FRIDAY, JAN 1, 1904

With the last issue the Gazette entered the 13th year of its existence and takes its place as one of the oldest papers in the north of Idaho. Many changes have been observed and its columns are an epitome of the history of this Potlatch country, as well as of Kendrick.

But it is not of the past we wish to note as much as it is of the future. No retrospect is of value except as a criterion and stimulus for future example and effort, and while the Gazette's history is one which the publisher can with pride look back over, it is the bearing of the past upon future developments which holds its true value for us.

That the Gazette can improve in many ways is apparent to us and our aim in the future (as in the past) will be toward such improvements. The loyal support of our citizens and business men has largely aided us and made possible many changes for the better, and holding that support by the same means of honest effort and impartial dealing, we hope to continue in the Gazette's upbuilding and enlargement, at least, co-equally with the growth of town and country; This is our pledge to the future. As we glance back over the past year we have naught but gratitude toward our many friends whose support has been so welcome; but appreciation for the good will and patronage of our business men and our subscriber, and with enmity toward none, best wishes for a happy and prosperous year for all, we enter 1904, our 13th year.

Additional Local

The K. P. are having the lodge hall thoroughly renovated this week. The carpet was taken up and beaten and the woodwork generally cleaned. It will present quite an improved appearance when completed.

Mrs. James Pierce and children of Lenore arrived Thursday morning and will spend a few days here at the home of R. C. Sinclair.

There is considerable chicken pox in town now, though none of the cases are severe and the type is mild. Among those who have had it or are having it the past week or ten days are the children of W. M. Roberts; C. M. Keep's and D. S. McGrew's infants, all of whom are either over it or getting along nicely.

Watch night services were held at the Presbyterian church last night. The program was varied, consisting of song services, addresses, prayer and consecration meetings and a bible reading. They were quite interesting and were thoroughly enjoyed by those in attendance.
