SCHOOL ELECTION

The school election which was held last Monday afternoon stirred up considerable interest, a larger number of votes being cast than for several years past. The meeting before hand which was called for 2 o'clock was better attended by our citizens than ever before. The business men and larger tax payers were out to discuss the tax levy this year which the school board asked to have raised to double the amount of last year having in view the putting on of two higher grades and improvements to the high school building which the higher grades would necessarily demand. The discussion was a lively one and ended in fixing the tax at 6 mills, the same as last year.

The matter of removing the lower school house then came up, the school board having had printed on the ballots two propositions, the retaining of the school in the lower end of town for the first and second grades or its removal to a point nearer the center of the town to be used for the same grades as to bring it within equal reach of children in these grades residing in each end of the district. The discussion became somewhat warm on this subject and it was voted not to ballot on these propositions at this time, several taking the view that the school board should have given a more extended notice of the submission of the proposition than they had, though the law is not explicit in this. The polls were opened at 3 o'clock with J. W. Roush and S. P. Callison acting as judge and clerk respectfully. E. P. Atchison and H. N. Nelson were the contesting candidates and the ballots when cast showed that 92 votes were cast for trustees of which number Mr. Nelson received 60 and Mr. Atchison 32. There were 76 votes cast on the special tax levy of which 61 were for and 15 against.

Business Men's Meeting

The Business Mens Association met last Monday afternoon at the city hall to discuss the proposition made by the Pacific Telephone company of selling the local exchange to the citizens of Kendrick to be under local management and to connect with a system which is being talked of by the farmers of the Potlatch. After much discussion the matter was taken under advisement and will be acted on later. This company has also made a proposition to the farmers that if they will build their own lines the company will install the phones free of charge and will rent them to their customers at the very low rate of 60 cents a month. This proposition was also freely discussed by the business men and was considered a fair and excellent one. A committee will take the matter up with the farmers and try to secure their consent to the adoption of the plan. It is a much better proposition than that offered by the Interstate Telephone which required each farmer installing the system to take $25 worth of stock in the concern with an additional charge of $1 per month for the use of the phone. In this the customer would be paying both for the installation of the phone and rent besides. There is also the added advantage of being able to use the long distance telephone of the Pacific Telephone company which does not connect with any other system. The installation of the Interstate would compell both the business men of Kendrick and the farmers of the surrounding ridges to install two phones which few could or would afford, whereas by having their own line the farmers can not only connect with the long distant line of the Pacific but with the local exchange which at present consists of about 18 phones and will be added to continually and the local exchange can connect with the farmers. There seems to be a decided movement looking to this end as all the surrounding ridges are anxious for something of this kind.

DIED

The following taken from the Home Advocate will be read with sorrow by many friends of the deceased who was well known here.

"Miss Sylvia Paschal, died at her home in Arbuckle, Cal., May 23rd, 1904, aged 20 years 2 months and 16 days.

"Miss Paschal was a beautiful character, possessing many qualities which go to make up character. Of such material the great master built, and she became as corner stone, polished after the similitudes of a palace. Her five weary months of suffering gave ample opportunity to test the genuineness of the profession which she so well adorned by an earnest, consistent and useful life while yet in health. Not a murmur escaped her lips and amidst her most intense suffering, suppressed the mourn which serves as nature's relief in the time of anguish. This she did for her mother's sake, lest she might too keenly feel and share her suffering. What heroism! What a rebuke to us who complain of our little ills! Surely there is a reward for all such as she, and we have no more doubt that she is in Heaven than that the warm May sun is shining as we write these lines. May her brief sojourn among us prove an example and an inspiration to our young people and to all others."
