

KILLED HER THREE CHILDREN

AWFUL DEED OF MRS. IVERSON AT PACIFIC GROVE, CAL.

Demented Woman Says She Obeyed Dictation of Supreme Power—Her Oldest Son Escaped—Terrible Sight Met by the Father When He Entered His Home.

Monterey, Cal., Oct. 27.—While temporarily deranged, Mrs. Louis Iverson, wife of a Salinas machinist, murdered three of her four children at Pacific Grove, at the dictation, she said, of "a supreme power." She first strangled her eldest daughter, Louisa, aged 12 years. Then she attempted the life of her eldest son, aged 11, who had just come into the house, but the boy broke away from her and took a train for his home in Salinas. She then strangled her son Harold, aged 6, and then went out of the house and got an ax, with which she struck him a blow on the head. Later in the evening she killed her seven months' old baby, by strangling.

The murder of her children was related by Mrs. Iverson to Sheriff Nesbitt. She added that during the night she had walked about the house, lying down for a short time on the floor. She said she realized now that she had done wrong, but believed she was doing right at the time she committed the deed. She persisted, however, in stating that the children were not dead.

The boy who escaped went to his home in Salinas and reported to his father that the eldest girl was ill and had been lying on the bed, but said nothing of his mother's attack upon him. The father telegraphed to a Pacific Grove physician, asking him to call at the house and see the child. The doctor did so, and was met at the door by Mrs. Iverson, who said there was no one sick in the house and that some mistake had been made.

Early in the morning Mr. Iverson himself went home. He entered the back door of the house and was about to kiss his wife when she said:

"Don't touch me. Don't put your hands on me. Go and look at your children." With that he opened the door of an adjoining room where lay the bodies of the three children, the boy on one bed and the two girls on another. Mrs. Iverson had been ill for several months and had shown signs of mental derangement, her mania being of a religious nature.

Ah Lee Rakes in $6700 on Turn of Wheel.

San Bernardino, Cal., Oct. 26.—Miners from Dagget desert, headquarters of the Salt Lake road construction crews, brings reports that Ah Lee, a Chinese restaurant keeper, recently cleaned up $6700 at a gambling table.

He lost during the evening, and, being reckless, bet all his remaining money on a turn of the wheel, the amount at stake being an even $6700. As the wheel spun around the quiet was intense. When it stopped Ah Lee was winner, but displayed no excitement as he raked his big gains into a sack and left for his shack.

CUT FRANK M'BRIDE'S THROAT.

Man With Two Wives Attacked by One of Them.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 28.—His throat slashed deep by a razor in the hand of one of two women passing as his wives, Frank McBride lies near death. It is said that the wound would have been a fatal one had the razor severed the flesh one whit further towards the jugular vein, and as it is, it is said to be dangerous. He is the son of Judge John R. McBride of Spokane, and a nephew of ex-United States Senator G. W. McBride of Oregon. He is a prominent mining man of Salt Lake and is known widely. He had carried the secret of his dual life through a decade of years, and no one had ever known about it.

Aged Minister Dead.

Oakland, Oct. 27.—Rev. Thomas Fraser, former synodical missionary for the Presbyterian synod, is dead at his residence, 916 Myrtle street. His death resulted from pneumonia and was sudden, for only the day before Rev. Fraser, despite his age of 82 years, was well and attending to his affairs.

MARE TROTTED MILE IN 1:59

LOU DILLON PROVES THE QUEEN OF THE TURF.

She is Owned by C. K. Billings of Chicago—Was Driven by Millard Sanders—Conditions Were Not the Best—Was Paced by Runners—Watches Agree on Time.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 26.—Lou Dillon, the peerless mare, owned by C. K. G. Billings of Chicago, and driven by Millard Sanders, Saturday afternoon proved her right to the proud title of queen of the turf by trotting a mile, under adverse conditions, in the remarkable time of 1:58 1-2.

The daughter of Sidney Dillon was paced by a runner driven by Scott McCoy, and another runner followed closely to urge the mare to a supreme effort.

Lou Dillon appeared on the track at 5:10 p. m., and after a preliminary canter Sanders announced that he was ready for the start. The two runners were aligned in position, and it was noticed that a strip of board about a yard wide was fastened to the pacemaker's sulky. This, it was announced, was used to keep the dust out of the mare's face.

At the first start Sanders nodded for the word and the flag dropped. After going an eighth of a mile Sanders yelled to McCoy to drive faster, and it looked as if the mare would catch the runner. Making the first turn the remarkable work of Lou Dillon could be better seen by the thousands present, and like a piece of perfect machinery she reached the quarter pole in 30 seconds.

The turn for the back stretch was now reached, and many expected to see the champion falter because of the wind. To the surprise of everyone, Lou Dillon seemed to travel faster, and when the half mile was reached the timer's slate clicked out :59 1-2. A great cheer arose, and many horsemen predicted that a new record was making.

Runner Had to Hustle.

On the far turn McCoy was forced to whip the runner to keep clear of the trotting marvel which was pushing him closely. The three quarters pole was passed in 1:28 1-2, and the mare had turned for home.

The wind now was an advantage rather than a detriment, and with a supreme burst of speed Lou Dillon, urged on by the shouts of the drivers of the runners, dashed under the wire in 1:58 1-2.

When the time was flashed to the spectators, hats were thrown into the air and cheer followed cheer. Sanders was literally lifted from his sulky by an admiring throng, while Mr. Billings was showered with congratulations. It was a noticeable fact that the watches of the three official timers agreed to the fraction, and many horsemen standing in the infield caught the time as officially announced to a fraction.

Other World's Records.

Two other world's records were broken. Dariel, a bay mare, by Alexander, driven by McDonald, paced a mile in 2:00 1-4. The former pacing record for a mare was held by Fanny Dillard (2:03 3-4).

Equity and The Monk, from Mr. Billings' stable, were sent a mile against the 2:12 1-4 trotting to pole record. The two horses were driven by Mr. Billings in faultless style and passed under the wire in 2:09 1-4.

Prince Alert Clips a Record.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 25.—At the matinee races held at Narragansett park under the auspices of the Narragansett Park association, Prince Alert, the bay gelding owned by James Hanley of this city, clipped a quarter of a second from the world's record for a half mile, by going the distance in 57 1-2. His time for the quarter was 29 1-2 seconds.

Mart Demarest, the driver of Prince Alert, telegraphed to E. E. Smathers at Memphis after the race that he would match Prince Alert against Dan Patch. Mr. Demarest stipulated that the match race shall take place at Memphis November 10, for a purse of $20,000, best two out of three, one mile heats.

Will Not Reduce Forces.

Neither the Northern Pacific nor the Great Northern railroad will decrease their working forces to any great extent during the winter, say the officials. "We have as much traffic to take care of as ever," says a traffic official, "and while the policy of the roads of the country seems to be toward retrenchment, such measures will be impossible on the north coast traffic. The rumor that we would lay off a number of men was occasioned by the fact that work on the numerous extensions has been suspended for the winter, and a number of graders and road men have returned home. These men have nothing to do with the operation of the road."

MONTANA WANTS MEDIATION.

Business Men Submit a Plan of Settlement.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 25.—Mediation is now proposed by business men as a means toward settling the disputes which have caused the closing of plants of the Amalgamated Copper company, which throws out of work between 15,000 and 20,000 men in western Montana, and threatens to inflict terrible suffering upon innocent people.

Telegrams have been sent from Great Falls to Senator W. A. Clark in this city, Governor J. K. Toole at Helena, Representative Joseph Dixon and J. J. Hill, president of the Great Northern, asking each of them if they would act with the other gentlemen named and Senator Gibson in an effort to mediate between the warring copper interests, with a view to keeping open the mines and smelters of the Amalgamated company.

These telegrams were the outcome of consultations by the business men of Great Falls.

MacGinniss at Salt Lake.

Salt Lake, Oct. 26.—John MacGinniss of Butte, vice president of the United Copper company, has arrived from the north, and went at once to the home of a friend in this city. Mr. MacGinniss refused to discuss the conditions at Butte.

Fight Goes On.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 27.—All chance of an immediate settlement in the war between the big copper interests composed of the Amalgamated Copper company on one side and F. Augustus Heinze on the other was dispelled in a statement issued by President William Scallon, head of the Amalgamated copper interests in Montana. Mr. Scallon's statement followed a proposal made by Mr. Heinze to a mass meeting of 15,000 miners of Butte, called by Mr. Heinze. He authorized to sell the MacGinniss stock for $20,000 in B. and M. company, and to have the privilege of buying five thirty-sixths of Nipper. Scallon rejects it, speaking for the Amalgamated, and declares that the proposition is ridiculous.

With the exception of the scene when President Long of the miners' union interrupted Mr. Heinze, demanding an immediate answer to the proposition of the miners' union to purchase the MacGinniss stock, nothing disturbed the peace of the meeting.

A disastrous fire which occurred at Burke last week at 3 o'clock in the morning resulted in the death of one woman, serious injury to two other people and the destruction of over $20,000 worth of property. The fire originated from a defective electric light wire in the Miners' Home, a three story frame hotel in the lower part of town. All the accidents happened at the Miners' Home, and it was here that Mrs. A. Brandt met her death.

A cutting affray occurred at a dance six miles from Weiser last week that will probably result in the death of one fighter. Just before supper an altercation arose between Tom Stoddard, one of the men giving the dance, and Sam Roseborough. Stoddard called Roseborough a liar. Roseborough struck Stoddard, knocking him down. As Stoddard rose to his feet he stabbed Roseborough with a pocketknife.

HEINZE MAKES STATEMENT

GIVES HIS VERSION OF THE CELEBRATED MONTANA CASE.

Declares That the Standard Oil Interests Are Not Law Respecting—Defends MacGinniss—Heinze Offers to Make Places for Married Men Who Worked for Amalgamated Company.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 26.—F. Augustus Heinze has made an interesting statement, giving his version of the celebrated controversy with the Amalgamated Copper company, and the schemes for settlement of the question which has now brought Montana face to face with an industrial crisis. Mr. Heinze's statement was made upon the heels of the disappearance of John MacGinniss, who, it is alleged, fled from Butte to avoid meeting the committee of the miners' union who sought to buy his stock in the Boston & Montana company, and thus end the litigation with the Amalgamated Copper company. A feature of this statement is Heinze's assertion that MacGinniss about a year ago was offered twice as much for his one hundred shares in the Boston & Montana as the sum proffered by the miners' union, though the $500 a share offered by the miners, according to unquestionable authority, is approximately five times the price the stock can command at the present time.

His Statement.

Mr. Heinze said in part: "The history of the United States has not furnished heretofore a parallel of the occurrences of the past 48 hours in Butte. H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Company is quoted in a dispatch as saying this will be a fight to a finish, and there will be no compromise. Mr. Rogers and myself have been engaged in a bitter struggle for years past, as every one knows. He has had at various times interested with him in the controversy pretty nearly every large interest in the state, and he and his followers have many times prophesied my immediate impending bankruptcy. In the course of this struggle, however, the Snohomish Tramway, the Nipper, the L. E. R. and Parnell and many other claims have been developed by me into mines and they are now all closed by injunctions, some of which have been in force for over six years, and in this way I have been prevented from giving employment to over 2000 men more than I am now employing.

"Mr. MacGinniss has recently obtained an order in his suit as a stockholder of the Boston & Montana company. This suit is based upon the allegation that Mr. Rogers did not give due regard to the laws which were passed by the early pioneers who adopted our constitution and other laws. Should the supreme court hold with Judge Clancy in his recent decision it is possible that Mr. MacGinniss' interest in the Boston & Montana company might eventually prove to represent 10 per cent or even more of that property.

"The offer which the miners' union committee is empowered to make to Mr. MacGinniss is less than 50 per cent of what he refused in 1889 and many times since. Mr. MacGinniss left Butte because most of the newspapers and large interests in the town are doing everything they can of a most inflammatory nature to cause trouble and to incite riot during a heated period which in any event can do nothing but reflect discredit upon the citizens of Butte.

"Early next week I will open a bureau in this city, where I will ask all the married men who have been thrown out of employment recently to place their applications for employment. I will ask the men now working for companies controlled by myself to agree to work less than full time, and in this way I hope to be able to make room for over 1500 men.

"If this present trouble is to be used as a reason for compromise, the controversy about the Nipper and many other claims should be considered simultaneously. A number of times during the past three or four years I have offered Mr. Rogers to submit the entire controversy between us to a board of engineers, as disinterested arbitrators, and in each instance I have been met by the condition that I must leave here defeated and cease to operate in the Butte camp. It would not have been possible for me in the past to make the fight which I have made if the miners of Butte had not stood by me. I believe I have stood by them faithfully, and I propose to continue to do so."

Safe Blowers Got $7000.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 27.—A special from Sheridan, Ore., says: At 3 o'clock in the morning burglars entered the banking house of Scroggins & Wortman, at this place, blew open the safe with giant powder, secured $7000 in coin and made their escape before the sleeping residents of the town could be aroused.
