.

DEMURRER OVERRULED IN CASE COUNTY VS. G. H. MOORE

The demurrer was overruled in the district court Tuesday afternoon in the case of Canyon County vs. G. H. Moore, former assessor and tax collector, and the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. The defendants were given 15 days in which to file their answer.

Prosecuting Attorney Griffiths states that he is well satisfied with the progress made as, so far as this court is concerned, the county has won. The case will be appealed.

The suit now in the courts is for the recovery of $3,317 and interest at the rate of 7 per cent, making a total of $5,076.25.

Judgment of Court.

The court, in the case of Canyon County vs. Moore, has just handed down a decision overruling portions of the demurrer filed by defendant, Moore and the bonding company. In his decision the court holds that the facts as pleaded in the complaint, if proven by the defendant, would avoid the statute of limitations. In his decision the court also held that the county was entitled, under the law, to sue for the recovery of money belonging to cities. It seems that in the complaint of the County, Assessor Moore and the bonding company, verbed part of the funds that belonged to the cities to the county, and the question was argued in detail as to the right of a county to sue for monies belonging to cities. The complaint of the county does not show how much money belonging to the city Assessor Moore is alleged to have retained, and one of the points raised by the defendant was that he should be notified by the complaint of the county as to what amount the county claimed he had retained from the city, in order that he might properly defend the same. Upon this point there was no ruling of the court. The court, in its decision, gave the defendant 15 days to answer, and when the defendant's answer is filed, it will then be determined as to what are the issues in the case. It is not known at this time as to whether a trial can be had and completed at the fall term of this court. It is expected in all probability the defendant will require time to check over the audit made by Examiner Van Deusen, as a number of years have passed since the alleged facts complained of happened.

Chaunauqua Circle Begins Study.

The Chaunauqua Reading Circle for 1916-17 met and organized for the year's work last Tuesday afternoon and the prospects for a course of profitable study are exceedingly gratifying to the leader, Mrs. H. D. Blatchley. The fifteen ladies present, five of whom were new members, started in with an enthusiasm that augurs well for results.

This is the Modern European year, including studies of modern Germany, France and Belgium, beginning with Germany.

The regular hour for beginning is 2:15, and meetings are held in the Forward Club rooms in Carnegie library. The art class at 3:30 will cover the art of the different countries under consideration, and may be enjoyed by anyone interested along this line aside from the regular Chaunauqua course if preferred.

This class comes under the study department of the Forward Club. The next meeting will be on Tuesday, October 17th, and it is hoped all who contemplate taking up the course will be prepared to begin at that time.

HOSPITAL HAPPENINGS

In tracholitis is making life miserable for a number of babies who were hurried to the hospital recently for treatment. Florence, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hendon, and Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Smith who came to Caldwell from Boise a short time ago, were both brought in late last week in convulsions. The former will be able to go home in a day or two, the latter was taken home Monday.

The infant sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoskins and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Day were patients several days with the same trouble.

Mr. King returned to his home at Middleton Sunday following a slight operation. Chester Corran was sufficiently recovered from an operation for appendicitis to return to his home at Star Tuesday. Because of the death of a little son, he was allowed to leave the hospital a day or two earlier than he would otherwise have been.

Mr. Shennelfield is able to sit up but is still on the sick list, although enjoying a visit from a brother who came from Illinois Saturday to see him. Mr. Ritchie, the lineman injured by a swinging pole Tuesday, is not so badly injured as was at first supposed, and unless the unexpected develops, should be out again shortly.

Mrs. Hillyer is able to sit up following a major operation a few days ago. Mr. Robins left Saturday for a visit with relatives at Middleton before resuming work with the U. S. R. S.

Miss Anna Carman is sufficiently recovered to return to her home.

Mr. Robinson is making a very satisfactory recovery from the appendicitis operation sustained a week ago Monday.
